ED DUDLEY GRABS CARNOUSTIE LEAD BY SUB-PAR GOLF

Scotland, July 7.—(P)—Veteran Ed Dudley of Philadelphia, first to break par today over Carnoustie's wind-swept course, took the lead in the first round of the British open golf championship with a brilliant 70, one under standard figures.

The American ace achieved his sub-par score in spite of an injury to the arch of his foot which made him limp. He cut two strokes from par on the out-going nine with a 34, then lost one while coming home in 36.

Two strokes behind Dudley, at 72, came defending champion Alf Padgham, whose showing was somewhat of a surprise, and two fellow-Britons, Bill McMinn, former western Scotland pro champion, and Bill Branch, Belgian open winner last year.

Denny Shute came next among the American contenders, at 73, with Byron Nelson, Sam Snead and amateur Robert Sweeney two strokes back. Four U. S. stars were bracketed at 76, Hagen, Picard, Revolta and Lacey.

Ralph Guldahl posted a 77, one shot ahead of wee Bobby Cruickshank, who had 41 to the turn.

The Britons, too, were feeling the effects of Carnoustie's hazards. Two were tied with Shute at 73; Henry Cotton, was one of three at 74.

Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British Ryder cup side, blazed down the back nine in 35 for a 73 that put him even with Shute and two other Britons, A. D. Cairncross and Fred Robinson.

Horton Smith, who won the qualifying medal with two brilliant sub-par 69's, dropped three strokes to par on each nine and joined Guldahl at 77.

Gene Sarazen went five over par on the first nine with a 41, lost a similar number coming back for a 40, and finished up with an 81.

BOY NEAR DEATH AFTER CRASH OF BIKE, AUTOMOBILE

ing his bicycle south on the Pacific highway, Wallin, state police quoted him as saying, was traveling north at between 40 and 45 miles an hour. The youngster was looking back over his shoulder at a machine following him. Wallin told police, and apparently didn't see the Wallin machine until he was struck.

Just before the crash, Wallin swung wide to the left to avoid striking the bicycle, and at the same time, young Dwyne turned directly into the path of the car, state police reported. The bicycle was struck on the front wheel and its rider was thrown about 40 feet, state police said, landing on the hard stones of the road-shoulder on his head and back. Following the crash, the light delivery truck continued into a four-foot ditch off the west, or left, side of the highway. The truck's right headlight was broken.

The accident occurred on the gradual curve just north of the Pine Cone, and about 30 feet south of a concrete culvert located in the middle of the easy bend.

Mrs. Florence Eddy and her son, William Harrison Eddy, were driving south about 200 feet behind young Dwyne, they told state police, and witnessed the mishap. They agreed with Wallin in every respect concerning the actions of the Wallin car and bicycle, according to state police, with the exception of not knowing whether the youth was looking back over his shoulder or not. They told state police the boy swung his bicycle directly into the path of the oncoming car.

State police and Perle's funeral home were notified of the accident and Perle's ambulance rushed to the scene and removed the unconscious boy to Community hospital.

Herbert, whose home is in Klamath Falls with his mother, Mrs. Nora McCaw of 1209 1/2 Pine street, arrived in Medford a week ago last Sunday to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Dwyne of Ross Lane, close to Mrs. L. K. Dwyne's father's home. He had gone to Central Point yesterday to visit his uncle, Alvin Williams, and was returning to Medford when the accident occurred. His mother rushed to his side from Klamath Falls as soon as the mishap was reported.

Wallin, who has been employed by Swift and Company for many years, was prostrated with sorrow and grief yesterday. He told city police, when he made the report of the crash, it was the first time in 30 years of driving he had ever had an accident.

He told city police he waited until the last moment before swinging to the left to avoid hitting the bicycle, thinking the boy would turn back to the right side of the road. Then, when he did swerve wide, he said, young Dwyne also did, and it was too late to avoid the smash.

The Wallin car struck the front wheel of the bicycle, knocking the tire almost off and bending the rim considerably.

The youth left Medford about a year and a half ago to live with his mother in Klamath Falls.

EXAMINERS CHECK REMAINS OF FIRE

State police lieutenant Al Lumsden of Portland, H. H. Pomeroy of San Francisco, special agent of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and several insurance adjusters today examined the ruins of the Medford Domestic laundry, destroyed by fire early last Saturday morning.

Lieut. Lumsden is with the state police investigation department. Up to noon the examiners had found no evidence which would reveal the cause of the fire. It was stated by Chief Roy Elliott. The examination was to continue this afternoon.

The fire department's chemical crew was called out at 10:20 last night to extinguish a small pile of papers that had ignited in the laundry ruins. Firemen thought the paper had caught fire from a lighted match or cigarette stub tossed carelessly into the ruins.
