Teachers Guests Tuesday Evening

Teachers of the Roosevelt school were hostesses Tuesday evening to members of the Medford Grade Teachers' association at the home of Mrs. George Carter.

Miss Sara Van Meter, president, presided over the business session. Discussion of modern school problems featured the meeting. H. W. Quistin, principal of the Jackson school, was named to represent the association as a chamber of commerce member.

Plans were made for the next session, which is to be a picnic in Ashland Lathia park. Officers for the next year will be elected at that time.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Three Entertain At Large Affair

Among the largest affairs of the spring season was the party arranged Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Max Peirce, Mrs. Ben Trowbridge and Mrs. Ray Frisbie.

The three were joint hostesses to 57 guests, inviting them for luncheon and bridge at the casino on the northern Pacific highway adjoining Rogue River. Fourteen tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon.

Visitors Stop En Route Home

Visitors in the city include Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Johnson of Longmont, Colo., who arrived here yesterday. They stopped here en route to their home after spending the winter months in southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are guests at the Frank Albert home.

Junior Prom Is Formal Event

Outstanding among all social events of the year for the high school student body is the Junior Prom, traditional affair for upperclassmen, which is to take place this evening.

The Prom will be featured by formal attire and extensive springtime decorations in the colorful May Day manner. A Maypole is planned to center the dance floor and elaborate lighting and other decoration devices will present a festive background for the affair.

Among students participating in plans for the event are Jack Denison, Jean Horton, Don Herried, Kay Nakagiri, Josephine Bullis, Jeannette Field, Bob Kittinger and numerous others.

Three to Visit Minnesota Home Mrs. John Wilkinson and her mother, Mrs. Anna Mikache, accompanied by Mrs. T. A. Bickerstaff of Mill Valley, Calif., left Medford yesterday by train for the east.

Mrs. Bickerstaff is also a daughter of Mrs. Mikache.

The three will visit other members of the family and friends in Breckinridge, Minn., their former home. They expect to be away a month and will stop in Yakima, Wa., en route home for further visits with relatives.

Mrs. Bickerstaff arrived earlier in the week from her California home to join the others on the trip east.

Miss Field To Visit on Campus

Miss Barbara Field left this morning by train for Eugene, where she plans to spend the week-end visiting friends on the University of Oregon campus. She will be a guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

From Eugene, Miss Field will go to the Oregon State college campus in Corvallis, where she was a student. There she will also visit the Kappa Theta chapter, of which she is a member.

Miss Field plans to be away until the latter part of next week. She has many friends among students of both schools.

GeBauers Leaving For South Sunday

Among those planning vacation vacations away from home during the spring and early summer are Mr. and Mrs. Max GeBauer.

Mr. and Mrs. GeBauer will leave Sunday by motor for California. They will go to Burlingame, where they expect to visit for the next two months, returning about the first of July.

May Day Dance Week-end Event

Principal event on the week-end calendar is the May Day dance being arranged by members of the Elks' club for tomorrow evening in the Elks' temple.

All arrangements point to one of the most gala affairs on the club's yearly social calendar and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Those in charge are Stan Sherwood, chairman, and Ray Knips, Earl York, Murray Bell and E. F. Coleman. Members are asked to get invitation cards from the secretary.

Andrews Return After Stay East Being welcomed home are Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Andrews and son, Carl, who have returned to Medford after an extended stay in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews have been the guests of relatives and friends in North Carolina for the past six months. North Carolina is the former home of both.

Charter Dinner Set for Tonight

Most important occasion of the year for members of Beta Sigma Phi is the charter banquet which is to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Hotel Medford.

Presentation of the charter to the group, which was organized here last fall, will feature the occasion.

Miss Ferguson Returns North

Visiting here the early part of the week was Miss Jeanne Ferguson, who was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ferguson.

Miss Ferguson left yesterday morning to return to her present home in Portland. She was greeted by numerous Medford friends during her stay.

Mrs. Jones Is Program Artist

Through an error, it was reported yesterday that a Mrs. Leland Smith appeared before members of the Delphian society in a special musical program. The name should have been Mrs. Leland Jones.

Driver Fined $25 By Mayor Porter

Victor G. Baker, 37, of Gold Hill, was fined $25 in city court this morning for reckless driving. He appeared before Mayor George W. Porter, who served in the absence of City Judge Allan D. Curry, who was ill.

City police arrested Baker at Sixth and Front streets early this morning after he had allegedly driven from one side of the street to the other. Baker was said to be employed at the cement plant in Gold Hill.

F. L. HERYFORD, 16, IS STRUCK WHILE RIDING BICYCLE

The car was stopped by Cannon 173 feet from where it hit the bicycle, police said.

Lights Claimed Cause

Cannon, according to the authorities, claimed he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and did not see the bicycle until he was right upon it. He also told city police he was traveling "not quite 40 miles an hour."

One of the first at the scene of the accident was Max Peirce, local insurance man, who was driving south on Riverside avenue. He told city police that when he approached the lad, Cannon and his brother were standing there. A car driven by E. W. Keeler, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Antle of the Smokehouse bowling alleys, stopped and young Heryford was placed in it and rushed to Community hospital, where he died about an hour and a half later.

J. Duckett, manager of a fish-fly lying shop, was also one of the first at the scene, and rode in the car to the hospital. Peirce then notified city police.

There was evidently no eye-witness to the accident, according to city police, with the exception of Cannon and his younger brother.

The bicycle suffered a broken rear wheel and mud-guard. The Chevrolet sedan received a cracked windshield and a large dent on the right fender and right side of the hood.

The bicycle was equipped with a small reflector on the rear mud-guard, which was smashed.

Police believe that when Heryford was struck and thrown from his bicycle, he landed directly on his head on the pavement. When picked up to be placed in the automobile, his head was lying partly over the curb.

Heryford was apparently on his way to the home of Ethel B. Whitlock, 533 Austin street, when he was killed. He had been boarding and rooming there while attending Medford high school, having recently moved from the residence of Mrs. Nettie Thompson at 522 Hamilton street. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heryford, live at Butte Falls.

Until about three weeks ago, the youngster was employed as pin-setter at the Smokehouse alleys, but gave up the job because of the late hours, according to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Antle, proprietors.

Nelson Ernest Cannon is unmarried, city police said, and is employed at the Sterling mine in the Applegate.

MARY DOW MORDOFF PASSES AFTER LONG MEDFORD RESIDENCE

Mary Dow Mordoff, a resident of Medford for the past twenty-eight years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Chirgwin near Medford, early Friday morning after an illness of three weeks.

Mrs. Mordoff was born in Sycamore, Ill., April 28, 1850. In January 1874 she was united in marriage to George M. Mordoff of Olathe, Kansas. Mr. Mordoff passed away in March, 1928.

She is survived by two sons, Harry Mordoff, Glendale, Calif., and Myron Mordoff, of Klamath Falls, Ore.; three daughters, Mrs. H. S. Chirgwin, Medford; Mrs. Chas. Beery, of Medford; and Miss Nelle Mordoff, of Chico, Calif.; also by seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She had been a devoted member of the Methodist church for many years and her sweet Christian character was felt by all with whom she came in contact.

Funeral services will be announced in Sunday's Tribune by the Conger funeral parlors where arrangements are being made.

Stream Pollution Up For Solution

DUBUQUES SUFFER IN DUST STORM ON TRIP TO NEBRASKA

His experiences in two dust storms in Nebraska and South Dakota were related today by H. A. Dubuque, owner of the Woodlawn orchard in Central Point.

Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Dubuque left here about three weeks ago to conclude negotiations for the renewal of a lease on a theater he owns in Alliance, Neb. Returning one day to Alliance from a side trip to Rapid City, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Dubuque were caught in their first dust storm.

"The dust was so thick we could not see the radiator of the car or the beams from the headlights," Mr. Dubuque related. "Our nasal membranes became terribly dry and we felt generally uncomfortable. We could proceed only when there was a let-up in the storm. We had to stop frequently because we couldn't see."

Subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Dubuque were caught in another dust storm as they were driving from Valentine, Neb., to the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota. They were in the storm most of the day but it was not so severe as the first one, Mr. Dubuque said.

"We thought the storms were terrible but were told they really were very light," he continued. "In severe storms the dust scrapes the paint completely off the windward side of the car and pits the glass so badly you can't see through it, we were informed."

The whole region was dry beyond belief, Mr. Dubuque stated. There was not a trickle of water in rivers or creeks, he added.

"Everywhere we saw farmers with their belongings piled into their cars headed for the west, anxious to get away from the dust storm destruction, leaving their arid farms behind them," Mr. Dubuque said. "At places we could see houses almost entirely buried in sand, only the tops sticking out. We walked on sand over chicken houses that were completely buried."

Mr. and Mrs. Dubuque returned to the Rogue valley Wednesday night. "We certainly were glad to see this paradise again," he commented. "When we crossed the Siskiyou my wife actually cried with joy."

WATER USE PLAN IS SOUGHT HERE

Jackson county planning commission last night voted to seek the support of the state planning board in procuring a Rogue river valley water utilization study.

It was the commission's belief that such a study would result in a comprehensive development project similar to that of the Willamette valley. Aim is to make economic use of the water which is now not only going to waste but is causing serious soil erosion as well, it was explained.

The commission also voted to request the state board to make a comprehensive year survey in Jackson county, correlating all pertinent facts relating to the business. Jackson County Chamber of Commerce will be asked to make a similar request.

A. S. V. Carpenter and Olen Arnapiger were elected members of the commission to fill vacancies. Karl L. Janouch, chairman, presided.
