

Frances Langford, Phil Regan Head Brilliant Cast Craterian Show

MANY RADIO STARS FEATURED IN FILM OPENING RUN TODAY

Booked in as a special 4th of July attraction, "The Hit Parade" with one of the strongest lineups of big-time "names" in the cast, opens a three day engagement at the New Craterian theatre today.

Stars of the radio and stars of the screen, several new tunes, plenty of comedy and a lively, fast-moving story make the picture one that promises enough entertainment to suit everyone.

The production is divided into three main chapters. In the first, Louise Henry, whom Phil Regan has promoted to radio fame, gets well-headed and walks out on her mentor, Phil, discouraged by this act of ingratitude, sets out to discover another potential star. In a beer hall, he discovers Frances Langford singing and quickly elevates her to a high radio spot. In love with Phil, Regan climbs the ladder quickly as Louise hits the skies.

In the second chapter, Louise, bent on revenge, learns that Frances is a parole-violating convict and exposes her to the press. Frances disappears and Phil conducts a fruitless search. In the third chapter, Phil organizes the foremost radio, stage and vaudeville performers to combine a broad-cast to Frances to return. How this is accomplished forms the climax to the story.

In addition to the above named players, the cast includes Pert Kelton, Edward Brophy, Max Terhune, Inez Courtney, J. Farrell MacDonald, George Givot, Sammy White, Al Pearce and his Gang, Pick and Pat, the Gentle Maniacs, The Voice of Experience, Ed Thorgersen, Oscar and Elmer and several others.

Music is furnished by three of the most popular orchestras of the country today—Carl Hoff, Eddie Duchin and Duke Ellington.

Bette Davis In Thursday Picture

One of the strongest programs the New Craterian theater has offered this year brings Bette Davis and Edward G. Robinson in "Kid Galahad" to the local screen Thursday. As a special added attraction on the same program, the Craterian will have official round-by-round, blow-by-blow pictures of the recent Joe Louis-James Braddock championship fight.

Perry Mason Film Here Wednesday

A new Perry Mason is introduced and Linda Perry are featured in the theater here in the person of Don-cast. The dispatches said 20 Russian patrol boats were being withdrawn from the Sennui and Bolshoi islands in the Amur river in addition to the troops.

The Japanese army in Manchoukuo, in a statement from Hanking, hailed the peaceful settlement of the dispute, but warned that further "illegal acts" against Manchoukuoan territory by the soviet would not be tolerated.

Recall of the forces under an agreement reached between the Japanese ambassador to Moscow and the soviet foreign office, further eased war tension arising from a clash between soviet gunboats and Japanese-inspired state of Manchoukuo said today that soviet Russia would start withdrawal of troops and gunboats from Amur river islands this afternoon.

Closing time for Too Late to Close

On Roxy Bill

Jean Arthur, in the role of "Calamity Jane," is starred with Gary Cooper in "The Plainsman" at the Roxy theater, where it starts a three-day run today. Also featured in this epic story of those roaring days of General Custer, Sitting Bull, Buffalo Bill and other famous frontier characters, are James Ellison, Charles Bickford, Helen Burgess and Porter Hall.

In Character Role

Rapidly making a name for himself in the portrayals of various different characterizations, Akim Tamiroff ("The General" who "Died at Dawn" and lead of "King of Gamblers"), again returns to the New Craterian screen for Wednesday only as "The Great Gambler." Tamiroff plays the part of a mind-reading mystic, who finds himself right in the middle of a murder case that has the police baffled.

George Brent Has Lead Rialto Show

Laughter and thrill entertainment are the ingredients that make motion picture hits. At the Rialto theatre starting today for a three day run, these ingredients are to be found in copious quantities.

Heading the twin bill is Peter B. Kyne's "The Go-Getter," featuring George Brent, Anita Louise, Charles Winninger and John Eldridge. A Cappy Ricks story, with Winninger portraying the part of Ricks, it tells the ever-exciting romance of a go-getting young man who falls in love with Cappy's daughter and in spite of all man-made and natural-made obstacles that are placed in his path, overcomes them all and finally wins the girl.

As the added feature, "Pick a Star," a picture that could very well stand alone, has Jack Haley and Patsy Kelly, who made outstanding hits in "Wake Up and Live," featured with Laurel and Hardy, Lyda Roberti, Mischa Auer and Rosina Lawrence.

An absorbing story of a small-town boy and girl who make good in Hollywood in a big way, "Pick a Star" boasts of several song numbers, lavish ensemble scenes, many beautiful girls and, dominating it all, hilarious comedy.

FORD CHALLENGES BOARD AUTHORITY FOR REGULATION

DETROIT, July 3.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company, in a formal answer to charges of the national labor relations board that it had violated the Wagner act, challenged the board's authority today. The complaint, the company said, should be dismissed "because the board has no authority to regulate relations between employer and employees engaged in local production."

The board's complaint charged the Ford Motor company with responsibility for "malicious and brutal assaults" on U. A. W. organizers attempting to distribute handbills at the plant gates.

In challenging the board's jurisdiction, the Ford answer cited 11 reasons why it claims the charges should be dismissed. These included the contentions that "none of the alleged unfair labor practices complained of affected manufacture, sale or distribution," and that "none of the former employees named in said complaint were engaged in interstate commerce, nor were any of the Ford employees involved in the fights on Ford private property on May 26, 1937, engaged at any time in interstate commerce."

DOROTHY ROUND WINS NET TITLE

WIMBLEDON, Eng. July 3.—(AP)—Dorothy Round, 27-year-old daughter of an English clergyman, defeated Jadwiga Jedzejowska, busom Polish secretary, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5, today and won the women's singles title of the all-England tennis championships for the second time in four years.

Miss Round, Wimbledon champion in 1934, thus climaxed an amazing comeback after two years of comparative tennis obscurity. She succeeds as champion Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., who bowed to Miss Round in the quarter-finals of the current championship.

WINDOW WASHER LUCKY IN THREE-STORY FALL

FORTLAND, July 3.—(AP)—Carl Beckmann, local window washer, nursed an injured left arm and left leg today but had no complaints.

The injuries, which hospital attendants described as minor, were received when his safety belt slipped and tumbled him to the pavement from a third story window of the United States National Bank building.

B. F. Adams, who witnessed the fall, said Beckmann landed on his feet and tumbled over on his head. He was conscious when picked up.
