DUKE OF WINDSOR AND WALLY UNITED

News Behind The News

 Strength.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—War men were less excited about the Russo-German bomb-tossing in Spain than were the fluttery diplomats. Fighting men felt little prospect of the situation getting out of hand, for reasons which sound convincing.

Hitler and Mussolini, in the first place, are merely the barkers in their respective circuses. Behind them, in the inside tent, are the general staffs. No military man can believe the German and Italian general staffs would risk a major conflict at this time, unless they wish to commit national suicide.

Their known deficiencies have been widely advertised, but you can get a bird's-eye picture of the whole situation by considering one simple item. Wars cannot be conducted without iron. Ships, airplanes, tanks and men under arms count much in the first onrush. But wars are not won in the first clash, and conflicts cannot be sustained without iron.

Latest available official figures (1935) show the relative strength of the nations in iron production (millions of tons):

France, 32.
 Germany, 12.
 Russia, 10.
 Britain, 7.
 Japan, 2.
 Italy, 0.6.

Note—Some changes have occurred since 1935, notably the acceleration in Britain and Russia, but Italy has not improved and the relative standing is about the same.

Face.

No answer that you can find for either Germany, Italy or Russia being involved in the Spanish fighting makes any real sense. The only excuse for their interest in Spain is purely political and not economic or reasonably purposeful.

To understand it fully, you must recollect that the dictatorships developed because their nations were discredited with the division of the bones after the 1914 dog-fight. Their idea is to restore their nations to a diplomatic and economic position in the world—without fighting. They thrive on agitation, but not on war.

So far, they have done fairly well on the political side, but very little on the economic side (except, of course, within their own borders). Neither Germany nor Italy has any assets which would enable it to gain the approval of the SEC for a bond issue. They are merely maintaining the best face possible to cover their international poverty, making the best of their bad situation.

Their cause in Spain is purely political face-saving and face-maintaining. And if they do not intend to do it without fighting a general war, they are a lot crazier than most authorities here believe.

What Germany and Italy really

GAYETY, DIGNITY MARK PLIGHTING OF ROYAL TROTH

Former King Radiant As Double Ceremony Performed at Love Idyll of Century—Bride Charming

By JOHN LLOYD.

CHATEAU DE CANDE, MONTS. France, June 3.—(AP)—The radiant Duke of Windsor took Wallis Warfield as his bride and duchess today in two serene and dignified marriage ceremonies.

Just 25 weeks ago today he gave up his crown of England and empire because she could not be his queen.

"I will," the duke, supremely happy, answered in a firm, loud voice to the Anglican poor man's parson who gave him the unanctioned blessing of the Church of England.

As far as I could see neither the duke nor anyone else kissed the bride.

He raised his voice so high in his eagerness to take the "woman I love" as his wife that he startled the 34 guests in the flower-banked music room of this old chateau.

After him, his blue-eyed lady answered "I will." Her voice was just as firm as Edward's, but more husky. By mutual consent the two will be on their way to their "haunted" honeymoon castle of Wassierleoburg, near Neotest, Austria, with 226 pieces of luggage.

The American-born Duchess of Windsor, a member of the British royal family, although by royal decree she must not style herself "her royal highness," was clad in light "Wallis blue"—her husband's favorite shade—from head to foot.

Her blue costume was complemented by sparkling sapphire bracelets and earrings. From her small straw hat stemmed blue and pink feathers, and she carried a matching bag.

The duke and duchess led their guests back to the terrace. There, a buffet wedding breakfast had been spread. The Duke Thanks All.

Edward made a short speech, thanking "all of you people for coming on this occasion so important for us."

The breakfast was a friendly, informal gathering of those who had

President's Message Seeks Seven "Little TVA's"

When Lost In Hills Whistle 3 Times; Give Smoke Signals

PORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—(AP)—The U. S. forest service today advised persons who become lost in forests or mountains to give three quickly-repeated whistles or three smoke signals.

It said rangers would recognize the signals as standard distress calls, but advised against using the signals except when outside assistance is required.

At night, a person may flash a light three times, or build three small fires in a row.

COLUMBIA RIVER BASIN INCLUDED IN NEW PROGRAM

Bills Introduced for 'Authorities' for Federal Power and Flood and Drouth Control.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to set up seven "regional authorities" to administer federal power projects and to plan safeguards against floods, droughts and dust storms.

A comprehensive program for the seven "little TVA's" was outlined in a special message.

It is said the hydro-electric projects which have been or may be undertaken were part of a "multiple purpose watershed development" designed not only to guard against nature's calamities but to prevent their occurrence.

Last Major Plan

"The water-power resources of the nation must be protected from private monopoly and used for the benefit of the people," the president said in what was expected to be his last major legislative recommendation for this session.

Bills were ready for introduction in both houses to carry out his suggestions.

The seven regional authorities or agencies would plan and in some cases administer projects in the following areas:

1. Atlantic seaboard.
2. Great Lakes and Ohio valley.
3. Tennessee and Cumberland rivers drainage basin.
4. Missouri and Red river of the north drainage basins.
5. Arkansas, Red and Rio Grande drainage basins.
6. Colorado and rivers flowing into the Pacific south of the California-Oregon line.
7. Columbia river basin.

The president said he would leave undisturbed the existing Mississippi river commission because it was "well equipped to handle the problem immediately attending the channel of that great river."

Economy Aided

Declaring the proposal was in the "interest of economy and the prevention of overlapping or one-sided developments," Mr. Roosevelt said it would leave congress free to determine what projects should be undertaken within the limits of annual budgets and national public works planning policies.

"If for example," he said, "the congress could have had before it at this session a complete picture of immediate and long-term needs I think its task in providing for flood prevention and drought emergencies would have been an easier one."

After saying he had studied the subject intensively the almost a year and had discussed it with many senators and representatives, he added:

"My recommendations in this message fall into the same category as my former recommendations relating to the reorganization of the executive branch of the government.

"I hope, therefore, that both of these important matters may have your attention in this session."

The reorganization program would make permanent the national resources board, which would coordinate the development of regional planning. Cooperation and a share in the financing of many of the projects by states and localities would be expected, the president said, because "improvements in our national heritage frequently confer special benefits" on regions immediately affected.

Excepting the Tennessee valley, Columbia valley and Mississippi agencies, the president said the work of the other regional authorities—at least in their early years—would consist chiefly in developing "integrated plans to conserve and safeguard the prudent use of water, water-power, soils, forests and other resources of the areas entrusted to their charge."

Annual Check Proposed

Congress would check and revise projected programs annually in the light of budgetary considerations after they were coordinated by the national planning board.

ROPER WARNS OF DEPRESSION DUE TO ARMS BUYING

War Preparations Abroad Let-Down Feared — National Debt at New Peak

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP) Secretary Roper warned today against the possibility of a depression "resulting from an abrupt let-down following excessive buying for armament purposes."

It was the first official expression of concern over potential effects of foreign rearmament on American business.

The commerce department head said the chief danger to business safety "is the assumption to be held astray in business planning by temporary orders or inflationary production schedules."

He described "an accelerated demand incident to war preparations" as an abnormality in trade.

Roper forecast moderately sustained business activity through the summer unless unforeseen difficulties or prolonged labor disturbances develop.

Roper noted, however, that a swift business spurt accompanied heavy emergency spending by the government and a general return of confidence. He said this could not continue indefinitely.

Treasury Bonds Offer

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP) Secretary Morgenthau said today he would offer $800,000,000 of notes Monday to meet a $300,000,000 maturity and put new cash in the treasury's working balance.

The $300,000,000 in discount bills falls due June 15.

With the remaining $500,000,000 allotted to treasury cash, the national debt will climb to about $35,700,000,000 a new all-time peak.

For several weeks, the treasury's working balance has been around $500,000,000. The new borrowing will bring it to around $1,000,000,000.

In the past, Morgenthau has said he hopes to keep this latter sum in the cash balance because of "unsettled conditions" abroad.

He declined at an early morning press conference today to say what interest rate the note offering Monday will bear, or term of the notes.

DIZ DEAN DENIES EVERYTHING, BUT REFUSES APOLOGY

Disciplined Cardinal Acc Obdurate at Frick Meeting—Impugned Umpires

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean today refused to sign any statement of apology to the National league for his actions on and off the field, and remains under indefinite suspension.

Disciplined yesterday by Ford Frick, league president, for conduct detrimental to the best interests of baseball, the famed right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, together with Manager Frank Frisch, held a two-hour conference with Frick today.

Dean issued a flat denial that he ever had made statements attributed to him, which reflected upon the integrity of the National league's officers and the umpires. He declined, however, to sign any statements refuting them.

Accordingly, Frick announced his suspension would continue indefinitely.

Frick issued this formal statement at the conclusion of the conference: "At a conference this morning between Manager Frank Frisch, Secretary Clarence P. Lloyd and Player Dean of the St. Louis club and the president of the National league, all statements, purported to have been made by Mr. Dean and quoted in the press, reflecting upon the integrity and honesty of the National league officers and umpires, were discussed thoroughly.

"Mr. Dean made a blanket denial of ever having made any of the statements, and said he had not at any time made such statements to the press.

"He refused, however, to sign a public statement refuting the alleged remarks, or any other statement that he was quoted as. As a result, it is the ruling of the National league office that Player Dean remain under indefinite suspension."

TRAIL STOCKMAN PLEAD GUILTY TO LIVESTOCK THEFT

L. J. Kelly, Trail stockman, pleaded guilty this morning to the larceny of livestock, having been indicted several times ago for the theft of two calves whose owner, the indictment said, was unknown. Passing of sentence was deferred for six months by Judge Norton.

Kelly surrendered voluntarily this morning. The alleged theft was somewhat involved and concerned the picking up of strays, it was indicated.

Nelson E. Cannon, 23, of 1122 Sunset avenue pleaded not guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter when arraigned before Judge H. D. Norton in circuit court this morning.

Judge Norton said he would appoint an attorney to defend Cannon. Date of trial would be set next Monday, it was indicated.

Cannon was indicted last week. He was the driver of the car which struck Francis L. Heryford, 16, Medford high school student on the night of April 29. Heryford was riding a bicycle on North Riverside avenue. He died a few hours later. Cannon has been in jail, bail having been set at $1,000.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR RUM DRIVING

Everett R. Keagle, 44, of Central Point was found guilty by a jury in justice of the peace court this afternoon of driving a truck while he was intoxicated. The jury was out less than five minutes.

Keagle was fined $150 and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail by Judge William R. Coleman. His license will automatically be revoked for a year. It was his second offense, records showed, he having pleaded guilty on the same charge in Grants Pass in March, 1934.

Keagle was arrested last Saturday night by state police in Medford after he had assertedly forced several cars off the road between Central Point and this city. Archie Pierce filed the complaint and the jury recommended that he be commended for his good citizenship. C. B. Butterfield was jury foreman.

Keagle was represented by Attorney Victor A. Tengvald, Assistant District Attorney George W. Nelson prosecuted.

BRITISH FAMILY MAN'S VOICE OVER AND GOVERNMENT PHONE ARE VERY QUIET

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—Britain's government, which would not have Wallis Warfield as the empress's queen, maintained official silence today on the American-born woman's marriage to former King Edward VIII at Monts, France.

"Has the government already decided to send or are they considering sending a message of congratulations to Windsor on his wedding," demanded the outspoken laborite, J. McGovern, in commons.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain made no answer.

Chamberlain last week succeeded Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, the man who is credited with having put George VI on the throne as successor to the abdicated Edward.

The empire that former King Edward forsok read avidly of the wedding he preferred to a crown.

London newspapers broke their recent reticence about the Duke of Windsor and gave full attention to the Chateau de Candé ceremonies that united him in marriage with Wallis Warfield.

Under full length portraits of the duke and his new duchess in their wedding attire, the press gave the British public front page details of the nuptials.

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—Members of the British royal family stayed at home, at least officially, today.

Neither King George VI nor any other member of the circle had any scheduled public appearances on the day of the Windsor's wedding to Wallis Warfield.

Scion of Pioneer Southern California Family, Jealous Shoots Wife, Then Self

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(AP)—Jealousy, inflamed by the sound of a man's voice on the telephone as Mrs. Edith Westbrook listened, caused Joseph C. Duarte to fatally wound her and then commit suicide, Detective Lieutenant Eddie Romero reported.

Duarte, 35, scion of a pioneer southern California family, shot Mrs. Westbrook, former wife of Thomas A. Westbrook of Spokane, Wash., at her home. Her 18-year-old daughter Virginia told police this story:

"The telephone rang and mother answered. It was a young man, a friend of mother's, asking if we knew where his mother was. Duarte went into another room, got a pistol shot mother in the right breast. She staggered and fell on the bed. Then he shot her again, through the head.

"I tried to get to pistol away from him, but he pushed me away. He put the pistol to his head and fired."

Joseph Lister Zamra, 19, of 19 Crater Lake avenue, was bound over to the Josephine county grand jury under $1000 bail today following his plea of guilty in justice court in Grants Pass to a charge of hit and run driving. Bail was not immediately furnished.

The Medford youth, according to state police, drove the car which struck Catherine Smith, a Grants Pass high school senior, who was riding a bicycle at an intersection near the Josephine county courthouse shortly before noon yesterday. Miss Smith received bruises and lacerations.

State police arrested Zamra at Central avenue and Sixth street about 5:30 p. m. yesterday following a call from Grants Pass authorities giving the description of the car a tan 1930 Ford coach.

Zamra was returned to Grants Pass this morning by state police.

SKIPWORTH HOLDS OREGON JOBLESS AID LAW VALID

SALEM, June 3.—(AP)—The opinion of the supreme court of the United States in upholding the constitutionality of the unemployment insurance laws of Alabama establishes the same status for the Oregon law. Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth held in an opinion rendered in the case of the Finnic Packing company and others of Medford.

The decree of Judge Skipworth, received today by the state commission was the second one handed down by the Eugene judge who tried the case on two points of law. Plaintiffs held they were not subject to payment claiming they were engaged in agricultural work and therefore exempt.

Previously, Skipworth held they were not exempt because the firm was engaged in a packing industry. The opinion today settled the second point—that of the constitutionality of the state law.

The opinion will affect all packing companies operating similarly in Oregon. Attorney Ralph E. Campbell of the commission stated.

"The decision in the Alabama case, in my opinion, decides every constitutional question involved in the instant case," Skipworth stated. "I therefore, hold that the plaintiffs are not exempt as agriculturists and second, that the Oregon statute is not unconstitutional."
