FILM PLAYERS HELP SHAKESPEARE FIESTA WITH CONTRIBUTIONS

Eddie Nugent and Bradley Paige, featured Hollywood players vacationing in southern Oregon, today added their names to the list of sponsoring members of the Oregon Shakespeare Festival association.

The association, recently formed to support the annual Shakespeare Festival in Ashland's outdoor Elizabethan theater, August 2 to 7, continued its membership drive this week and a number of new sponsors were added to the list.

Nugent and Paige are here from Hollywood and will be widely entertained in the valley. They are at present guests of Walter E. Leverette at his summer cottage at Lake of the Woods.

The pair plan to attend the Shakespeare plays, staged each year on the only original Elizabethan stage in the United States. Unlike most Shakespeare productions, the performances are presented in their original form and students of the theater are enthusiastic over their success.
