Takes Prisoners North—Paul Hanlin, United States deputy marshal left last night for Portland with 11 prisoners whose cases will be investigated by the federal grand jury. Four of the prisoners were brought by Mr. Hanlin to the Jackson county jail Saturday night from Klamath Falls. They were Duza Quallo, 36, and Gus Peterson, 55, both charged with selling liquor to Indians, and Adcadia Guardia, 30, a Mexican charged with violation of the Mann act, and Florence Sauceto, 19, held as a material witness. The Sauceto girl had a 15-months-old baby with her. The other prisoners were brought from Klamath Falls earlier in the week.

Enlist In Navy—Completion of United States navy enlistments for June was announced today by Ernest M. West, recruiting officer here. Those selected for service were John L. Mitchell, son of Mrs. Martha Mitchell of Jacksonville; Fred C. Culpepper, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Culpepper of Grants Pass; and Walter Lytkowski, enrolles at the Klamath CCC camp whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio. The youths were accepted for enlistment here. They passed their final examinations in Portland on June 16 and were transferred to San Diego, Calif., for three months of preliminary training. Applications to fill new quotas are now being received by Mr. West at his office in the Medford federal building.

BOMBER OVER THE TOP. Droning over a carpet of clouds and the rugged crags of Mount Rainier, 14,363 feet above sea level, this picture shows the U. S. army's new "flying fortress," possibly the largest and most powerful of war aircraft in the world. It was being tested at high altitudes.

WAR'S DESOLATION. Centuries of tradition, of culture and time-seasoned beauty are crumbling ruins at Guernica, Spain, ancient capital of the Basques. Nearly every building bears evidence of bombs and bloodshed

Loretta Young Has Lead Romantic Hit On Craterian Bill

Three popular screen favorites, Loretta Young, Tyrone Power and Adolphe Menjou, combine forces in "Cafe Metropole", which opened yesterday at the New Craterian theatre, for a wholly entertaining 90 minutes of screen fare.

The lively course of "Cafe Metropole" begins, properly enough, in the swank spot of that name, where Adolphe Menjou, suave and sophisticated, presides deftly over the affairs of the restaurant and wonders how he can restore a borrowed 480,000 francs before the auditors arrive.

One solution, baccarat, is removed when the young man from whom he wins the necessary sum, Tyrone Power, confesses that he really hasn't any money at all. Menjou, who is expecting the arrival from America of a rich patron, Charles Winninger, his sister, Helen Westley, and his daughter, Loretta Young, forces the handsome youth, under threat of exposure to the police, to masquerade as a Russian prince, in the hope of winning Loretta's hand and her father's marriage settlement.

The lovely Loretta, however, sees through her prince from Pinceton, whose accent "now she comes, now she goes," but it's Paris, and it's spring, and she decides that it will be more fun to be swept off her feet anyway. Events thereupon take one amusing and unexpected turn after another, mounting in hilarious procession to a surprise finale which provides a novel solution to the problems of all concerned.

G. O. P. Leader Dies

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 21.—(AP)—Franklin W. Fort, 57, former New Jersey representative, secretary of the Republican national committee from 1928 to 1930, and chairman of the first federal housing board died here Monday.

STRIKERS DECLARE PLANT REOPENING WILL MEAN FIGHT

will be done quickly and without advance notice," said John McKeown, C. I. O. organizer at Warren.

Lewis Walks Out

In Cleveland, John L. Lewis, the C. I. O. strike generalissimo, stalked silently from the federal mediation board conference after an hour and a half of discussion on the most question of signed labor contracts—the prime factor of dispute in the 7-state "battle of steel" which has set more than 100,000 men idle in the Great Lakes region.

The first blast in the "back-to-work" movement came from Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, who announced—in defiance of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins' plea for maintenance of the status quo—that he would attempt to reopen the three strike-sieged company plants in Youngstown at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

At the same time Republic Steel corporation announced it would attempt to re-open one of its mills tomorrow morning. Two were killed and 26 injured at the mill Saturday night in a battle between strikers and city police.

Sit-down strikers in sheet and tube mills have been threatened by union leaders if there was any back-to-work attempt.

Informed observers believed the re-opening orders may have been issued with advance knowledge of a truce to be reached at the Cleveland conference.

On the Johnstown front of the strike, the great Cambria works of Bethlehem Steel were closed under a martial law proclamation of Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania.

WAR ON CRIME AMONG STATES GIVEN IMPETUS

CHICAGO (UP) — The national drive on the "commuting criminal," the Dillingers and Karpises who ply their trade in several states, has brought definite interstate action, according to a report of the council of state governments.

Four model crime control bills, sponsored by the interstate commission on crime, have been approved by seven states, the report said, while nine other states have adopted one or more of the model measures. Interstate parolee supervision received the most attention, the report said. Other model bills concern the fresh pursuit of criminals across state lines; more simple and effective extradition of criminals, and the removal of witnesses from one state to another to testify in criminal proceedings.

Fourteen states adopted the interstate parolee supervision measure.

Enforcement officials cite the recent kidnaping of a New Jersey state trooper as indicative of the problems faced by police.

The trooper was kidnaped by a group of escaped Ohio convicts and taken into Pennsylvania before being released. The car bore Michigan license plates, and the kidnapers were wanted in Philadelphia for a $60,000 jewel robbery. They were finally captured, after a tear gas and machine gun fight, by New York police.

Five states wanted these men, as did federal officials.

The model bills are aimed at "clearing out the underbrush" of entangled legal proceedings behind which these commuting criminals hide, the report concluded.

PLANES GROUNDED BY BAD WEATHER FILL HANGAR HERE

Medford municipal airport hangar was filled last night to capacity with 13 planes, several of them luxurious airliners of large dimensions. Seven of the ships were stored overnight while their pilots awaited more favorable weather.

Among yesterday's arrivals were Max Fleischmann, chairman of the finance committee of Standard Brands, parent corporation of the Fleischmann Yeast company, who arrived from his home near Reno in his large, luxurious Lockheed Electra.

With Mrs. Fleischmann and his two pilots, Mr. Fleischmann was en route to Seattle. The group remained here overnight and left for Portland at noon. The plane was in command of Capt. Harry Asche with Dean Severns as co-pilot.

Four United States navy planes landed yesterday for an overnight stay. In command of the squadron was Lieut. L. B. Haselman. The contingent was en route from the south on a return flight to Seattle. Favorable weather was being awaited this afternoon for continuation of the flight.

E. E. Mouton arrived yesterday in a Beechcraft with three San Francisco newspaper reporters who were flying to Seattle to interview the Russian fliers. Mouton turned back to San Francisco here, unable to get through to the north because of the bad weather.

R. S. Keogh, lieutenant of the Illinois national guard at Chicago, spent the night here when he was unable to continue his flight to Seattle. Piloting a Douglas observation plane, he took off this afternoon.

Dr. W. F. Terrill and Charles Marshall of Pasadena also arrived yesterday, the doctor piloting a Stinson en route to Portland. Favorable weather was being awaited this afternoon for continuation of the hop.

The Fleischmanns, Dr. Terrill and Mr. Marshall spent the night at the Hotel Medford.

LONDON PHONES RUSSIANS HERE

Two telephone calls from London regarding the Russian fliers were received yesterday morning by M. G. Henne, manager of the United Air Lines here.

The calls, relayed by a New York operator, presumably were from London newspapers. The New York operator said the inquiries had heard the Russians had landed in Medford and a telephone interview was sought.

Thomas A. Culbertson, Jr., airport manager received numerous long distance telephone calls regarding the Russians from newspapers and press associations trying desperately to establish contact with the fliers.

Just received 30 summer styles for hot weather. See them at Gus the Tailor, 120 North Central.
