

MEDFORD PLANS HEARTY WELCOME FOR INFANTRYMEN

Baseball Game, Band Concert, High School Attraction, Dance and Officers' Reception Programmed

With a variety of activities arranged and plans completed for the evening band concert in the city park, Medford went ahead today with preparations for welcoming the 30th Infantry on its overnight encampment here Tuesday.

Following the formula that "turn about is fair play," the regiment will be entertained by Medford and will in turn entertain the people of this area.

When the regiment of 75 officers and 1400 men, traveling in a convoy of 150 vehicles, leaves Redding Tuesday morning, it will be preceded by the 75-piece band which will arrive at the Jackson county fairgrounds in advance of the main body and "play the regiment" into Medford.

The convoy will be broken up into several units and will cover several miles on the highway. California and Oregon state police will provide an escort.

Game at 3:30 P.M. Colonel Irving J. Phillips, regimental commander, hopes to arrive in Medford about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A baseball game has been scheduled at 3:30 o'clock between the 30th Infantry team and the Medford town team of the Southern Oregon league. The game will be free to the public and will be played on the fairgrounds diamond.

In the evening at 7 o'clock, the regimental band will present a public concert in the city park. Fred Scheffel, city engineer, is constructing a band stand in the park and it will be decorated with blossoms in keeping with the "Blossom Week" activities.

Concert at 7. The band concert will start at 7 o'clock and continue to 8:15, leaving ample time for those who wish to proceed to the high school where the White Hussars, world famous musicians and entertainers, are to be presented under the auspices of the Medford high school.

Under the sponsorship of the Eagles' lodge, an "Army Day" dance will be held in Medford later in the evening, to which men of the 30th Infantry will be invited.

Officers of the regiment will be guests of the Officers' club of the Medford CCO district at an informal dance at the Hotel Medford.

Klamath Falls Pair Facing Arson Charge. CORVALLIS, April 16.—(AP)—Myrtle Stam, 45, and Dean Kall, 25, will be returned to Klamath Falls to face arson charges in connection with the burning of the Casla, a roadhouse. Chief of Police Charles Devin said today.

New Highway Urged. HERMISTON, April 16.—(AP)—Strong support has developed here for a highway from the end of the new Stanfield-Pendleton cutoff to the connection with the Wallula cutoff. The proposed road would provide a better route to the port of Umatilla and eliminate a grade crossing and several curves.

Entertainment for the wedding party has kept Medford's younger set busy for some time and further events are being arranged.

Also of much interest here is the coming wedding of Miss Gail McCredie of Portland to William Cunningham of this city. Both are popular members of the university circle here and Miss McCredie is well known in the city. Mr. Cunningham has scores of friends to whom the wedding arrangements are of much interest.

Members of St. Ann's Altar society were hostesses Tuesday evening, entertaining at cards at the parish hall. Arrangements for the affair were made at the regular session Tuesday afternoon, presided over by Mrs. J. E. O'Conner, president.

Mrs. J. C. Logan headed the committee serving refreshments at the evening party, which is reported as highly successful and well attended. Next session of the group is set for April 26.

Portland Guests Entertained Here

Being greeted by Medford friends are Col. and Mrs. William F. Coplan of Portland, who are guests in the city.

The visitors are being entertained at the home of Mrs. W. S. Gilmore and are also visiting Mrs. Gus Weston. They are stopping here en route to California and will continue south via the Redwood highway.

Colonel Coplan was an intimate friend of the late Mr. Gilmore and the late Sergeant Weston in army activities.

Spring Styles Accent Color

The use of color continues a dominant note in spring fashion news, as the advent of spring weather here gives impetus to the clothes' interest of local women. Rain and low temperatures having held back the debut of seasonal apparel in the valley, despite the calendar.

Assembling this year's accessories without a color clash takes thought and smart women are giving time to it. One chic New Yorker plans to wear her navy blue suit with a navy blue toque accented with one big white magnolia, a white scarf, blue gloves and a carnelian bag and shoes. Another expects to accent her black coat with beige gloves and bag, a black toque trimmed with gay little flowers and clusters of the same flowers on her lapels.

A black baku sailor has a well bordered with chenille dots in black and yellow. The color accent is repeated in a band of yellow felt tied like a ribbon around the crown.

Colored feather pompons line up vertically on a black picot straw hat which has one of the few high crowns seen. In fact crowns seem to be suffering a decided deflation, going down by the minute.

Poppies and wheat front a new chapeau of white bengale. The brim rolls up tightly at the sides, while the crown is low.

Large hats make early spring debuts in dark colors. One of them comes in ardise or slate-blue picot and has a low crown and wide brim bent into new angles. A simple band and floppy soft bow of slate-blue velvet ribbon are used as trimming.

The Garden Club

Announcement of a plant sale to be held under auspices of the Medford Garden club, Saturday, April 24, was made Wednesday by Miss Jane Snedcor, club president. A downtown store will be the place of the sale, definite location to be announced later.

Everyone is asked to contribute plants of any kind, and shrubs will be particularly welcome. Mrs. L. Bundy is chairman of the sale and has asked that anyone who is dividing plants at this time, save the extras for sale.

April 19 to 25 will be Conservation Week in the state of Oregon, and Friday, April 23, has been designated planting day. E. H. Hedrick, superintendent of Medford schools, has announced that the schools will cooperate with the Garden club in tree planting on this day. The schools are also cooperating in the Junior Gardens projects and the four grade schools will be visited next week by members of the Junior gardens committee, at which time children will be given an opportunity to sign up for the work.

Chamber of Commerce decorations in observance of Blossom Week, to be sponsored by the Craters club, beginning April 18, are being arranged by Mrs. Winifred Bailey.

Packard Chassis Now On Display At Ashcraft Showroom

An automobile's backbone is its frame and the frame of the new Packards have been strengthened in some cases to the point where they have 400 percent greater torsional stiffness, according to Perry L. Ashcraft, local Packard dealer. A Packard chassis has been placed on display at the Ashcraft showroom.

Mr. Ashcraft says: "The greatest accomplishment from the great efforts of Packard engineers is a safer car. The greater rigidity of the Packard frame, which makes itself felt throughout the car, is obtained through use of a new type of 'X' cross member for which a steel 'I' beam is employed.

"Brakes have been improved to a marked extent and it will of course be plain to anyone that any improvement whatever in the already good brakes is a big step forward. Besides being inherently more powerful and efficient, many of the better type brakes are now so designed that a minimum of attention and service adjustments are needed for them.

"Mental ease and physical well being are big contributing factors of safety on the highways. Fatigue does not make for quick reactions at the steering wheel. It must certainly be true that a good driver will be a better driver at the wheel of an easier handling car.

"It would be possible to point out any number of engineering features which have made the new Packard more stable, as well as a more easily handled car. Just to name one which might seem to be a rather simple thing in itself but which has given important results, a new rear spring geometry might be mentioned. It has appreciably increased the car's stability by reducing so-called rear end steering caused by heavy cross winds.

Perhaps the driver of a car equipped with the new type springs will not know what has been done by the

RED WINGS SKATE TO SECOND TITLE

DETROIT, April 16.—(AP)—The amazing Red Wings of Detroit entered hockey's hall of fame today—the only American team ever to win the National league championship and the Stanley cup two successive years.

The stick wizardry of big Marty Barry, who scored two goals and an assist, and the phenomenal net-minding of Rookie Earl Robertson, who shut out the aggressive, dangerous New York Rangers for the second time, 3 to 0, stood out as Detroit wound up a successful five-game defense of the 44-year-old cup before 14,102 madly cheering spectators last night.

Manager Jack Adams, whose master minding carried the Wings through a season dogged by injuries all the way, fainted after receiving the Stanley cup from President Frank Calder of the league.

Four Industry Deaths

SALEM, April 16.—(AP)—Industrial accidents took a toll of four lives in 764 accidents listed the past week.
