MAYOR PROCLAIMS LEGION AUXILIARY POPPY SALE DAYS

Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22, were designated as Poppy Days in Medford by a proclamation issued today by Mayor George W. Porter. Volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute poppies throughout the city Friday and Saturday and receive contributions for the welfare of the living victims of the war, and disabled veterans, the widows and fatherless children.

In the proclamation, Mayor Porter called upon all citizens to observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the World War dead. The proclamation stated: "The city of Medford responded with highest patriotism to our nation's call for defenders in 1917 and 1918, sending many of its young men into the fighting forces. Some of these men sacrificed their lives in the nation's service, dying with more than 100,000 other Americans to bring victorious peace.

"It is fitting that the service and sacrifice of these gallant young men should be commemorated annually by appropriate public observance. As the poppy, which grew on the battlefields where so many of them fell, has become their memorial flower, there could be no more appropriate observance than a general wearing of the poppy in their honor.

"Therefore, I do hereby proclaim Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22, as Poppy Days in the city of Medford, and urge all citizens to show remembrance of the honor for the men of the city and of the nation who gave their lives in World War service by wearing poppies on that day.

"GEO. W. PORTER, Mayor of Medford."

JOE LUCAS HELD ON DRUNKENNESS CHARGE

Joe Lucas, 35, of Medford was arrested last night by city police and lodged in the city jail on a charge of drunkenness. Police state they found 30 pennies and seven boxes of matches on him. Previously a match vending machine had been stolen from Fredette's and found by police at the south end of the Southern Pacific unloading platform. An employe of Fredette's told city police he saw Lucas take the machine. Lucas will appear in city court today.

PROSPECT PLANS SCHOOL BUILDING FOR USE IN FALL

Tentative plans for remodeling of the Prospect school building and construction of a new high school building were discussed at a meeting of the Prospect school board held here yesterday with C. R. Bowman, county superintendent.

The board has asked for cost estimates and construction plans from Architects Frank C. Clark and William Laine, Clark to submit plans for the new building and Laine for the remodeling project. Following submission of the plans, the board will consider advisable means of financing the project and presenting it to voters of the district, together with alternatives should the cost appear prohibitive.

A report from Prospect states that at a previous meeting of the school district it was decided that the buildings will probably remain at the present site in Prospect, although it is thought there is some discussion as to location. Some are said to desire a more central site nearer McLeod, and others are believed to favor a consolidation program.

Superintendent Bowman stated yesterday that school facilities at the mountain community have been insufficient for the past year or two but that it was not considered feasible to attempt improvement until general business conditions warranted expansion.

The architects have been asked to finish tentative drafts as soon as possible as it is hoped to have the buildings ready for occupancy by next September, Bowman said.

KLAMATH BOWLERS TO INVADE CITY SUNDAY

Headliners in Barnes Circus Acts Tonight

Top: "The Christianis," greatest of all riders, headliners with Al G. Barnes and Sella-Floto circus here today. Right: Bertha Matlock and the famous elephant "Ruth" have conspicuous parts in the big show this afternoon and tonight.

CIRCUS ARRIVES IN EARLY HOURS FOR SHOWS HERE

will offer the three-man backward somersault (through a hoop) from horse to horse.

Over one hundred tons of huge pachyderms appear in the arena at one time. These monster creatures perform all sorts of unusual feats at the command of their trainer Captain Walter McClain, who capably handles 18 elephants in one herd alone and oversees the five troupes that appear with the greatest show on earth.

Hal Silvers, king of the tight and slack wire, appears as the drunk on the wire and then works straight in a series of forward and backward somersaults never before accomplished by mortal man.

Miss Amerika Olivera, offers something new in aerial thrills with her balancing bar. Miss Bertha Matlock presents her riding tigress and "Ruth" the elephant in the steel arena for the first time. The Orions, the greatest seater board acrobatic troupe in all the world, offer an exhibition of dexterous feats.

The Pull troupe, the Aerial Pages, Captain John Myers with his fighting Nubian jungle beasts, an army of 60 mirth-provoking funsters in comical antics, headed by the funniest merrymakers of all time—Milt Taylor, Abe Goldstein, Mike Garner, and their troupes of clowns that bring joy to young and old.

Hundreds of horses and hundreds of people take part in the gorgeous extravaganza "Old Mexico." Thrilling near the Jackson school and immediately after the performance tonight the big tents will be loaded and the show will go to Eugene for two performances tomorrow.

After the circus is over, the Al G. Barnes & Sella-Floto Combined Circus is presenting as an extra added attraction, The Three Del Rios, the smallest living people on earth. The man weighs 12 pounds, is small enough to hold in the palm of your hand. The family was brought to this country from Madrid, Spain, and are known as "Leprophors" (they will never grow).
