Daughters of Nile Temple Ceremony Installs Officers

Against a vivid background of Oriental furnishings and details, installation of new officers and ceremonial proceedings were held by the Daughters of Nile in Ashland Saturday.

Afternoon session opened at 2:00 o'clock in the Ashland Elks temple. Several new members from Klamath Falls and Grants Pass were initiated during the afternoon.

Members and their escorts were entertained at a banquet in the temple dining room following the afternoon session. About 150 were present for the banquet. Mrs. Katharine M. Woods, retiring queen of the temple, acted as toastmistress. Among those addressing the group were John Enders, potentate of Hiliath Shrine temple; Mrs. Hunter, president of the Nile club in Klamath Falls; Past Queen Nancy Cass of Grants Pass and Past Queen Ethel Boggs of Medford.

Included on the program was group singing, led by the Grants Pass temple chorus. The queen's table was decorated all in white, white carnations being used. Other tables were centered with Spring flowers.

Impressive installation rites followed dinner, with Mrs. N. G. Bates of Ashland as queen heading the list of new officers taking their seats. Installing officers were Mrs. Henry Enders of Ashland, past queen, who acted as installing queen; Past Queen Alice Winetrot of Grants Pass, installing marshal, and Past Queen Mary Sweeney of Medford, installing chaplain. Program numbers included dances by pupils of an Ashland dancing school.

Following the installation, members and their escorts were entertained at dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Mrs. Bates today expressed her appreciation and praise for work of the installing officers, which is said to have been beautifully done.

Visitors Pleased During Stay Here.

Among recent enthusiastic visitors to Medford and the Rogue River valley, were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morris.

Mrs. Morris and Mr. Robbins are sister and brother. The visitors were shown scenic spots of the district and expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins left for Los Angeles, where they are to visit their son. They will also visit Mrs. Morris' son in San Diego while in the south.

Mrs. Dunbar is Talked for Post.

Mrs. Saida Orr Dunbar of Portland is being endorsed by the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs for president of the General Federation of Women's clubs during 1938.

Southern Oregon clubwomen of all groups have been invited to join in the campaign to elect Mrs. Dunbar. She is a past president of the Oregon federation and an outstanding leader in women's activities and public service enterprises. She is serving now as first vice-president of the general federation, which includes in its present membership more than 2,000,000 American clubwomen.

Mrs. Dunbar will be nominated at the general federation council to be held in Tulsa, Okla., from April 26 to May 1.

Annual Session Set for Tuesday.

Annual business meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the First Baptist church has been set for Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Everett Finley is to be hostess to the group at her home on Ross Lane.

Chairmen of all committees are requested to bring written reports of the year's work, those in charge state. This is also to be the last opening of mite boxes, according to the announcement.

Those desiring transportation are requested to meet at the church at 2 o'clock.

Date of Dance Set April 24.

The dance being planned by Redmen lodge for members and invited friends is to be held Saturday evening, April 24, instead of next Saturday as previously announced.

Arrangements are also being made by Wagoner club for an April Frolic scheduled for April 30.

Mrs. Strader to Lead Discussion.

Leading the discussion of modern art phases to be presented at this week's meeting of the Delphin society Thursday morning will be Mrs. G. E. Strader.

The meeting has been set for 9:30 o'clock in the Girls' Community clubhouse.

George Peckham To Sing Tonight.

Announcement has been made that George Peckham, popular vocalist of the city, will be guest artist at the piano recital of pupils of Miss Genevieve Brown this evening.

The recital is to be held in the Baldwin studio at 8 o'clock and an invitation is issued to the public.

Rosenbergs Home From California

Recently returned to their home are Mr. and Mrs. David Rosenberg and their daughters, Nanette, who have had an extensive stay in the south.

They spent the greater part of their time away in San Francisco and also visited their son, David, Jr., who is at school in Menlo Park. The Rosenbergs have been away two and a half months, returning the latter part of last week by motor.

A number of other Medford residents have chosen the early spring months for sojourns in the south.

Former Resident is Brief Visitor

Miss Mary Belle Bewick, student at Oregon State college at Corvallis, stopped in Medford for a few days' stay recently to visit friends here. She was en route to visit her parents, who now reside at Willows, Calif.

Miss Bewick resided here with her family several years ago. Mr. Bewick was a member of the post-office staff in Medford.

Pentecost Basis Pastor's Message Nazarene Church

Incident to the annual Pentecostal anniversary, now being observed, Fred M. Weatherford, pastor-angelist at the Church of the Nazarene opened a series of messages Sunday morning on the general theme "Pentecost." Topic for the opening sermon was "The Biblical Pentecost." Scripture basis was taken from Acts 1:1-5 and Acts 2:1-4.

"The day of Pentecost was the anniversary which marked the giving of the law on Mount Sinai. It took place fifty days after the feast of the Passover. It is significant to note that it was during the feast of the Passover (at which time the paschal lamb was sacrificed) that Christ was crucified; whose sacrifice marked the end of sin offerings. Since his sacrifice we no longer observe the feast of the Passover, but instead Christ's day of atonement is now observed. That emphasized the change to the Messianic Dispensation.

"In conformity with all orthodox views also, that on the day of Pentecost, which marked the giving of the Law by God to Moses on Mount Sinai, something new took place. For it was during the feast of Pentecost that Jesus sent the Promise of the Father, when the disciples of Christ in the "Upper Room" were all baptized with the Holy Ghost."

TED SHAWN GROUP WELL RECEIVED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

The high school auditorium was well filled Saturday night with an audience that greeted Ted Shawn and his troupe of male dancers with great enthusiasm. In fact, the audience was so appreciative, frequently breaking out with applause in the midst of some of the most appreciated numbers, that Mr. Shawn came before the curtain at the close of the performance and expressed his thanks.

He said that this was the first appearance of his company in Medford and he had no doubt that the audience represented the most discriminating and courageous of Medford's citizenship who were not appalled at the idea of a dancing troupe in which the feminine element was not represented. He said he felt that, in view of the atmosphere of respect that had immediately been established, he might look forward to even a larger audience on a return engagement.

He suggested that those present go about among their friends and enlighten the scoffers as to what the male sex can do in the way of interpretive dancing and added that each member might, at the return engagement, bring three converts to swell the box office receipts and make the second performance even more successful than the first.

This was said with a smile, apparently with reference to the expressions of skepticism that had been heard when the announcement of the performance was first made, rather than any serious effort to drum up trade.

The program offered was a varied and exceedingly novel one, entirely different from anything ever seen here before in the way of professional dancing, but was extremely interesting from the first number to the last. The exhibition of perfect physical development and condition, combined with amazing muscular coordination and flawless group synchronization, made a most favorable impression upon the audience, while many of the solo numbers were genuinely moving and impressive.

Evangelist Draws Large Attendance Full Gospel Church

Evangelistic meetings being conducted at the Full Gospel church, Newtown street near West Main, by Evangelist F. J. Betts of New York City, are drawing good attendances from surrounding communities as well as from this city.

Services are conducted in a unique way and are reported to be spiritual, interesting and helpful. The services are undenominational, no attempt being made to solicit church memberships. The public is invited to all services.

Dr. Betts prays with the sick. His slogan is: "Bring the sick and let God heal them." He has prayed for thousands of sick and afflicted people on the Pacific coast, wonderful results being reported. Tuesday and Thursday nights have been set apart for a series of lectures on "What One Should Know About God's Healing."

After each lecture the sick are prayed for. Friday is "Family Night" and as the close of this service sick or afflicted children are prayed for.

Tonight Mr. Betts will speak on "Four Reasons Why I Am a Christian." Congregational singing commences at 7:45.

COWAN RECEIVES ANOTHER CHANCE

Albert Cowan, Jacksonville youth, held in the county jail on a charge of assault and battery, on an indictment returned by the last grand jury, entered a plea of guilty before Circuit Judge Norton last Saturday, and was granted a six-months suspended sentence. Cowan has employment in a Lake county sawmill and left today for that section.

Cowan was charged with assaulting Frank Barber, mill foreman, when he caught Cowan and a companion stealing gasoline from a parked car. Cowan felled Barber with a blow.

Last summer Cowan was held in the county jail for assaulting the marshal of Jacksonville. The marshal's condition was regarded as serious for a few days. This charge was dismissed when Cowan aided the county jailer in thwarting the escape of two young bandits last September.

The court and district attorney administered a severe lecture to Cowan, and warned against any further pugilistic outbreaks.

18 MEDFORD YOUTHS SEEK ENROLLMENT IN C. M. T. C.' 11 WILL GO

Eighteen local youths have applied for enrollment in the citizens military training camp to be held this summer at Vancouver Barracks, Wash. Capt. Carl Y. Tengwald, Jackson county chairman, was notified today by Maj. W. C. Moore of the 7th infantry, CMTC officer.

Of the 18 applicants, Capt. Tengwald will select 11, the county's quota. The others will be designated as alternates and it is possible a place will be found for them at the camp. Major Moore wrote to Captain Tengwald, usually not all the counties fill their quotas and in such cases youths are chosen from the excess lists of other counties to fill the vacancies, the major explained.

The 18 applicants are Donald E. Gray, 313 King street; Richard S. Roberts, 816 West 11th street; John J. Estes, Kings highway; Dale M. Roberts, 816 West 11th street; Robert E. Horner, 816 Taylor street; Milton A. Blinzer, 830 Taylor street; Warren E. Fichtner, 614 South Holly street, and Theodore L. Taylor, 1013 West 10th street.

Also Dan A. Hull, 517 South Grape street; Warren P. Law, P. O. box 539; Charles E. Overmyer, 610 South Holly street; Paul W. Hughes, box 395, route 2; Donald J. Hickey, Phoenix, and Walter B. Kindred, 421 North Riverside avenue.

SECOND POLICE CLASS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

The second in a series of nine police school classes sponsored by the League of Oregon Cities and the University of Oregon will be held in the Medford council chambers Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Chief of Police Clatus McCrede, chairman of the school, said today.

The speaker will be Detective Orville Williams of the Portland Bureau

J. Upp, for injuries assertedly received in an auto accident at North Central avenue and Fourth street, December 16.

The jury deliberated about fifteen minutes "nine or more of our number concurring," the verdict read. Hearing of testimony and arguments lasted more than two days.

Testimony in the case was conflicting, each charging the other with reckless driving. A third car driven by C. D. Vroman was involved. Vroman also instituted a damage suit against Doty, which is pending.

TRANSIENT BOYS HELD TO AWAIT GRAND JURY

Henry Elmer Dale and Robert Junior Parker, transient youths, who told the court they had no parents, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, waived preliminary hearing in justice court Saturday and were ordered held to await grand jury action with bonds at $2500 each.

They are charged with holding up William J. Cronin, operator of a service station store at Shady Springs on the Pacific highway in the Sixty-nines, at the point of a .32 calibre pistol, and taking $6.

The youths were arrested a short time after the crime at Ashland.

A flock of doves, flying eastward near Hawkinsville, Ga., were blinded by the afternoon sun shining on a white farmhouse. They flew against the house and seven were killed.
