Dedication New Prospect Church on Next Sunday

The new church of the Nazarene in Prospect will be dedicated at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The day's services will begin with Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The school session will be followed by a farewell sermon by Rev. James Dolie, who has resigned as pastor. At 7:30 p. m. the new pastor, the Rev. A. B. Hanan, will give his first sermon.

This is the first church that Prospect has had. While it was established by the Nazarene organization, it is intended to serve the community regardless of denomination. The first baptist service ever to be held for a Prospect high school graduating class took place in the new church on May 23.

Building of the church resulted from evangelistic services held last August. The church was organized with 24 charter members. Actual construction was started in September. It is on the south side of Crater Lake highway at the entrance to Prospect.
