AUXILIARY READY FOR POPPY SALE

Final plans were perfected today by the American Legion Auxiliary for the annual sale of Memorial Poppies Friday and Saturday. Headquarters for the workers will be at the Allen hotel.

Entire proceeds of the poppy sale will go to rehabilitation of World War veterans and welfare work among their children. A typographical error yesterday made it appear only 10 percent of the funds went for such work.

The following poem by Fenna Downey, was submitted by Mrs. Cole Holmes, Auxiliary publicity representative, in connection with the sale.

Poppies
Tiny red blossoms fragile and sweet
Bloom for a day on highway and street.
In memory of those who've passed on to rest
In honor of those who still do their best.

These are the flowers that loving hands make,
Working and toiling for sweet memories sake,
Into the petals of bright crimson hue
Are woven the past and the present, anew.

They are but paper these poppies so red,
Made by a veteran in a narrow white bed,
Someone's who's fighting each day of his life,
God grant him courage in his struggle and strife.

Only red paper poppies, yet how much they tell
Of unselfish service and duty done well,
Tiny bright flowers, made by hand it is true,
That bloom for one day in memory, anew.

$120 CARNIVAL LOSS REPORTED TO POLICE

A wheel build-up game that wasn't played for fun almost cost G. W. Wilson, a collector for a vacuum cleaner company, the sum of $120 last night at a carnival now appearing in Medford, according to city police.

Wilson, police said, allegedly lost the money to the carnival, and not liking the looks of the things, reported the loss to local authorities.

The carnival manager, police reported, said that he would "take care" of Wilson.
