Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—The stock market drifted down fractions to a point or more in leisurely trading today.

Brokers said the decline resulted from mild offerings attracted by the current rise in prices.

U. S. Steel, recent leader on the advance, opened more than a point lower on turnover of 2,000 shares and continued heaviness in this issue served in some measure to set the tone of trading despite an abortive mid-day rally in rails, motors and specialties.

Transactions approximately 950,000 shares.
