and released. Police Chief O. E. Campbell said strong evidence pointed toward Othel Leroy Strong, 22, a former sailor, who had amused the children in the park with card tricks and by tying knots in a rope.

Strong had pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old Inglewood girl last October 1 and had been released on probation.

Olive Everett, 11, sister of the two slain girls, identified a photograph of Strong, selecting it from others, Campbell said.

"That's the man who came to us in the park Friday and asked us to go hunt rabbits with him," she said. They had disappeared then.

Kenny Anderson, 7, told Campbell this same man had asked him Saturday morning to hunt rabbits with him.

"He showed me how to tie a lot of knots in a piece of rope," said Kenny. Hunt Organized

As word spread Sunday that the three little girls were missing, a hunting party of 500 officers and aroused citizens was organized to search the Baldwin hills, covered with trees, wild oats and patches of brush. Boy Scouts continued to aid officers yesterday and four of them: Bob Brown, 14; Frank Fortune, 13; Don Morant, 14, and Winslow Smith, 15, made a grisly discovery yesterday afternoon.

"There's one!" called Brown, pointing to the bottom of a 40-foot ravine. Their eyes widened in horror and they ran to call police. The ravine is five and one-half miles northwest of Los Angeles between Inglewood and Culver City.

The girls' bodies, a rope knotted about the throat of each, were found a short distance apart in the sandy bottom of the ravine. Their shoes had been removed and placed in a neat row close by.

The bodies of Melba Everett and Marjorie Stephens, the older girls, were badly bruised and torn. That of Madeline Everett showed but few bruises and scratches.

As word of the discovery spread, and two maniacal suspects were brought in for questioning, an angry crowd formed about the police station and muttered threats of lynching were heard. A second mob gathered last night.

Mother Collapses

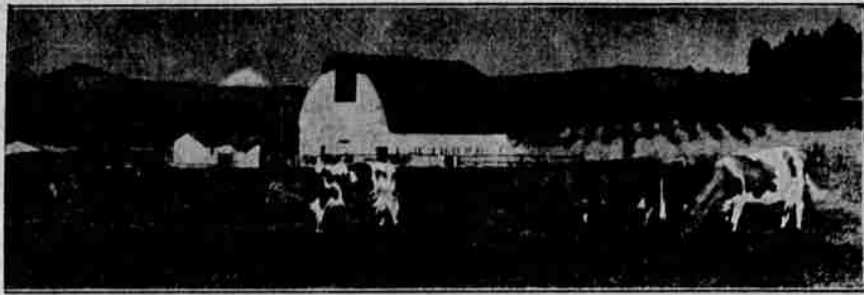

Mrs. Merle O. Everett, mother of two of the girls, collapsed and was placed in the care of a physician when she learned of their deaths.

"This is terrible," said Everett. "They have taken two of our five children—our little babies. No! No! I don't believe it."

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stephens, parents of the other girl, likewise were torn with grief.

From Sacramento, Governor Frank Merriam called upon all law officers and citizens to aid "in the apprehen-

Purebred Herds in County Increasing

These photographs indicate the trend to purebred stock on Jackson county dairy ranches. Shown above is a pastoral scene at Charles A. Wing's Cloverhill Dairy farm on the Old Stage road four miles west of Medford. Grazing are some of the registered Guernseys which comprise the Wing herd. In the background may be seen Roxy Ann and snow-capped Mt. Pitt. At the left is pictured the outstanding herd sire purchased by Mr. Wing recently at the second annual Washington breeders' Guernsey consignment sale in Puyallup. The bottom photograph shows a registered Holstein bull bought by W. T. Dougherty for his Brookhurst Farms east of Medford. son of this killer." "A fiend is loose," he said. "If we are to protect our homes, and especially our children, it is the duty of each of us to see that this maniac-stranger is apprehended that he may be brought to proper and legal justice." The county commissioners recommended that the district attorney offer a "suitable reward" for the slayer's capture and a newspaper offered a $1000 reward for exclusive information leading to his arrest and conviction.

An oil company employee told officers he saw smoke rising from the Baldwin hills late Saturday afternoon. Investigating, he saw a man come down from the section near where the bodies were found, get into a 1929 or 1930 model roadster without fenders or running boards and drive away.

Deaths now total 13 in the strike called May 25 by the steel workers' organizing committee against the Republic Steel corporation, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and the Inland Steel company, and two weeks ago against Bethlehem Steel. He was struck by a tear gas cartridge as the deputies attempted to disperse 40 pickets who had halted 12 non-strikers returning to work at the plant.

Pickets Blamed
District Attorney Robert E. McCreary said he would question eyewitnesses before determining what steps to take.

Frank Moltrup, president of the company, said it was "too bad" the entire blame rests with the pickets.
