Spotted Fever Toll Is Curbed In Oregon
PORTLAND, July 20.—(AP)—Dr. Frederick Stricker, state health authority, reported progress today in curbing the number of deaths from spotted fever in Oregon.

Thirty-nine cases have come to the attention of the board of health this year. Three or four persons have died, Dr. Stricker said.

The figures compare favorably with 1926 when 15 of the 74 persons suffering from the fever did not recover. There were six deaths in 32 cases last year.

HEART PARALYSIS ENDS CAREER OF RADIO INVENTOR

Marconi insisted on working on his last micro-wave experiments. The Marquis Luigi Solari, head of the Italian Marconi company, the inventor's biographer and life-long friend, said that late yesterday afternoon Marconi came into his office "to talk about his micro-wave experiments."

The Marconi company offices are in the inventor's home and today the employees learned of his death as they arrived for work. They stood together in little groups in the corridors whispering gravely among themselves. Many of them were weeping openly.

Marconi told me he planned to spend the whole summer aboard his yacht Elettra conducting experiments," Solari said. His idea was to adapt the micro-wave to long range transmission.

Success Seen
"Marconi was very hopeful of the success of these experiments and they are in such a shape and have reached such a point we can go ahead with his work."

Solari said that "Marconi had a great affection for the United States. Next to his own country he had a greater love for America than any other country."

Among the thousands of telegrams of condolence already pouring in was one from Alexander Kirk, charge d'affaires of the United States embassy, who sent it in the absence of Ambassador William Phillips on vacation.

Marconi's body will be removed to historic Parnes Palace, headquarters of the Italian Royal Academy of which he was president, on the banks of the Tiber this afternoon to lie in state in the blue robes of an academician.

Burial in Bologna
Following a preliminary funeral service in Rome, the body will be taken for burial to Bologna where he conducted his first experiments in a barn on his father's country estate.

Morning newspapers published special editions which were sold out immediately to the crowds that swarmed around the news stands. Il Messaggero's comment was considered representative:

"This is not only a loss to Italy but all the world, a loss for science and for humanity. With him disappears one of the sovereign geniuses who, because of the glory of their effort, are sufficient unto themselves."

Marconi apparently had been in good health for the last few days although he had suffered serious illness in the last two years.

At the time of his death Marconi was working on three different developments of the principle he discovered: television, especially with the use of ultra short waves; further developments of the micro-wave, a new type radio transmitter for airplanes.

Social Security To Open Salem Office
SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—(AP)—Establishment of a federal social security board office at Salem, Ore., and appointment of Richard G. Spillwell as manager were announced by Richard M. Neustadt, regional director, here today.

Neustadt, who last week announced opening of offices at Tacoma and Olympia, Wash., said the Salem office would administer the old-age benefit provision of the social security act for Marion, Linn, Benton, Lincoln and Polk counties in Oregon.

These counties, he asserted, have approximately 20,000 wage-earners covered by the act.

NEW COMPROMISE MAY BE OFFERED FOR COURT BILL

determined to oppose any showdown until the senate Democrats have chosen a new leader to succeed Robinson.

Call Leadership Caucus.
Strength in the leadership contest was almost equally split between Senators Harrison (D. Miss.) and Barkley (D. Ky.) A caucus of party members in the senate is scheduled for tomorrow morning.

The administration spokesman said public opposition to the court bill voiced yesterday by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York was not particularly surprising to the administration, but that the timing of the publication of his letter to Senator Wagner (D. N.Y.) was "deadly" aimed.

The spokesman added that no one in responsible positions in Washington was "reluctant" or particularly "jolted" by Lehman's action, least of all President Roosevelt.

He said frankly, however, that although Lehman's attitude toward the bill had been known for some time, the administration had not expected it in that respect, he added. The New York governor's action was looked upon as "rather gratuitous."

Happy Meeting.
White House officials described the meeting between the president and vice-president as "a very happy one." Subsequently discussing the possibility of a new compromise, the administration spokesman said President Roosevelt embraced five separate phases and on only one, that calling for appointment of additional justices to the supreme court, was there substantial opposition.

By inference, this spokesman indicated a new attempt at a solution to the deadlock in the senate would be on both sides to work out.

At the capital, Barkley said leaders on a matter had agreed to postpone resumption of the fight in the senate until Thursday.

Wheeler and other opponents refused to discuss reasons for their change in strategy. They only hinted that some of their number wanted to discuss the bill further before a showdown vote.

The Montana senator denied the change was a sign of weakness. "We've got the votes any time we want to move to recommit," he said.

The second suit of William H. Gore, former banker and farmer, against Jackson county for collection of approximately $2500, allegedly due for services rendered in behalf of the passage by congress of the Oregon-California land grant tax refund bill, will probably be one of the civil actions set for trial at the October term of court. The case has been listed for a place on the court calendar.

In the first action, Gore sought approximately $88,000. A jury last December denied him any verdict.

Circuit Judge H. D. Norton is now engaged in hearing equity, divorce and routine motions, the docket being practically cleared.

SEIZURE INSURES LANDING SPOT FOR 35,000 SOLDIERS

west of Peiping at 2:30 p. m. two and one-half hours after an ultimatum demanding Chinese evacuation of the area had expired.

Fire still raged in the Chinese barracks at 6 p. m. tonight (5 a. m. E. S. T.).

City Shelled Two Hours
A thousand Japanese troops participated in the attack against Wanpinghien, and the city was shelled for more than two hours. Peiping dispatches said the town was badly damaged, and that Marco Polo bridge, 100 yards to the west, was subjected to shelling.

A Japanese plane circled over Peiping at 6 p. m. And Chinese there were fearful of drastic action by Chinese. "Fighting at Peiping tonight," many predicted.

The Japanese version was that their troops were acting in retaliation for "unprovoked and intermittent Chinese firing against Japanese lines."

The Japanese artillery began its advance against Wanpinghien under fire from Chinese field guns.

Chinese Guns Silenced
The advancing Japanese units returned the fire, and after a brief exchange the Chinese guns were silenced. Chinese batteries across the Yungting river then took up the battle.

Japanese casualties were one killed and one wounded. Chinese casualties were not known.

The gates into Wanpinghien were closed, and trains for the south to Fengtai and other strategic junctions were suspended.

Chinese sources said fighting also was going on at Fengtai, unconfirmed reports stating that Japanese had been driven back from that point.

The crisis again appeared highly dangerous. Nanking dispatches said Premier Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had returned there from his summer residence at Kuling, ready to take charge of Chinese efforts to offset what Chinese consider to be a Japanese incursion in north China.

DRIVER ARRESTED FOR CRASHING PARKED CAR

Eugene Timothy Collins of 823 West Tenth street was released on payment of $25 bail last night following his arrest by city police on a charge of reckless driving. He was ordered to appear in city court next Friday at 10 a. m.
