

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Unk Knoll—Lieut. Ragnar Uden, junior officer at Camp Oak Knoll, spent the week-end with his family in Medford.

Resumes Duties—Miss Edith Funk, stenographer of the Rogue river national forest service, returned to her duties here today after spending a leave of absence in Portland.

Drills Tomorrow—Company A and headquarters company, 186th infantry of the Oregon national guard will hold their regular weekly drills in the Medford armory at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Completes Course—Miss Janie V. Smith, executive assistant of the Rogue river national forest service, resumed her duties in federal building here this morning. She returned from the regional forestry office in Portland where she took a special course of study for executive assistants of the forest service.

Serves Subpoena—E. G. Narregan, United States deputy marshal was back at his office in federal building today after spending yesterday in serving subpoenas in the Klamath Falls area. The subpoenas require the presence of witnesses during the trial of federal court which opens here tomorrow morning.

To Conduct Ceremony—Officers of Ashland series of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will conduct the initiation ceremony to be held for new members by Medford series in the West Main street lodge hall Friday night. It was announced today by George Tucker, local president. It is expected a large class will be initiated. A social program is to be held after the ceremony.

Check Insect Damage—A. J. Jaenicks, entomologist with the United States forest service regional office in Portland, and H. C. Obye, assistant supervisor of the Rogue river national forest, left this morning on an inspection trip which was to take them to Lake of the Woods and the Union Creek areas. They were to make a check of the damage done by insects to white and ponderosa pine in these localities.

Directs Program—Raymond Miksche is to present the program at the next regular meeting of the Medford Garden club announced for Thursday evening on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Medford. The club's savings education campaign is at a standstill at present, members awaiting a report from the city council in response to the club's recent request for financial aid in combatting the pest, according to Miss Jane Sneider, president.

Wins Recognition—Jackson County Chamber of Commerce has again been placed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in its list of 14 chambers that have accomplished things worthy of note. In its current bulletin the national chamber describes the campaign conducted among grade and junior high school students here to stimulate interest in voting in the primary elections last spring. This is the tenth time in the past three years, officers said, that the local chamber has been recognized for its accomplishments by the national organization. The national bulletin is sent to all chambers throughout the United States and a citation therein usually brings a flood of inquiries to the local chambers from all parts of the country.

M'NARY DEPARTS FOR NEW SESSION

PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Senator Charles L. McNary left a word of assurance with citizens of Oregon when he departed for the national capital to take his place at the coming session of congress.

The Republican leader, elected to another six-year term, promised the state its needs would not be neglected.

He said he was confident his Bonneville power bill to give federal power commission authority to fix rates would pass early in the session. He also considered Tongue Point's proposed naval aviation base would receive favorable consideration.

The senator was accompanied east by Mrs. McNary and their adopted baby daughter, Charlotte.

Miller, manager of the Coast Highway association, who suffered fractures of nine ribs and a collarbone in an automobile accident near here two weeks ago, may be removed to the home of his son in Eugene in a week or ten days, hospital attendants said.

Dramatic Picture from Famous Stage Play Now At Holly

An explosion of adjectives would be needed to adequately describe "The Green Pastures," which opened its three-day run yesterday at the Holly theatre. It will take high rank with the great pictures that the screen has produced. No matter what nothing like it has ever been done before and, it is almost safe to say, nothing like it will be done again for a long time. It is unique, standing alone as screen entertainment that has no precedent.

By some it might be considered daringly and radically different. It broaches a subject that has heretofore been left alone. Likewise its cast, practically all negroes, is different, but for one or two previous exceptions.

The picture was produced in a modern atmosphere. De Lawd is a Prince Albert, Noah in a plug hat, other heavenly denizens similarly garbed. The story, broached from the viewpoint of primitive, illiterate Louisiana Bayou Negro imagination, is that of De Lawd's joyful happiness when he contemplated the creation of the earth and the sorrow, tragedy, and disappointment that was his when all but a few of the mankind he made in his own image turned out to be an unappreciative and sinful lot.

The story opens with a colored preacher telling his Sunday school class the story of De Lawd in heaven and events and incidents in the Old Testament. As he talks the picture flashes to production action picturing the stories. De Lawd is shown as a kindly human soul, the black angels are having a grand time floating around on the clouds, smoking ten cent cigars and enjoying fish fries. Then the world is created by De Lawd, who is pleased with Adam but soon learns that Eve is the hot mama that Gabriel feared she would be.

And so it goes, one rare sequence into another, made thoroughly entertaining by the fine work of the principals. Certainly here is one picture that will long be remembered and talked about. And, if for no other reason, one should see the play for its sheer novelty that lifts it far out of the ordinary and high into the extraordinary. However, one should see it from the very start to really get its full worth.

Four persons were slated to appear before Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman this afternoon to answer charges of hunting without a license. The four are Mickey Herbert Miller, 37, a student, of Prune street and James H. Cummings, 15, a student of route 2 and Noah H. Dyer, 39, a laborer, and Dewey M. D. Utaler, 38, a farmer, both of Eagle Point.

Miller and Cummings were arrested by state police yesterday afternoon in the Bear creek area. A shotgun and a rifle allegedly in their possession were seized as evidence. Dyer and Utaler were arrested by state police Saturday afternoon in the upper Elk creek section. Each was asserted to have had a shotgun in his possession. The guns were seized as evidence.

All four were released to appear in justice court this afternoon.

4 MINUS LICENSE HELD FOR HUNTING

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Journal said today "Frank" Callison, University of Oregon grid mentor whose injury-hampered 1937 team had one of the most unfortunate seasons in the school's history, had been offered the head coaching job at the University of San Francisco.

Callison also has been offered a contract to stay at Oregon. The contract, as well as that of Lon Stiner, Oregon State mentor, is subject to approval of the state board of education next April.

Callison's teams the past five years have recorded 29 victories and 19 defeats—seven of the latter coming this year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—(AP)—George Malley, assistant football coach at the University of San Francisco the last year, today was appointed to succeed Laurence "Spud" Lewis, resigned.

Heavy Wood Clip. BAKER, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Sales of the 1937 clip of wool in Baker county are estimated already to amount to more than 350,000 pounds. Prices range from 30 cents to 35 cents a pound so that the total amount of money involved is more than $100,000. Normal clip in Baker county is 500,000 pounds.

HERBERT GROVES PASSES BEYOND

Herbert Groves, resident of Medford for the past five years who made his home at 219 McAndrews road, passed away at a local hospital yesterday afternoon after a week's illness. He was 54 years old.

Mr. Groves was born in Westchapel, England, on January 12, 1883. He came to the United States when he was 25 years of age. He was united in marriage to Clara Watson on June 8, 1912, at Philadelphia, Pa. The couple spent several years in the east and then came to California where they resided for three years before coming to Medford in 1931.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Relling and Miss Lorraine Groves, and two sons, Charles and Jack Groves, all of Medford; a sister, Mrs. C. E. Smith of Audubon, N. J.; and two brothers, Frank of San Francisco and Charles of Philadelphia, Pa.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Per funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. W. H. Eaton officiating.

APPLICATIONS CALLED FOR PARK MOTOR JOB

The United States civil service commission announced today it would receive applications for the position of operator of motor equipment in Crater lake national park. The job pays $1680 a year and the commission is establishing an eligible register from which selections may be made to fill existing and future vacancies.

No examination is necessary, ratings and appointments being based on training and experience. Applications must be on file not later than December 12. Detailed information may be procured at Medford post-office from Earl H. York, secretary of the local civil service board.

PROSTRATE PICKETS CARTED OFF TO JAIL

READING, Pa., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Twelve women and 44 men who stretched flat across the icy pavement in front of the main entrance to the Berkshire knitting mills to prevent workers from entering the strike-affected plant, were arrested.

Funnest Bill On Screen At Rialto

The Rialto theatre came forth yesterday with the opening of probably the funniest double bill they have yet offered on their new policy of two major features. The pictures were "Mummy's Boys" co-starring that nutty pair of nitwits, Wheeler and Woolsey, and "Mr. Cinderella," with Jack Haley in the title role. They play at the Rialto through tomorrow night.

Using an Egyptian locale for most of the picture's setting instead of their native American background, Wheeler and Woolsey hit a new comedy high in "Mummy's Boys."

As a couple of amateur excavators who give up their job of digging ditches in the Bronx in favor of digging up tombs on the Nile, the two Kings of Cackinnation have evolved one of the funniest pictures of the screen career. Their progress is linked up with a steamship collision, stealthy Orientals and a deep-laid murder mystery.

Betty Furness, Arthur Treacher, Raymond Walburn and Toby Wing are also featured in "Mr. Cinderella" with Jack Haley. The story deals with the hilarious adventures of Haley, a small-town barber with big-town ideas, who finally gets the chance to see his dream of a society come true. With the coming true of his dream one of the most hilarious laugh riots ever filmed is born.

"WHY DO I FEEL LIKE THIS?" SO much trouble is caused by chronic constipation. Headaches, upset digestion, nervousness, lack of pep are frequently the result of accumulated waste that accumulates in the bowels. Too often people merely use some temporary relief, but forget that it does not make a real difference in the way you feel after using a purely vegetable laxative. Give a thorough trial to Nature's Remedy (N.R. Tablets). Note how gentle they are—and non-habit forming. Get a 25c box containing 25 N.R. Tablets, at any drug store.
