

Dragon Looks for Revenge on Kohen in Main Event Match Tonight

UNHOODED MEANIE NURSES HATE FOR FORMER REFEREE

Clemens And Mexican Will Tussle In Semi-Windup—Haddock And LaRue To Dish Dirt In Opening Go.

If they paid off on confidence alone, that bristling little Jew Sammy Kohen, from New York City, would already have one large victory over the Black Dragon pasted in his record book. However, as it takes more than mere cocksureness to win grapple matches, the physical culture specimen from the metropolis may have more than his hands full when he answers the main event bell tonight at the open-air high school arena, with the unmarked Black Dragon as his opponent.

Kohen, undoubtedly a great wrestler despite his rather small stature (138 pounds) will be facing a Dragon who has been more than his hands full when he answers the main event bell tonight at the open-air high school arena, with the unmarked Black Dragon as his opponent.

A smart guy, Kohen figures that he can out-smart the Dragon. Also, out-wrestle him. And, to complete the picture of Kohen's extreme confidence, he claims that he can out-tough the monster.

Promoter Mack Lillard has billed Frankie Clemens and Carlos Rodriguez, both clean and sensational wrestlers, for the middle spot. The short, stocky Mexican believes he can stay clear of Clemens' spectacular Indian paralyser, which has not yet failed to bring the Oklahoma victory, and that he can whip the Clemens fellow by any of a vast variety of orthodox maneuvers, principally the hammerlock.

The opening squabble featuring Gentleman Dale Haddock and Jack LaRue should be nothing short of "murder under the stars." Haddock's only stock in trade is foul, and plenty of it. LaRue does mix a certain amount of scientific business with his brutality, but that should make little difference in the outcome.

Hammond was runner-up in this division with 281.

Budge and Maco Trim British To Take Davis Cup Lead

DOUBLES VICTORY BRINGS 2-1 EDGE FOR U. S. PLAYERS

Tuckey And Wilde Offer Unexpected Resistance To Yankees—Final Win In Singles Seen Assured.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 26.—(AP)—Overcoming surprisingly stubborn resistance, Don Budge and Gene Mako whipped C. R. D. Tuckey and P. H. D. Wilde in the doubles today, 6-8, 7-5, 7-9, 12-10, and gave the United States a 2-1 lead over Great Britain in the Davis cup challenge round with two more singles matches yet to be played.

With that one point advantage, American supporters now are confident Budge will whip Henry Wilford (Bunny) Austin in the final singles match tomorrow for the clinching point even if Frankie Parker bows to Charles Edgar here in the opener.

Budge and Mako, the all-England champions and conquerors of Germany's crack combination of Gottfried von Cramm and Heinrich Henkel in the inter-zone finals, gave their followers many anxious moments today before they finally pulled the doubles match out of the fire.

After sweeping through the first two sets in rapid style, the Californians appeared headed toward an easy triumph. But with the veteran Tuckey performing brilliantly in support of the untried Wilde, the British came roaring back to win the third set and almost snatched the fourth as well.

DOWNPOUR HALTS CRATER-LOGGER GAME IN FIFTH

Medford and Glendale battled through a damp four and a half innings yesterday at Glendale before a cloudburst threatened to wash the ball park into the heavy timber. The Southern Oregon league battle was called in the last half of the fifth inning, before the Loggers were able to take their cuts, with the score tied, 3-3.

Tentative plans, as arranged by officials of the two clubs, call for the game to be played Saturday, August 7, in Medford. As a legal game must consist of five equal innings, yesterday's wash-out was called "no contest," and individual and team averages will not be incorporated in the official league records.

The Craters counted their three runs in the first inning off the delivery of Larry Nunnenkamp. Dick Lewis singled, Rickert sacrificed, Donovan singled, Bob Smith singled to center scoring Lewis and Donovan, and Jack Hughes, who played his first game yesterday, belted a double to right, scoring Smith.
