

AUTO THIEF, WHO SLEW G-MAN, NOW RESIGNED TO HANG

Oklahoma Youth Caught by Arizona Chief—Has Been in Jail Often for Car Theft

GALLUP, N. M., June 2.—(P)—Guy Osborne, 24-year-old Oklahoma auto thief, placed the rickety old McKinley county jail today, held for the slaying of Truett E. Rowe, young El Paso, Tex., agent of the department of justice.

Osborne was resigned to his fate after capture by a cowboy police chief. "I guess it's all up with me," he said when told Rowe had died.

Then, turning to Police Chief Kelsey Presley, whose gun missed fire as he attempted to halt Osborne's flight yesterday, he said: "I wish your gun had fired."

Osborne was captured last night a few hours after Rowe was shot in the home of the prisoner's brother, J. W. Osborne, rancher of the Page community, 20 miles south of here.

Rowe and Presley went to the ranch home to arrest Osborne on a charge of automobile theft. Presley remained in the living room of the home with other members of the family, while Rowe accompanied Osborne into a bedroom.

Presley said Osborne told him Rowe moved to take a gun from Osborne's belt and Osborne fired, the bullet striking the agent in the right side. The slaying climaxed Osborne's career as an automobile thief.

He served two five-year terms in Oklahoma state penitentiary for auto thefts and was released December 13, 1936. At the time of his arrest he was wanted in Eufaula, Okla., and Fort Smith, Ark., on like charges. In 1930, he served five months in Arizona for violation of the Dyer act.

Osborne and two other prisoners escaped from the Eufaula jail last April. Two weeks ago he came to New Mexico with his wife.

Rowe, about 30, had been in the department of justice since March 27. He was transferred to El Paso from San Antonio. His wife survives.

PLAN MASS MEETS BY LABOR FORCES TO TELL PUBLIC

PORTLAND, June 2.—(P)—Labor leaders discussed today the possibility of holding a mass meeting here next week at which opposing forces of the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization can present their arguments to the public.

It was planned to have as speakers William Hutcheson, general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters of America, a bitter opponent of the C. I. O., and John Brophy, C. I. O. director and aide to John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O.

Hutcheson was expected to arrive today from Seattle, while Brophy and Harry Bridges, coast head of the International Longshoremen's association, were en route here from Washington, D. C.

Harold Fritchett, Vancouver, B. C., president of the Federation of Woodworkers, arrived yesterday, but declined to comment on whether the woodworkers would affiliate with the C. I. O. at their convention, which opens here Monday.

JUSTICE'S PRISON SENTENCE TESTED

SALEM, June 2.—(P)—Habeas corpus proceedings attacking the authority of Justice of the Peace H. Overton of Woodburn to sentence prisoners to the penitentiary, then subsequently committing prisoners to the county jail when denied admittance to the penitentiary, were instituted in the circuit court here.

The case involves Howard E. Cook and Leroy Randall, youths who pleaded guilty before Overton on possession of a stolen automobile. When Overton sentenced them to the penitentiary Warden James Lewis refused to take them, holding that a justice had no such authority. Overton then had them committed to the county jail pending a decision.

Attorney for Cook started the proceedings and the hearing will be held before Judge L. H. McMahan tomorrow.

MERCURY HITS 94, HOTTEST OF YEAR

Medford residents shed coats and looked for cool spots yesterday as the mercury climbed to 94 degrees, hottest day of the year by seven degrees. Previous high was 87, recorded on several days. Minimum yesterday was 52 degrees.

Temperatures were expected to continue in the higher brackets. Official forecast this morning was: Fair tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Last year's warmest day by this date was 97 degrees, registered on May 25.
