

AERONAUTIC DEEDS OF LOCAL YOUTH TOLD IN MAGAZINE

A photograph of Albert V. Forman, Medford youth, in a small airplane he constructed, together with an account of his aeronautic proclivities, is published in the current issue of Popular Aviation.

Mr. Forman left here about six weeks ago and entered the employ of Air Industries at the Grand Central terminal in Glendale, Calif. He is now in charge of three hangars at the southern California airport. His wife is remaining here for the time being, residing at their home on the Old Stage road.

After telling of the accomplishments of another aviation enthusiast, the Popular Aviation article continues: "Albert V. Forman, Route 1, Box 196, Medford, Ore., is next in line with his home-built ship. And now for another interesting announcement—it is home-built and licensed under the new and same laws of Oregon! But there is still more to come.

Mr. Forman soloed in a Taylor Cub in two and one-half hours which automatically makes him a member of our 'Quick Solo Club.' Upon completion of the fifth half-hour, he climbed out and started building the light plane shown here, which is sure a record. After the lightplane was finished, he test hopped her for half an hour without difficulty of any kind so that the last half hour of his third solo hour was completed in a ship built by himself. Boy, bring in a medal.

"On the second flight he encountered his instructor in the Taylor Cub, flying at the same altitude. When Forman raised his knees so that his instructor could recognize him, the instructor's face registered horror and consternation. In fact this was such a prominent exhibition of terror that Forman began to wonder if he should have asked the instructor's permission before taking off.

"Up to date the little ship has flown 15 and one-half hours with practically no trouble and it will fly itself for a considerable length of time—hands off."

BAN HOMESTEADING BED OF GOOSE LAKE

LAKEVIEW, April 22.—(AP)—A prohibition against homesteading the contested bed of Goose lake has been issued by P. B. Carpenter, chief of the federal division of grazing, stockmen, who protested against a settler's invasion, learned today.

C. W. Ogde, land office registrar, said a document had been found showing that the lands belong to the reclamation service through an act of the Oregon legislature, thus removing any possibility of a homestead-prior rights argument.

Astoria Festival To Mark Arrival Of Salmon Horde

ASTORIA, April 22.—(AP)—Astoria, in whose life blood the salmon is a major factor, will pay tribute to the fish next Monday in a festival planned as an annual event.

The celebration will mark the 73rd opening of the season for commercial fishing and will attempt to focus attention upon a little known but spectacular event, the race of the salmon into the river from the open sea.

Civic organizations, packers, fishermen and state officials will join together to celebrate the event. Among those expected to attend are Acting Gov. Frank Francovich, Secretary of State Earl Snell and State Treasurer Rufus Holman.

High School News by STUDENT REPORTERS

(By Curtis Bachelder.) The Medford Senior high band will give a concert in the city park tonight at 7 o'clock.

This will give the people of Medford and vicinity an opportunity to hear the musical selections which they played at the state band contest a few weeks ago.

(By Jeanette Thatcher.) Herbert Petri and his White Husars were sponsored by the Medford high school band in a brilliant musical presentation, Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium.

The White Husars presented a program of high interest to bandmen and all other music lovers. The five entertainers, playing 11 different instruments in solo and ensemble arrangements, gave renditions of operatic gems and other fine musical numbers.

The regimental band of the 80th regiment of the U. S. army were guests of the bandmen.

(By Lois Benson.) A special assembly was called Wednesday morning to hear Mr. McKaig, a national Grange official and representative of the Emergency Peace campaign. He spoke of the position of the Grange in relation to national peace.

He outlined their platform, which consists of three parts—government ownership of all ammunition plants, strict neutrality laws and the vote of the people in the matter of declaring war.

Mr. McKaig was accompanied by Paul Elliot of Portland and Rev. James Hamilton of the First Christian church of Medford.

U. S. CONSULATES IN EUROPE CALLED STINGY WITH PAY

LONDON.—(UP)—Uncle Sam is becoming known as a "skinflint" in Europe—at least as far as consulates are concerned.

Native clerks and stenographers, a certain number of which are necessary for efficient transaction of consular business, are paid as little as $9 a week. They receive no "allowance" and are not eligible for pensions, regardless of how long or how faithfully they serve the United States government.

In London, British clerks and stenographers, both sexes, average $16 a week. This includes the highest paid, $20 a week, as well as the lowest. One veteran clerk has worked for 20 years and his salary is $20 a week. A well-educated English girl was employed recently at $420 a year.

Americans, unless they are employed in Washington and especially sent abroad, fare somewhat better. Seven American girls hired in London during the past five years average $13 a week salary but receive, in addition, an average of about $25 a month "living allowance."

Americans hired in Washington, who do the same work, get $1,800, plus a living allowance.

The reason for the abnormally low salaries for alien employees is explained by a law, passed by congress in 1906 and repealed in 1932, that no alien employe of a consulate could be paid more than $1,000 a year. The law is effective no longer, but since its repeal congress has not appropriated enough money to remedy the injustice. Consuls, faced with limited budgets and ever-increasing volume of work, can do nothing about it.

As a consequence, consuls are losing some of their most efficient and promising employes. Geneva recently lost a young native employe, whose seven years satisfactory service, whose salary at the time he resigned was $15 a week. The London consulate has lost six of its ablest clerks in the last three years, for the same reason. Paris loses the same proportion, as do other European consulates.

Embassies are not affected. Since they deal with foreign governments and handle state affairs, they employ only Americans. Gift clerks and stenographers in embassies receive from $2,000 upwards plus living allowances.

Unless congress does something in the meantime, the situation is likely to become even more out of balance in London, it is said. In the fall the embassy and consulate will occupy the same building, with consulate employes who receive $600 and $800 annually working alongside embassy clerks and stenographers, on virtually the same tasks, but with the embassy employes receiving $2,000 to $3,000 a year.

$100,000 SOUGHT FOR FOREST FIRE FORCES

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—A recommendation for a $100,000 appropriation for "fighting and preventing forest fires on or threatening national forests" went before the house today.

The money also could be used "for the establishment and maintenance of fire patrols to prevent trespass and to guard against and check fires" upon the railroad grant lands reverted to the United States in western Oregon.

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE SENDS TREASURY ON CHEAP LOAN SEARCH

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—The submission of President Roosevelt's revised budget message started the treasury today on a search for the cheapest terms to borrow money and for methods to tighten the tax system to bolster future income.

First, however, fiscal spokesmen predicted an already launched program of borrowing $30,000,000 a week would be continued until $300,000,000 has been obtained.

They said they would have to determine by June 15 whether to continue borrowing on short-term bills, or turn to longer-time bond issues for future funds. On that date about $300,000,000 of discounted bills issued in March will come due.

Originally, it has been expected these bills would be paid out of tax receipts for the second quarter of the year, but authorities said today this would be prevented because revenues were not coming up to expectations.

The same problem will arise on Sept. 15, they believe, when the government will have to pay back the money it is now borrowing in $50,000,000 weekly chunks.

SPRING PLANT SALE SCHEDULED SATURDAY BY GARDEN CLUBBERS

Medford Garden club will hold its spring plant sale Saturday, April 24, in the vacant store building, 218 East Main street. All who have plants, bulbs, seeds or shrubs for this sale are asked to bring or send them in early Saturday morning.

The demand this year is greater than ever before and this indicates that people in general all over the valley are becoming flower conscious and that home grounds everywhere will be more beautiful and better cared for than ever before.

Plans for the junior gardens, sponsored by the Medford Garden club are meeting with the heartiest cooperation on the part of all school authorities, parents and children.

ASK MORE FUNDS FOR BLISTER RUST FIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—The house appropriations committee asked congress today for more funds to cooperate with states and counties to fight blister rust in the white pine forests.

It recommended the agriculture department's share in the 1937-38 battle should be about $300,000. This is an increase of $45,000 over the present fiscal year.

In approving the forest service request for additional funds to carry on the control work, particularly in the Pacific northwest, the committee went $500,000 beyond the amount set aside in the budget.

Rhinoceros Details Train. NAIROBI, India.—(UP)—Traffic on the railway from Mombasa to Nairobi, Kenya, was delayed for several hours by a rhinoceros. Blinded by the searchlight of the locomotive, the rhino charged a train, derailing it. Several passengers were injured, and the rhinoceros was killed.
