

SIXTH STRAIGHT WIN PLACES SERAPHS ON COAST LEAGUE ROOF

(By the Associated Press.) The Los Angeles Angels, through their own efforts and the assistance of the Sacramento Solons, were in first place in the Pacific Coast baseball race today. Last night the Angels won their sixth straight from the waverling Portland Beavers, 6 to 5, while the Solons beat the San Diego Padres, 6 to 3, to knock them off their first place perch and focus the spotlight on the Angels. San Francisco defeated Seattle in a wild game up north, 8 to 7, to put itself in second place and knock the tribe from third position to fourth. The Mission Reds gained a comfortable hold on sixth place by beating the Oakland aggregation, 8 to 7. Los Angeles overcame a two-run Portland lead in the sixth inning on singles by Murray Howell, Bobby Mattick, Rip Collins and Carl Dittmar. Don Hurst accounted for two Angel runs when he smacked a four-bagger with one on in the fourth inning. Five double plays, three by the Beavers and two by the Angels, featured the game.

HIGH WATER HINDERS ANGLING IN COUNTY

Although the trout season has been open over a week, anglers of Jackson county are still marking time for a decrease in high waters in streams and river. By the number of catches reported the past week it appears the season is open in name only and little hope is held by nimrods for improved conditions this week-end. The state police report the Rogue river is falling but that it will still be too high. The water between Savage Rapids and the confluence of the Applegate is about the right color for salmon, but apparently the big run hasn't started.

WHAT A WRECK CONSTIPATION MAKES

Constipation can dull your whole life. Headaches, poor complexions—tired, lifeless days are often the results. Also, many serious diseases. Get rid of common constipation now with a ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN brings you the two things your system needs to act naturally: "bulk" and Vitamin B to help tone the intestines. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water—forms a soft mass, and gently clears the intestines of wastes. It acts naturally. Pills and drugs seldom cure constipation. You just keep on increasing the dose and switching from one laxative to another. Just eat two tablespoons of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day, three times daily if needed. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in recipes. Sold by all grocers—made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kress is shortstop for the Minneapolis Millers of the American association. Yesterday the Millers gave Kansas City a 12 to 2 whipping, and Kress drove in five runs. He had two home runs and a single in five trips.

NEW TEXAS CCC MEN AT SOUTH FORK CAMP SWING INTO PROGRAM

SOUTH FORK, April 23.—(Sp.)—New Texas replacements at the South Fork camp have had their introduction to what the CCC is all about. The process began with a talk by Laurence V. Espey, project superintendent, on the history of the Butte Falls section of the Rogue River national forest and a talk by Simeri Jarvi, district ranger, on the part the CCC is expected to play in the coming season of fire danger.

Both speakers explained fully the types of occupations open to apprentices entering the CCC. Ambitious young men have a choice of some 20 to 25 vocations to learn at South Fork. It was pointed out. The new members took a leisurely trip to Bowen creek burn where they got their first introduction to the use of CCC hand tools. Wood cutting at camp topped off the midday introduction to manual labor in the camps which will be followed by a gradual increase in the amount of work done until the majority of the company will be in physical shape to do the necessary "honest day's work" required of enrollees at South Fork.

DEFENDANTS DENY BURNING PATIENT

The defense opened late yesterday and was expected to be concluded late today in the damage suit of Mrs. Jeanne R. Woods against Dr. Harvey E. Miller and his assistant, Mrs. Louise Bates. The case will probably be in the hands of the jury of eight women and four men by noon tomorrow. Mrs. Woods seeks $3400 for alleged personal injuries sustained while undergoing treatment. She alleges she was burned on the abdomen by an electrical pad and that her outcries went unheeded. The defense denies any negligence and contends the small abdominal area was caused by a hot water bottle Mrs. Woods applied to herself. Four local physicians were called by the plaintiff yesterday to give expert testimony. Dr. Miller and his assistant testified in their own behalf yesterday and denied allegations of the complaint. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney George M. Roberts and William N. McAllister, Dr. Miller by Attorney W. E. Crews, and Mrs. Bates by Attorney Allison Moulton.

RICH FARMER FOUND MURDERED IN GARAGE

WALLA WALLA, April 23.—(AP)—Holding to a murder theory, sheriff's officers sought clues today to the identity of the person who killed Frank A. Dooley, about 46, wealthy farmer and member of a pioneer family. Dooley was shot three times. Dooley's body was found last night in the garage of the Marvin Evans ranch, seven miles northeast of here. The bullets, fired at close range from a .38 calibre revolver, entered the temple, abdomen and chest. Deputy District Attorney E. W. King said none could have been self-inflicted and that Dooley had been dead several hours before he was found.

- Billy Hulen Says: Dick Skeeters, Talent's Entry For Mound Fame

Some Southern Oregon league ball team is going to get smart and grab off a young high school pitcher by the name of Dick Skeeters, at present doing a pretty fair country job of hurling Talent high school to the county class B league pennant. At the insistence of his coach, Linn Mills, who has been whooping it up around this office for the past month and even tracking up down to our domiciles to expound at great length on the "curve ball as crooked as a pretzel" and the "high hand one that looks like an aspirin tablet when it reaches the plate," we finally weakened and journeyed out to the Talent ball pasture Tuesday with Wally Rickett and his St. Mary's high outfit.

Much of our good friend Linn Mills' ballyhoo was taken with a slight sprinkling of salt, for it is a well known fact that young high school coaches can very easily become so enthused over performances of their pupils as to make the gibberings of a high-powered press agent seem mild in comparison. In this case, however, there was such a sincere ring of truth to Linn's vivid word-paintings of his ace hurler that a look-see became almost an absolute necessity.

So, as before mentioned, we went out to Talent to watch the youngster pitch some baseball. What we saw was a husky lad just 15 years old and still a freshman in high school strike out 15 St. Mary's batters and allow only 7 hits. Of those base knocks, only one was an honest-to-goodness clean blow. George Citizen, St. Mary's catcher, really got hold of one for a line-drive triple into right center field but the other six hits were of the "Texas league" variety, or rollers just out of reach of the infielders.

No fooling about it, Dick Skeeters looks like a kid that has what it takes. His curve ball is not quite so crooked as a pretzel, nor does his fast one exactly resemble an aspirin tablet when it reaches the plate, but nevertheless, those two deliveries are far and away the sweetest we have ever seen in a high school pitcher.

What's more, they tell us down Talent way that Skeeters isn't really a pitcher at all, but an infielder. Proud natives state that right now, he is the best second sacker in the county, bar none, and that if given a chance in the Southern Oregon circuit this year, will burn up the league. As for his hitting ability—well, Coach Mills has him batting in the number four position, which is cleanup in any league. Against Mikeche, St. Mary's pitcher, he got one single into right field. He takes a nice, easy cut at the ball, has a good eye, and what is very important, doesn't step in the bucket.

The youngster certainly comes by his ball playing ability naturally. His poppa, Charlie Skeeters, was quite the pumpkins of a pitcher in his day before taking up the harder but more lucrative business of hauling logs out of them thar hills with a

COMPROMISE PORTLAND SUPERINTENDENT ISSUE

PORTLAND, April 23.—(AP)—The issue of Superintendent Charles A. Rice's contract, which has been before the Portland school board at intervals for the past three years, was settled by a compromise agreement last night.

and Dean James H. Jessell of the school of education of the Oregon state system of higher education on a commission to assist in selecting Rice's successor. Martin, district manager, reported today. The Cold Springs reservoir has 43,000 acre-feet of water stored for summer purposes and is filling at the rate of 500 feet a day. Its capacity is 50,000 feet.

PORTLAND, April 23.—(AP)—Two Portland fires, one a spectacular blaze in the downtown district and the other at a single mill just outside the city limits, brought damage of more than $20,000 today. Flames starting in the community kitchen of a Second avenue building housing part of Portland's Chinese colony injured two firemen and caused a loss estimated between $15,000 and $20,000. A blaze virtually razed the Union Avenue Shingle company early this morning. Loss was tentatively set at "several thousand."
