

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Week-End Here—Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Atterbury of Ashland spent the week-end visiting friends here.

Receives Attention—Medford callers in Ashland this week included W. E. Coggins, who visited there Monday and received medical care.

Parking Tickets—City police reported today that they had tagged 25 over-hour parked cars yesterday in the downtown zone.

To Lakeside—Leo McLain, deputy United States marshal, was to leave this evening for Lakeside on official business.

Recuperating—Mrs. R. E. McElhose, who recently underwent a major operation at the Sacred Heart hospital, was reported today as slowly improving but still unable to receive callers.

Rehearsal Saturday—Rehearsal of the Jackson county teachers' chorus has been set for 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the courthouse auditorium.

Reported Recovering—Mrs. Leona Ormand of Ashland, who recently underwent a major operation at Sacred Heart hospital, is reported recovering nicely.

Plan Initiation—Tallman lodge No. 31, Knights of Pythias, will initiate a class in esquire rank Monday, April 26. All members are requested to be present and visiting members are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

Roof Burned—Fire burned a large hole in the roof of the D. C. Rudisill residence on the Jacksonville highway outside the city limits about 8:30 this morning. Medford fire department's chemical crew answered a call and quickly checked the blaze, although a stiff breeze was blowing at the time. Forty gallons of chemicals were used in putting the fire out. Cause was attributed by Chief Roy Elliott to chimney sparks blown down upon the moss-covered roof. Damage was not estimated.

Visits Sister—Mrs. Mary S. Dodge of Ashland visited her sister, Mrs. W. P. Dodge, at her home here Monday.

Business Visitor—Mrs. Clyde Butcher of Ashland was among out-of-town residents transacting business here yesterday.

Chicks Stolen—Mrs. R. M. Kent of 223 Willamette street told city police yesterday that 11 Plymouth Rock chickens were stolen from their pen in her yard sometime Monday night. The chickens were four weeks old, she said.

Police Meeting—Frank Van Dyke, Ashland city attorney, was to address the weekly police training school in the council chambers at city hall this afternoon. His subject was "city ordinances." Law enforcement officers from all parts of southern Oregon were to attend.

To Assist Artists—Charles Voochies, son of Colonel Gordon and Mrs. Voochies, left last night for a long stay in San Francisco where he will be engaged in assisting some of the best known mural artists on the coast in designing large murals for new government buildings in Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Visiting Here—Mrs. George Kerby of Ashland was among those visiting friends and shopping here Monday. Other recent Ashland visitors here included Mrs. Nate Bates, calling yesterday; and Mrs. William M. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Walls and L. H. Hansen, all of whom were here Monday.

Last Swan Dies—Last of the six white Holland swans presented to the Ashland Lithia park in 1922 was found dead the other day by park attendants. Death was of unknown cause. The swan was 17 years old, young for swans, which are said to live for 75 to 100 years. The late Jesse Winburn presented the swans to the park. The other five had died of various causes previously.

Active Meeting—Regular weekly dinner-meeting of the Active club was held in the Hotel Medford last night, with members adjourning early to attend the 30th infantry band concert given in city park. P. Kramer Deuel, local attorney, spoke briefly on the supreme court issue. Ben Newman of Hubbard-Wray was admitted to the local chapter as a new member.

Drivers Cited—Charged with violation of the basic rule, George W. Robertson, 28, of Katherine court and Hoke M. Curtis, 20, of 716 Alder street were cited by state police to appear in city court this afternoon. According to state police, Robertson drove 48 miles an hour on East Main street and Curtis drove at an excessive rate of speed on North Riverside avenue last night.

Firemen Tests—Medford civil service board will meet tomorrow night to plan for the first competitive examination for city firemen. The first examination will probably be held on May 15, with the written tests to be taken at city hall and the physical tests at fire headquarters. The council was informed last night. Purpose of the examination is to create an eligible list, there being no vacancies in the fire department at present. Mimeographed sheets stating qualifications of applicants will soon be available at the city recorder's office. The civil service board is composed of B. L. Berry, Earl H. York and Ed Jenner.

Trash Fires Urged—Fire Chief Roy Elliott today requested all residents to burn trash and rubbish now while the weather is favorable and roots have not yet dried out sufficiently to present a grave hazard. No permits are required now but the season for them will soon be here, the chief emphasized. Later, when hazards increase, rubbish fires will not be permitted under any circumstances, he said. The fire department always tries to cooperate with the public and the cooperation of residents was requested in the burning of all accumulated trash and rubbish, Chief Elliott said.

Brings Prisoners—Seven federal prisoners were brought from Klamath Falls last evening by Leo McLain, deputy United States marshal, for incarceration in Jackson county jail pending their removal to Portland around May 1. The men are Jack Hull, 21; Ed Ray, 30; Fred J. Mills, 36; Fred Flood, 38; Henry Miller, 48; Nelson Wicka, 49; and Andy O'Connell, 42. Irvin Lewis, 28, and Mildred Lang, 26, both Klamath Indians, were already in the county jail here awaiting removal to Portland. All nine prisoners are charged with selling liquor to Indians.

Kittredge Here—Frank Kittredge, chief highway engineer of the national park service, spent the day in Medford visiting his many friends. Mr. Kittredge constructed the first paved highway over the Siskiyou many years ago, during which time he was a local resident. He married Miss Kathryn Mears, sister of Fred Mears, former city attorney here. They now make their home in San Francisco with their daughter. Today Mr. Kittredge inspected the roads in Crater Lake national park and will dine with Judge F. L. TouVelle of Jacksonville, member of the state highway commission, this evening before continuing his journey on the Shasta south.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, April 21.—(P)—Steel, mines, motors and rails performed strongly for recovery forces in today's stock market.

Encouraging further discreet buying was another batch of highly favorable first quarter earnings statements, together with optimistic forecasts by officials at annual meetings. Inspiration was also found in a brief run-up of world commodities after their recent slump. Special demand was exhibited for copper and rubber.

ANTI-WAR CRUSADER WILL SPEAK TONIGHT AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

A large attendance is expected at the First Christian church tonight when Ray McKaig will address a public meeting on "No Foreign War Crusade." The subject chosen for this year's program of the Emergency Peace campaign.

Mr. McKaig comes here from Boise where he is legislative chairman for the Idaho State Grange. He is known as an eloquent speaker and an advocate of ardent neutrality measures.

Mr. McKaig addressed the student assembly at the senior high school this morning, the Lions club this noon and the junior high school assembly this afternoon.

Turkey Dinner On Friday Evening At Jacksonville Grange

JACKSONVILLE, April 21.—(Sp)—In conjunction with the southern Oregon celebration of "Pear Week" the ladies of the Jacksonville Grange Home of Economics club, under the leadership of Mrs. E. A. Brockway, are sponsoring one of their famous turkey dinners from 6 to 8 p. m. at the Grange hall, Friday, April 23.

Pears will be featured in the menu, as well as in the decorations. A general invitation is extended to the public. Dancing, with Silva's orchestra furnishing the music, will be enjoyed after the dinner. Ticket to the dinner will also admit the holder to the dance.

Popular Team in "Personal Property"

Teaming of Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor in "Personal Property," coming tomorrow to the Craterian theater for a three-day run, brings to the screen two of the most popular favorites. Yet this will be their first time together in any film play. Miss Harlow, playing the part of a supposedly rich American widow in London, hoping to land a rich husband before her creditors move her out, once again gives vent to the delightful sense of comedy she has so aptly portrayed before. Taylor, whose rise to stardom rivals Horatio Alger stories, has the part of the penniless young chap who is given the job of bailiff to see that the widow doesn't sell any of her goods. When it comes out that Taylor's brother, played by Reginald Owen, is the so-called "rich man" whom the widow is angling for, the complications and merry laugh situations come fast and furious.

PORTLAND, April 21.—(AP)—Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, pastor at the First Presbyterian church, became moderator of the Presbytery of Portland at the annual meeting yesterday.

Stated Communication of Reames church, O. E. S. Thursday evening, April 22. Birthday party. Visiting members invited. Hattie M. Alden, Secy.

In "Java Head"

Anna May Wong returns to the screen, co-starring with Elizabeth Allen in Joseph Hergesheimer's great Oriental love drama, "Java Head." It tells the pathetic-tragic story of Tsou Yuen (played by Miss Wong), a Manchurian girl of high rank who is brought into contact with the conservative society of England as the wife of a well-to-do shipowner. The story reaches a poignant climax when the Oriental girl, realizing that her husband must go back to his own people if he is to be happy, makes the great renunciation by voluntarily "going into the shadows."
