DODGE AND HUBERT APPEAR WEDNESDAY IN MUSIC RECITAL

Pro Musica, new musical society of Southern Oregon Normal school in Ashland, will present on Wednesday, December 2, as its first artist attraction of the season, a recital by Robert E. Dodge, tenor, assisted by Lawrence Hubert, violinist. Mr. Dodge's voice, of great clarity and flexibility, has aroused much favorable comment.

Robert Dodge began his study of music while still in high school, continuing at University of Oregon. At the university he studied several years with Mrs. Prudence Clark and later with Paul Petri, head of the voice department and a teacher of note. Mr. Dodge was a valued member of the glee club and philharmonic choir.

Of particular interest is Mr. Dodge's presentation of a group of early Italian numbers, suited to his voice. Lawrence Hubert, concert violinist and teacher, will assist Mr. Dodge and will play a group of numbers. Mr. Hubert, whose facile bow has charmed many southern Oregon audiences, received his training under Hale E. Dewey, prominent Seattle teacher, and Morris Rosen, head of the violin department of University of Washington School of Music, also Joseph Zoellner, director and first violin of the Zoellner quartette of Los Angeles. He has taught violin and appeared as soloist and as a member of orchestras in concert and on radio programs over several stations.

Pro Musica officials declare the organization is fortunate in securing two soloists of such outstanding ability for the first recital and extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend, in the S.O.N.S. auditorium. The recital is free to the public.

High powered overhead lights assist in giving daylight effect after dark. Every detail in the Troy plant is modern and designed to afford rapid, satisfactory service for southern Oregon patrons. Both Mr. Kolb and Mr. Hale have moved their families to Medford to make their permanent home.

Joe Spillman, of San Francisco, representative of the U. S. Hoffman Machinery company, and W. Fairhurst, expert mechanic for the Hoffman firm, were in Medford during the past week to assist with installation of the Troy's expensive equipment. Three Zarno air pressers, which are easily operated by small hand levers will take care of ironing shirts and dresses. All machinery at the Troy laundry and cleaning plant is conveniently located to facilitate speed and perfection in production.

The large mangle at the Troy plant has a capacity of 12 sheets per minute. Washers and other equipment installed at the new laundry are all new and built for high efficiency. The office is located at the left of the entrance to the fine building.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss came to this city in 1929 to establish the Unique cleaning establishment, whose main plant is situated at the rear of the Troy laundry. Since April they have devoted their attention to the construction of the new building on North Central.

GOOD Bread Like FLUHRER'S Is the Perfect ENERGY Food for Youngsters

Watch those youngsters go—running, romping, climbing—on the jump every minute of the day. We marvel at their energy and vitality. We wonder how they can keep up the pace.

PROPER NOURISHMENT is the answer! Lots of wholesome, energy producing foods—most important of which is GOOD BREAD. Body energy must be continuously supplied to replace that which is used up by body exertion during play hours or study in the classroom. Be sure that your children eat plenty of good bread at every meal . . . and for their between-meal lunches, too.

BREAD BUILDS STRONG BONES, SOUND TEETH

Good Bread, such as Fluhrer's, contains generous amounts of practically every food element necessary to develop strong, healthy bodies in growing youngsters. Bread supplies IRON and helps us get more of the iron from other foods. Bread supplies Carbohydrates, Proteins, Potassium, Phosphorus and Calcium, the latter when made with milk. Vitamins A, B and G are also present in varying quantities according to the type of bread.

REMEMBER TOO—that bread is nearly 100 percent digestible, turns quickly into body energy and helps in the digestion of other foods.
