HONEST TOIL HELD UP AS TRAIT OF VIRTUE BY MORMON OFFICIALS

Honest toil for a livelihood was emphasized as a primary virtue in a lecture given in Odd Fellows hall Wednesday evening by Charles A. Callis, elder of the Mormon church and a member of the Council of Twelve, with headquarters in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Callis is making a tour of the Pacific northwest area in company with Preston Nibley, president of the northwestern states mission.

Men and women should work honestly for all they receive, Mr. Callis told his audience, declaring that "the who toils for a living is greater in the sight of God than the who never toils."

Speaking against liquor and tobacco, Mr. Callis said: "The lives of this world are being prolonged by scientists but we destroy all they do by the use of such drugs."

Mr. Callis stressed the need of a happy home and asserted that "we should not live for ourselves alone, but for all those around us."

hold-up with an old model pistol, two months ago of Frank Cronin, operator of a Skippy service station. The pair robbed Cronin of $12, afterward returning him half of it. They were arrested a short time later by the Ashland city police.

While in the county jail, Parker was a model prisoner, and aroused sympathy by claiming to be an orphan whose father and mother had been killed in an auto accident in the middle west, leaving him to shift for himself since he was 15 years old. Testator appeared as a volunteer benefactor. The court, upon recommendation of the district attorney, granted Testator's request to give Parker a home, and paroled the youth to him, slightly more than a month ago.

Was Hard Worker

Testator told the authorities that Parker during his stay with him, had been an exemplary youth, working hard, conducting himself in a commendable manner, and highly appreciative of the testator's kindness. The family was shocked by the sudden change in him.

Hasb, according to the authorities, has a police record, and was arrested two months ago, for a series of robberies in Ashland. He was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. His charge was reduced because of his youth. With fifteen days remaining to serve, Hasb, while a trusty left. After a three-day chase he was caught, and a sentence for burglary meted him last Monday, shortly afterward he staged his second flight.

Rosater, a Medford youth, described by the city police as a "bad one," was caught a month ago in the act of attempting to rob Brown's. He had hid in the store before it was locked up, and was found by city police.

Elected last night to the executive board of the Medford Softball association were Sam Jennings, Sam Colton and Fred Lennard. Association officers will be elected later and a set of rules and by-laws drawn up.

The installation of lights, to be made with no cost to the taxpayers, is the start of a complete lighted recreation center for the youth of Medford. In addition to soft ball, night basketball, track meets and other activities will be held under the stars. The field will also be available for night football and will be equipped with the finest lighting system in the state, costing in the neighborhood of $2000, according to plans.

Official opening of the softball league will take place early in June, with all teams entered taking part in the gala affair. Competent umpires will be obtained for all games. Jennings said. Comfortable grandstand seats will be available for all night spectators, and a public address system will be used to acquaint spectators with players on all teams, the plans provide.

MEDFORD SHOOTERS WILL SPREAD WORD OF COMING TOURNEY

Southern Oregon scatter gunners will invade Klamath Falls Sunday to attend a registered trap-shoot and advertise the big two-day Medford handicap and Mail Tribune annual shoot to be held on the local club grounds at the north end of the airport Saturday and Sunday, May 29 and 30.

Fifteen or more shooters from Medford are expected to make the trip to Klamath Falls Sunday morning, returning late Sunday afternoon. Shooters not having transportation can make the necessary arrangements with William Young at Young's service shop.

The Klamath shoot and the Medford two-day event will be the last tournaments for the shooters to warm up their guns for the annual four-day state shoot which will be held at Salem this year, June 10 to 13.

The first reservations for the Medford shoot were received by the local club this morning.
