

FACTS ON PARKS POUR FROM OFFICE HEADED BY LADY

Isabelle Story And Staff Of 14 Tell What To Do
And See In Playgrounds Forming National Setup.

By SIGRID ARNE
(A. P. Feature Service Writer, WASHINGTON. — Isabelle Story, one of the few women who head divisions in the interior department, is the person who tells millions of Americans every year where to vacation in the national parks—and where to fry their eggs once they get there.
Last year 10,000,000 persons avorted in the parks.
But not Miss Story. She hasn't had a vacation in years. She's never made a campfire.
She gets into the parks, of course.
She has seen them all. But she goes through them with her notebook open much like a busy grocer looking over his window in the morning.
Job Grew Like Topsy.

She came to government service in 1916, a blue-eyed youngster from Chicago, with blonde, curly hair about her ears. She was somebody's secretary. Then too many queries came in about the parks and somebody else said, "Let Miss Story answer them." She did, and now she has a suite of six offices, and a staff of 14.

She can tell where to find a picnic ground near a Spanish mission in Arizona; where to register at an inexpensive hotel in the Rockies; and how to get smelts to fry in New England.

Gets Lowdown.
These facts pour out from Miss Story's office in booklets, magazine articles, posters for railway stations, radio speeches.
To gather her information, Miss Story has visited all the parks, except Hawaii and Alaska. And she hopes to get to them, too. Some times the inspection trips are a bit rough and ready. She had to learn horsemanship riding, for instance, but did it pretty much the way she took her job. Just got on the horse and rode.

She has found, too, that Indian sign language comes instinctively to anyone who needs it badly. The time her car bogged down in southern Utah, there wasn't a living creature in sight. After three hours an ancient Indian came by, but he couldn't understand English, Spanish, or any of the half dozen Indian dialects Miss Story knows. So she made her hands go like a man riding horseback.

Monument to Her.
The Indian's face lit up. Two hours later he returned with two mules and three grandsons. They soon had Miss Story's car out of the muddle.

In Grand Canyon there's a monument to Miss Story. He's four-legged, has a long, smooth tail and two long ears. His name is "Isabelle." The park rangers named him for her. They wrote in about him recently, saying, "Isabelle has developed a real sweet disposition just like yours."

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 millions of tiny tubes or cilia which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
Frequent or easy passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and es-ergy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness about the eyes, face and feet, and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give you relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
