Oregon Woman Is Named Candidate For High Office

Members of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs are jubilant this week over the unopposed candidacy of Mrs. Saldie Orr Dunbar of Portland, one of their past presidents, for president of the General Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Dunbar was nominated on April 29 at the general federation's annual council meeting, held this year in Tulsa, Okla. Since no other candidates for the office were announced at that meeting, her election at the triennial convention in Kansas City next May is virtually assured since it is customary in the general federation for all candidates to be presented formally one year in advance of elections.

Mrs. Dunbar is first vice-president now of the general federation, world's largest organization of women, which counts this year more than 2,000,000 members in the United States and in foreign countries. She served for three years as recording secretary and for another four years as chairman of public welfare.

Social workers and public health workers through the state know Mrs. Dunbar professionally as executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association and both men and women in the organization in which she has worked regard her as one of the most outstanding women in Oregon.

Mrs. A. C. McIntyre of Pendleton, president of the Oregon federation, formally presented Mrs. Dunbar as its candidate at the Tulsa meeting.

DR. EVERETT MINGUS, EX-COUNTY RESIDENT, DIES IN MARSHFIELD

Funeral services were held in Marshfield Saturday afternoon for Dr. Everett Mingus, one-time Jackson county resident. Dr. Mingus died in his Marshfield home last Thursday night from a heart ailment. He was 70 years old.

Born near Dixon, Calif., Dr. Mingus had made his home in Oregon since his parents, Conrad and Lavina Mingus, moved to a farm half-way between Medford and Jacksonville when he was two years old. The boy spent his youth on this farm and is remembered by many in the valley.

For nearly 40 years Dr. Mingus was active in the medical profession and as a civic worker in Marshfield. He started out to be a civil engineer and spent two years preparing for the engineering profession at the University of Oregon.

A summer illness, however, diverted his attention to medicine and he entered the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania from which he was graduated with honors in 1892.

As a young physician in Portland he taught in the old Willamette university college of medicine which later became the medical school of the University of Oregon. Subsequently he spent a year in Grants Pass where he had mining interests. On January 1, 1898, he moved to Marshfield.

Dr. Mingus had many activities which involved service to the public. He was recognized as the inventor of several instruments and pieces of hospital equipment now in wide use by the medical profession.

His survivors include his wife, Edna Mingus, a sister, Mrs. Clara M. Atken of Medford, and a brother, Francis Mingus of Emmett, Idaho.

Color Choice Held Key To Film, Mate Success

By DAN DE DUCE HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3.—(AP)—If blue is your favorite color, you should succeed in movies and marriage, an expert cosmetician asserted today.

In casting a picture and in choosing a life partner, color preferences are a vital key, said Jack Dawn.

Practical jokers like deep greens through yellows. Adolescent mentalities select pastel shades, indicating unwillingness to face life as it is. Those who choose undiluted tones of red are mercurial, up in the clouds one day and despondent the next.

But lovers of blue—"They have a feeling for drama, are serious students and tend to take themselves seriously in big as well as in small matters," Dawn declared.

The actor who prefers blue may be relied upon to portray any emotional role. The individual who prefers blue will be a steadfast, true companion in matrimony.

Dawn, head makeup man at M-G-M studio, believes "the psychological importance of color is just beginning to be realized." He has been testing his color theories in his regular work.

"I have discovered one interesting thing," he said. "The tone that is very likely to be the individual's favorite color can be found predominantly in the pigmentation of the skin. There are three general tone groups—yellow, blue and red."

Edward Everett Horton won't care if he never has to drive an automobile again.

Tuesday he was cut and bruised when his car skidded off a snow-covered road at Lake Arrowhead and plunged 40 feet down hill into a tree.

Yesterday he had to pilot a model T in a film gag scene. He was supposed to stop when a guard jumped out of a clump of bushes pointing a pistol at his head. The nervous comedian not only stopped but stepped on the reverse pedal.

After his old mechanical mount shot backward, upset the camera and scattered 20 players and technicians, neither Horton nor the model T felt in the mood to continue.

Townsend Hits Sit-Down; Voices Optimism on Plan

PORTLAND, May 3.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend struck out vigorously against sit-down strikes and voiced new confidence in the ultimate success of his pension plan in addresses yesterday at Salem and Portland.

Nearly 10,000 persons heard the leader of the old-age retirement program speak at the two cities.

He described sit-down strike tactics as "unlawful seizures of property."

"There is no graft in the pension plan, no enrichment for the few," he said and reasserted the claim he is the sole boss of the movement with control over its finances.

He predicted the Townsend plan would eventually set the standard for the world.

"It is only a matter of a few years until men over 45 years of age will be retired. Half of our adult population will produce all the wealth for all of us in a shorter time," he said.

Willis Mahoney of Klamath Falls, former candidate for the United States senate, repledged his support to the Townsend plan. He said he traveled 400 miles to attend the addresses.

SALMON FISHING GROWING BETTER

The big spring run of Chinook salmon in the Rogue river is apparently well under way, according to reports turned in by Medford anglers after week-end sallies to the favorite spots.

Bill Fillingier and Dick Green both landed chinooks at Hilton's, below Grants Pass, Saturday, and Fillingier reported that at least a dozen beauties were taken there. One was caught at Savage Rapids Saturday and two were landed at the same place yesterday. Over a dozen were caught again at Hilton's yesterday, it was said. Those caught by Green and Fillingier weighed about 20 pounds each, and both were taken with a spinner.

PREJUDICE AFFIDAVIT AGAINST WIMBERLY IS FILED BY MRS. STAILEY

An affidavit of prejudice, against Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly of Douglas county has been filed by Mrs. Cornithia E. Stailey in her suit against the late Ted Helmroth, for money allegedly due, under an agreement, to pay $100 per month from the rental of the Pacific-Herald building, held by Helmroth under a mortgage foreclosure against Earl H. Fehl, now on parole from state prison for ballot theft conviction.

Mrs. Stailey, Fehl's mother-in-law, claims an interest in the building.

Circuit Judge Wimberly was assigned to hear the case by the state supreme court, after Circuit Judge H. D. Norton of Jackson county had disqualified himself. Judge Wimberly heard the interpleader suit of Fehl against Niedermeyer, Inc., the decision was adverse to Fehl.

The affidavit of prejudice was signed by Mrs. Stailey as "plaintiff and attorney." The document was forwarded to Judge Wimberly at Roseburg Saturday.

A second suit, involving the same litigation and involving West Park street property is pending.

In ordinary court procedure, an affidavit of prejudice is automatically granted.

What a power-line "trouble-shooter" is up against

FOR 20 years, Al Taft has been repairing as many as 200 short circuits per day. Around him 11,000 volts lurk. It's a tense job that will test digestion if anything will! Here's Al's comment: "Working among high-voltage cables isn't calculated to help digestion. But mine doesn't give me trouble. I smoke Camels with my meals and after. Camels set me right!" Smoking Camels speeds up the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—that mean so much to your sense of well-being. Camels are so mild, they are better for steady smoking.
