FIGHT LOOMS OVER WORK INSURANCE

By PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The anti-communist alliance between Japan and Germany was announced as a defensive move.

even fool the government-controlled press of Japan and Germany, and was not intended to. It was merely another of those diplomatic double entendres for the record. The treaty of the League of Nations is full of them.

This does not mean that the new allies are going out to capture Moscow. They probably will not even declare war, unless forced.

But, between now and spring, you will hear a lot about the prospect of some joint German-Japanese military maneuver to be undertaken as soon as the trees begin to bud.

Incidentally, the constitutional liberalization does not seem to be very deep or sincere. The people are to be given freedom on paper, but we will be used to them if they try to exercise it in any manner displeasing to the government.

Stalin's move toward "a real democracy" was deemed here to be a rather tardy bid for the sympathy of democrats, particularly the United States.

HALF OF STATES LACK PLANS FOR BENEFITS IN 1936

Some Plan To Convene Legislatures In Special Session To Enact Laws To Secure Share Of Levies.

By Edward J. Duffy
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A battle in congress over the unemployment taxes was foreshadowed today by a survey showing about half the states have no plans to qualify for the 1936 benefits before the December 31 deadline.

Officials in several states were counting on an extension of the time for qualifying, despite administration opposition. But in others, there was renewed talk of convening the legislatures in special sessions to enact unemployment insurance so the states could get their share of the taxes that must be paid anyway.

Preparations were under way at the social security board to make public estimates of the amounts states will lose, unless they join in with the federal law. This was designed as an added inducement for early action.

The Washington law recently was invalidated. A new one is planned when the legislature meets in January.

FOGS CUT DANGER OF FOREST FIRES IN OREGON REGION

PORTLAND, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The fire-stricken northwest found no respite in rain today but scattered fogs, a higher humidity and lowering temperatures proved of material aid in trailing flames still crackling over thousands of acres of land. The dangerous east wind also had lost some of its fire.

The danger point apparently was in Linn county about 75 miles south of Portland where a 400-acre fire advanced within a mile of the community of Cascoquia before being checked. Barring high winds, forest officials said the town was safe.

There was no principal fire zone, small blazes in widespread areas causing the chief worry.
