HOUSE KILLS TONGUE POINT AIR BASE

News Behind The News
By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Uncertain evidence as to Mr. R.'s seriousness about balancing the budget came out of his recent series of conferences with his congressional leaders. They brought word back to anxious legislators that he would balance it in the old Spanish manner. "In a nana," he said in 1938.

Although this is an unsatisfactory to those who want an immediate balance, they seem to be somewhat appeased by the new assurance. The "manana" balancing of the budget has been going on for three or four years now, but this time they profess to believe it will be done.

What makes them so sure is the fact that it could have been done this year if the president really had wanted to do it, and they do not see how he can avoid doing it next year.

That too-healthy tan on Jim Farley's face these days is not premature autumn. He is just smoking from within because he thought he was talking of the record when he said: "Well, when Senator O'Mahoney comes down here (the White House) wanting help on his sugar bill, his conscience won't be bothering him, will it?" Or when Pat McCarran wants aid for his state. It's all in the viewpoint.

Mr. Farley has always talked freely. His friends think, too freely. They are surprised he has not become involved in something like his present threat to anti-packing supreme court Democrats long before this. Friendly newsmen have occasionally kept him out of trouble by giving an inkling of how his free talking might sound in print.

He is now carrying a roll of adhesive tape in his pocket.

The power message which the president has been promising to congress will contain a recommendation for a flock of new executive authorities like TVA. There will probably be one for each of the great river systems of the country. What his advisers have been saying he has in mind is one for the entire eastern seaboard, one for the Pacific northwest, one for the Colorado river, etc.

The reason he is sending it up soon is to take the congressional mind off the more controversial measures now pending.

Wall street has been suffering psychoses neuroses over gold and 100 per cent margins, among other things. Or, at any rate, government authorities attribute the recent declines to widespread shivering over these two topics. (They do not mention strikes).

No authorities here have anything very comforting to say about the gold situation. They know they are in a mess, and if anyone has a satisfactory solution he is keeping it from them. They comfort themselves with the thought that there is nothing immediately alarming and that current news in the international arena (the British working arrangement, for one) may ease their difficulties.

The 100 per cent margins talk, however, seems to be just one of those Wall street rumors. The heat of au-

BILL IS DEFEATED 101 TO 68 DESPITE OREGONIANS PLEAS

Mott Sees Pacific Coast As Locale if War Comes — Party Lines Broken in Battle Over Appropriation

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—The house killed today a bill which would have authorized a $1,250,000 appropriation for a naval air base at Tongue Point, Ore., on the Columbia river.

The vote was 101 against 68 for the bill.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ore.) of the naval committee urged the house to approve legislation authorizing the expenditure.

Although he said the project did not have approval of the budget bureau or the navy department, Vinson declared he believed the 25 members of his committee were as "fully competent" as any navy officers to judge the advisability of the project.

"Is it treason for me to advocate a bill that the budget does not approve?" he asked. "Have we reached a point in this house where we will not legislate?"

Mott Urges Passage
Representative James W. Mott, Salem, Ore., urged passage of the measure. He said one of the largest and most valuable unprotected areas of the United States could be protected by one of the smallest expenditures ever proposed for such an undertaking.

Most contended the navy department "is not opposed" to the Tongue Point base because every witness on the measure said the base was not only necessary but inevitable.

"I don't want to be an alarmist," Mott said, "but we all know if war comes, it will come on the Pacific coast. It's why the fleet is there."

"We all know the attack will come by air from the sea at the entrance of the Columbia river."

Needed For Defense
The only way to defeat such an attack, he said, is by meeting it with superior air force based at the point of attack.

Representative Nan W. Honeyman of Portland, Ore., appealed for approval of the legislation on the ground the national defense program could not be completed without provision for the Columbia river.

The floor fight developed into a tug-of-war between the naval affairs and appropriations committees. Party lines went by the board.

BOY SLASHED, SISTER SLAIN

Five-year-old James Tiernan (above) was found in woods near Brookhaven, Long Island, his throat and face cut, while nearby lay his sister, Helen, 8, dead of cuts and burns. New York police arrested their mother, Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28-year-old attractive waitress, and Deputy Chief Francis J. Kear said she confessed committing the act "because she was in love with a man but couldn't accommodate him and the children in the small flat the family lived in."

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—Victorious senate foes of the Roosevelt court bill turned away from indications of administration compromise today in pursuit of a triumph on the senate floor as decisive as the adverse vote in the judiciary committee.

Opposition leaders said the measure was dead. They forecast the compromise advanced unsuccessfully in the committee by senator Logan (D-Ky.) would prove the new fighting ground.

Logan, a supporter of the president, suggested that one additional justice be appointed each year if any members of the supreme court served past 70. The number would drop back to nine when the older justices retired.

Permit 15 Justices
The Roosevelt bill would permit an increase up to a membership of 15 if justices over 70 years did not withdraw. The court would remain permanently at the number to which it was raised.

No one qualified to speak for the administration had conceded the battle for the president's bill had been dropped, but Logan said his compromise was favored by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

This quickly led to speculation whether Robinson was backingtracking from the "no compromise" edict he

Opposition Leaders Forecast Logan Compromise Will Prove New Battle Ground — Administration Is Mum

Entrance was effected in the three burglaries by breaking a window in a door the sheriff said.

CHICAGO BISHOP'S ATTACK AROUSES NAZI SPOKESMAN

BERLIN, May 19.—(AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' paper Der Angriff, launched a vigorous attack today on George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

The cardinal, in an archdiocesan speech yesterday, attacked German Nazi opposition to the Catholic church as "malicious," called Goebbels "crooked," referred to Adolf Hitler as "an Austrian paperhanger," and said Nazi propaganda concerning alleged immorality in Catholic institutions was infinitely worse than the world war atrocity propaganda of which Germans complain.

"Does the Holy See permit its Chicago bishop (sic) to vilify Germany without retraction?" asked the Angriff. "That is our most pressing question."

The editorial went on to call upon Catholic bishops in Germany to "reply" to Cardinal Mundelein's charge that the current German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges are "atrocity stories."

The newspaper quoted Archbishop Bornemann of Trier as having testified that, as a result of immorality findings, he had expelled 30 lay brothers from his diocese after asking special authority from the Vatican.

"The time is long overdue for other German bishops to speak," said Goebbels' newspaper.

PORTLAND, May 19.—(AP)—Federal Judge James Alger Fee signed an order in U. S. district court awarding the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., of Tacoma a $111,224 judgment against the Pelican Bay Lumber Co., Anglo corporation and the Southern Pacific Land Co.

The defendants are given 30 days in which to make payment or file a petition to make payment of the $111,224. The Weyerhaeuser firm alleged that the sum represents the unpaid balance of $204,263 for which it sold the land to the three companies in May, 1929.

DUKE AND WALLIS SIGN CONTRACT ON PROPERTY RIGHTS

By Louis Matzhold

MONTS, France, May 19.—(AP)—Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield, declared tonight that Mrs. Warfield would become "her royal highness" upon her June 3 wedding.

"She will be H. R. H. by noon on June 3," said Rogers.

He intimated the British government had acceded to the duke's demands that his future duchess have the title.

The Duke of Windsor made known today that he and Mrs. Wallis Warfield had signed a contract of marriage, presumably for disposition of property in the event of death or separation after their June third wedding.

Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the couple, said the contract was signed yesterday under British law, but that its provisions would not be disclosed.

Rogers added his personal opinion that members of the royal family were absorbing themselves from the duke's marriage because "the king (George VI) was advised not to send anyone."

The British government has consented that the wedding should be a private ceremony, without royal representation.

Although details of the marriage contract were not known, it was disclosed last night that it would be possible for the British royal family by contract to prevent Mrs. Warfield from obtaining any of the duke's heritage in the event of separation.

French marriage contracts usually provide that husband and wife each keep whatever they bring to the union and that property accruing after marriage be left for settlement, in the event of separation.

Soon after the wedding the duke

BATTLE FOR BAN ON ALL MINING IS THREATENED

Major Source of Trouble On Grave Creek Is Claim — Return of Commercial Fishing Gaining Favor

GRANTS PASS, May 19.—(AP)—After an inspection trip along Grave, Wolf and Coyote creeks and Rogue river, a Curry county delegation late yesterday visited Grants Pass and declared they are ready for legal action to halt Josephine county mining which places mud in Rogue river even to the extent of stopping all mining at all seasons of the year.

They fastened the greater share of blame on mines along Grave creek.

County Judge A. H. Boice and State Representative Roy E. Carter, here with W. E. Bullard, W. D. Sibley and Jay Moltzer, "served notice on Josephine county" in a newspaper office call that they or others intended to: 1. Have their district attorney file an injunction suit to stop the mud.

CLASSIFIED RATES WILL ENABLE ALL TO BOOST COUNTY

An extensive campaign to increase the membership of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce was under way today as letters were prepared for mailing to 750 prospective members throughout the county.

As a prelude to the drive, memberships have been reclassified with varying basic dues so that every prospective member may become actively associated with the chamber at a rate designed to fit his purse, it was disclosed by Olen Arnsperger, president.

A big signboard has been erected in front of the chamber and names of the new members will be painted thereon as they join the organization.

Primary aim of the campaign is to enlarge the membership and to increase income so that the chamber may continue its comprehensive program designed to build up the entire county, Mr. Arnsperger said.

"Competition among cities is much keener than among private enterprises and if we are to continue our broad program of worthy activities we must have greater income," Mr. Arnsperger stated. "As it is now we are trying to compete with cities that have larger and much better financed chambers of commerce than we have."
