Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, May 26.—(AP)—Traders suffering an early spell of vacation inertia today refused to lift a hand as shares drifted a little lower.

Throughout the session trading was thin, with the stock ticker halting frequently. Financial observers said the day's business news provided few pegs on which to hang aggressive transactions either way.

Typical of the street's attitude was the divided advice of brokers. Some said stock should be bought on dips, others recommended sales on rallies.

Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow:

AUTO RAGERS EYE RAIN PREDICTION

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26.—(AP)—More than a score of speed merchants cast a hopeful eye at the weather man today and turned their powerful motors for the dizzy race necessary for the remaining 15 positions in the 500-mile race here May 31.

Pitco was a bit jittery over a pessimistic forecast, "unsettled with probably local thundershowers."

Yet to dash the 25-mile test were such sterling drivers as Jimmy Snyder, Harry MacQuinn, Kelly Pettillo, Babe Stapp, Rex Mays and Shorty Cantlon.

The roster of "the champion 100-mile-an-hour club"—those who have driven the 500-mile marathon at 100 miles an hour or more—bore four additional names today. The new members, who earned the honor by performances in the 1936 race, included Ted Horn of Los Angeles, George Barringer of Wichita Falls, Tex., Zeke Meyers of Germantown, Pa., and the late Ray Pixley of Fullerton, Cal. killed at Roby, Ind., soon after he finished sixth.

REESE CREEK, May 25.—(Sp.)—American Union Sunday school met in regular session May 23 with a good attendance.

Then they visited the Normal school building, inspected the art department, gym and thence to the Lincoln school and enjoyed their own ball game.

Eulis M. Minter and the primary grade children held a most enjoyable program and picnic at the school house under the massive oak trees.

Following this, home and school circle held the final meeting until the new school year. Galaxy of Stars in Thursday Show

The old adage about "never the twain shall meet" takes a terrible beating in the new musical show, "Wake Up and Live," opening tomorrow for a three-day run at the New Criterion theater. For it unites for the first time those two feuds of the air-waves, Ben Bernie and Walter Winchell, with Alice Faye and Patsy Kelly also featured in the large cast that includes Ned Sparks, Jack

Haley, Grace Bradley and Walter Catlett.

With Bernie bounding a flipper, Winchell cracking wise the old-time feud continues on the screen, but in addition there are nine new song numbers, snappy dance routines, scores of pretty girls, and a fast-moving story that is "right down the alley" for the fast gags and witty repartee with which the show abounds.

TYPEWRITER STOLEN FROM HAROLD RYGG

A Royal portable typewriter valued at $49.50 was stolen from the home of Harold Rygg, 321 North Grape street, sometime yesterday morning according to a city police report.

Rygg told authorities that when he left the house for work early in the morning the typewriter was on a table, and that when he returned at noon it was gone. Key to the front door, Rygg reported, was kept above the door, and when he returned home it was lying on the floor near the door, which was unlocked.

Although nothing else was taken, Rygg told city police his boy's room appeared as if someone had gone through it.

City police are investigating.
