A New Grace Moore Coming

Grace Moore's eloquent singing, combined with the light, engaging comedy of Robert Riskin, screen author of Frank Capra's several successes, including the recent "Mr. Deeds," bring "When You're in Love" to the New Craterian theater Sunday, which introduces a different Grace Moore than the one fans have been accustomed to seeing in pictures. Cary Grant heads the supporting cast.

A., was in Medford yesterday to aid in completing arrangements for the state convention to be held here next week-end and to attend the regular meeting last night. Miss Madge Martin of Trona, Cal., was also here to attend last night's session.

Not the least of the difference in the new Grace Moore is the variety of songs she uses in the picture. Cab Calloway's famous "Minnie the Moocher," admitted to be "tops" in swing tunes, is one of her numbers, which also include operatic selections. As the young Australian diva, forced to buy a husband in Mexico in order to get herself into the states, the picture is winning many new friends for the personable singer.

Calls Here—Mrs. M. R. Wallace of Jacksonville was visiting friends and business acquaintances here today, calling here from Jacksonville yesterday was Mrs. Arthur Davies.

Senior Oratorical Contest Scheduled
