

HARTLEY, PAVING CONTRACTOR HERE PASSES SUDDENLY

End Comes At Home Of Daughter In Portland— Built Local Roads And Streets.

Charles A. Hartley, prominent Medford paving contractor, died suddenly at the home of his daughter in Portland at 11 a. m. Friday, friends here were informed yesterday. Funeral arrangements are to be made later.

Although details are not known, it is believed his death was entirely unexpected. His wife, Elizabeth Hartley, received a telegram Friday morning informing her of Mr. Hartley's illness, and left for the north with their son Jack, immediately but they were unable to reach the city before he passed away.

Charles Hartley is survived by his wife, son Jack, of this city; a married daughter and two grandchildren of Portland, and another son, Charles, Jr., of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mr. Hartley had left earlier in the week for Portland, planning to bring his daughter and her children back to Medford for a visit.

The well-known contractor did numerous paving and repair jobs for the city of Medford and was also a successful bidder for several state jobs in southern Oregon, including the widening and resurfacing of the Pacific highway between Medford and Talent a few years ago. The family has resided in Medford for many years and is well known in the valley. His death will come as a shock to scores of friends and business acquaintances in the valley.

It is believed the body will be brought back to Medford for burial although no definite information was available yesterday. Mr. Hartley was a member of the Catholic church.

MAN FREED HERE GIVEN 20 YEARS

Word was received in Medford yesterday that Thomas Joseph Adams, 40, formerly a jeweler mechanic here, had pled guilty to a charge of rape involving a 14-year-old girl in Tacoma, Wash., and had been sentenced to 20 years in the Washington state penitentiary.

Joe Cave, city policeman, had previously been subpoenaed to the Washington city to show Adams' record here, but was informed in a telegram yesterday that his presence would not be necessary.

Adams, according to records, was on trial in Medford last July on the same charge, the case being dismissed when the complaining witness, a 15-year-old girl, failed to show up.

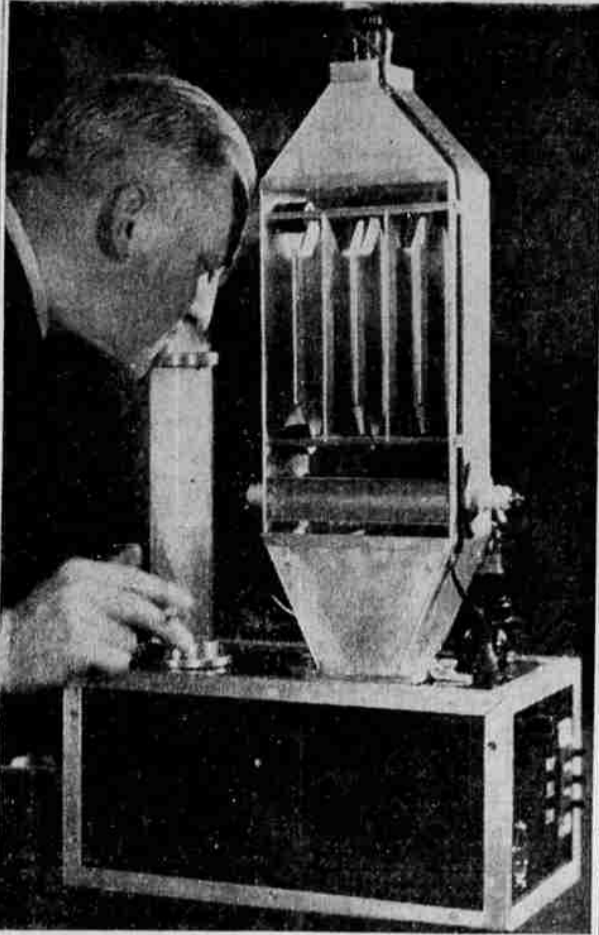

LOCAL DRIVER IS GIVEN JAIL TERM

Joseph Zamra of Medford was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Josephine county jail by Judge H. D. Norton of the circuit court today when he appeared on waiver of grand jury indictment and pleaded guilty to a charge of hit-and-run driving. His driver's license was automatically revoked.

Zamra admitted he drove a car last Wednesday which knocked Miss Catherine Smith of this city off her bicycle, causing severe bruises and lacerations, and drove on.

Lecture On Electricity Monday

Dr. Phillip Thomas, research engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and a nationally known speaker and entertainer will give a demonstration lecture at the K.P. hall, 5th and Grape streets, Monday, June 7, at 8 p. m. Dr. Thomas will bring with him elaborate equipment for demonstrating the latest wonders of electrical research. Included in this demonstration are electric air filters, which show how particles suspended in the air may be electrically charged and made to cling to a magnetized plate. Air thus cleared is almost 100 percent pure, even cigarette smoke is dissipated.

Dr. Thomas states, "electrons in action are more fascinating than magic." Some of his demonstrations include the stopping of high velocity projectiles in mid flight; a magnet which easily lifts 20 times its own weight; burglar protection by invisible infrared rays; control of huge generators by small vacuum tubes.

Completely cleaning air of dirt and bacteria electrically. Drops of water made to stand still in mid-air, and many other demonstrations with a Breath Relay, the stroboscope, Synchronizing Relay, and the Ignitron Gun.

Dr. Thomas' lecture has been created to show how modern engineering has been put to use for mankind's benefit, some of the important discoveries made through research activities. This is the same lecture and demonstration that Dr. Thomas has given in most of the large cities in the country. The lecture is free and everyone interested in the advance of modern electrical science is invited.

DR. JOHNSON WILL OPEN OFFICE HERE

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Dodson and family left here yesterday for Colorado, where they will make their home.

Dr. Dodson has practiced medicine here for the past six or seven years. He is going to Colorado for his health. His practice and offices in the Phipps building at 225 East Main street have been taken over by Dr. A. N. Johnson.

Dr. Johnson served as acting health officer of Jackson county from August, 1935, to May, 1936. From here he went to Eugene to become Lane county health officer, a post he resigned to go into private practice in Crescent City, Calif. His Crescent City offices were destroyed by fire after he had been there about four months.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson and family will occupy the Dodson residence at 815 Taylor street which they have leased.

VAN HOEVENBERG ROSE SWEEPSTAKE WINNER AT SHOW

'Angeles Pernet,' Queen Of Valley Roses — Other Prize Winners Listed.

An Angeles Pernet was queen of the valley crowded the court house Friday and Saturday as the show drew to a close at 9 o'clock. Today flowers will be traveling to churches and hospitals to give more pleasure to admirers, for all persons wishing them are requested to call at the court house. Everyone exhibiting is also asked to call at the court house between 8 and 10 o'clock this morning for containers.

The committees arranging the show issued a statement last night thanking all persons who assisted in any way in making it a success. Miss Jane Snedcor, president, added that committees were more than pleased with the high standard of exhibits and arrangements, "raised to a point high above that of any previous show."

Judging of this year's show was done according to the rules of the national society, some of the valley's most prominent gardeners serving as judges.

Particularly interesting to many visitors yesterday were the Oriental poppies entered by Miss Ann Livingston, who has the greatest variety of that flower in the valley. They took first prize in that division.

FIRE HAZARDS IN AREA HEIGHTENED BY LOW HUMIDITY

An extremely low humidity reading of 10 per cent at 5 p. m. yesterday caused H. C. Obye, assistant supervisor of Rogue River national forest, to warn visitors to forest areas of a serious fire hazard.

Humidity readings have been falling steadily for the past four days, Obye pointed out, with a concomitant increase in danger of forest fire. Yesterday's reading is very unusual for the valley, particularly during June, weather officials state.

Supervisor Obye reported that a few small slashing fires, started with official permits, had gotten out of control in the forest in the past two days but had been extinguished after forest service aid had been called in.

It was pointed out that the fine covering of needles, bark, grass, etc., on the forest floor dries out almost as quickly as the air and therefore becomes readily inflammable. The condition is especially so in lower sections of the valley, Obye said.

Regular heavy summer fire guard is not scheduled to go into the forest until the middle of next week, following a fire guard conference to be held here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Obye said. All guards will be greatly increased after the conference, he added.

All visitors to forest areas were warned to be particularly careful of all possible sources of fire. Fair weather was predicted for Sunday and Monday, with temperatures expected to drop today. Saturday's maximum was 92 degrees and minimum 52.
