Mother's Day Is Week-end Event

Festivities of the week-end will center around observance of Mother's Day. The past week saw a number of programs and affairs honoring mothers vying for attention with numerous events of national music week.

Informal and family parties are being arranged by many for the week-end. Although slightly unsettled, weather remains warm and pleasant and is expected to attract many to outdoor recreations tomorrow and Sunday.

Many mothers will be out of town as the guests of sons and daughters at Oregon State college and the University of Oregon. Tea, luncheons, dinners and musical and social events are planned by campus committees to welcome mothers. Combination of junior week-end and mothers' day festivities at the Eugene campus will provide student activities as well as those especially for mothers.

As spring advances, the attention of many is already being drawn to the San Francisco Golden Gate bridge fiesta, with local groups making plans to attend.
