

TRAFFIC OFFENSES KEEP COURT BUSY; 12 CASES HANDLED

Clarence Darling of Grants Pass, employed on the Greensprings mountains, charged with reckless driving of a truck on the Pacific highway near Gold Hill, was fined $25 and costs in Justice court yesterday.

Edwin S. Ross, charged with theft of four paint brushes, valued at $10, from the Pittsburgh Paint company was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Quentin H. Burden and Clarence A. Harvard of Grants Pass, charged with using improper license plates on autos, were assessed $5 and costs. Full responsibility for the two were assumed by C. A. Winetrot, auto dealer of Grants Pass.

Chauncy Frey, charged with non-possession of an operator's license, was scheduled to appear today. Gladys S. Shelton of Klamath Falls, charged with the same offense failed to appear yesterday as scheduled.

Eliza V. McCourry, charged with having no operator's license, was assessed $1 and costs.

Lester V. West, charged with violation of the basic rule was fined $5 and costs. The offense was committed on the south Pacific highway.

Twelve complaints were handled by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman yesterday in one of the busiest days in months.

TOWNSENDITES TO DINE AND DANCE

(By Geo. Iverson.) Townsendites of the entire Rogue river valley will gather at the K. J. hall here Friday evening, July 30, for one of those "5th Friday" jollifications for which the Medford clubs are famous.

Activities will start at 8:30 with a potluck supper so distant Townsendites can do their trading during the day and get something to eat with us. The supper committee suggests cold dishes, such as meats, salads, desserts, cakes, pies, etc., and Mr. Oliver asked me to be sure to ask for plenty of fried chicken.

A good program has been arranged with Floyd Dover of Rogue River delivering a Townsend address. This evening is in charge of Medford club No. 2, so of course the evening will end up with the dance which is always a feature of their programs. A new orchestra will provide music and they promise a jolly good time.

FLYNN TO DISPLAY LATEST G.E. RADIOS

The sensational new "Touch Tuning" General Electric radios will soon be on display in Medford, according to Tom Flynn, owner and manager of Flynn's Electric Service in Medford. Mr. Flynn expects to leave for Portland soon to attend a preview of the new models, preceding the Medford showing at his store.

New cabinet styling, latest Louver dials, visual column and toe indicators, extended tone range and new stabilized dynamic speakers are among the many outstanding features of the 1937 models.

Featured with the showing of General Electric radios will be a comprehensive display of the latest in lighting fixtures at Flynn's Electric Service. The latest modernistic-type fixtures as well as the more conventional style manufactured by the well known Moe Bridges and Estelite companies, are included in this display.

REV. EDGAR RECEIVES ASHLAND CHURCH CALL

The Rev. James H. Edgar, pastor of the Bethel Presbyterian church of Seattle, was given a call to the First Presbyterian church of Ashland at a largely attended congregational meeting last evening.

Dr. Sherman L. Divine, moderator by appointment of Southwest Presbytery, presided. Mr. Edgar and his wife are now on a vacation trip in the east, but are expected to return and accept their new field on Sunday, September 12. He will succeed the Rev. Merle L. Edwards, who was called to Burbank, Cal., last March.

Kraai Given Time To Decide On Plea

Jake Kraai, northern California resident charged with rape, was arraigned in Justice court yesterday and given until tomorrow to enter a plea. Kraai was arrested at Yreka, Calif., Saturday and returned here. Complaining witness is a 16-year-old girl, a niece of Kraai, who alleges in a statement to the district attorney that while on a hunting trip in the Sams Valley district with Kraai, he assaulted her.

POLICEMEN GUARD CLEVELAND PLANT AFTER WILD NIGHT

union headquarters which was wrecked.

"When your men throw rocks, that's going too far," Mayor Burton replied.

Meanwhile, Republic Steel corporation filed a suit to enjoin mass picketing at the Corrigan-McKinney plant.

Assistant Safety Director Robert W. Chamberlain asked Republic officials to abandon the night shift change, placing the plant on a two-shift day, while Police Chief George J. Matocci cancelled all police vacations. Mayor Burton and Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell said they would not require national guard troops.

Sporadic fighting between worker and striker groups reached a climax last night with a five-hour pitched battle in the valley fronting the main entrance of the plant.

More than 60 persons were injured, 100 or more automobiles damaged, and clubs wielded so indiscriminately that often, police said, members of the two groups were fighting their own men.

Headquarters of the steel workers' organizing committee near the plant was wrecked by a band of workers. A newspaper reporter who saw the fight inside the SWOC building saw Miss Rosina Artino, 19, who had been preparing food for pickets, struck on the arm with a club and thrown through a window.

At about 11 o'clock, 500 workers, identifying themselves with white arm bands, rushed out of the independence road gate of the plant attacking a group of about 100 pickets, witnesses said.

BAND CONCERT AT CITY PARK FRIDAY

The first of a series of summer concerts by the 30-piece Elks band will be held in city park next Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock with the public cordially invited to attend.

Because Wilson Wait, director, is attending school in Seattle, the concert will probably be directed by Ralph Boggs, it was said.

In addition to straight musical selections, many other novelty numbers and entertainment features are planned. The band will rehearse Thursday night, and the complete program will be announced Friday.

Child Prodigy Is Apt At Music Composition

BONNE TERRE, Mo. (UP)—Two-year old Mary Christine Dunn, who is so intelligent she astonished university professors, has decided to become a movie actress "just like Shirley Temple."

Dressed in her best Sunday outfit she curtained in true Temple fashion for the benefit of photographers and reporters and said she would like very much to go to Hollywood. Of course she hasn't seen many moving pictures because her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Dunn, think they are not the thing for growing children.

But she is an avid reader of film magazines and can name dozens of stars, including Mickey Mouse.

Mary has appeared before news-reel cameras and is intrigued with the idea of displaying her talents for the theater-going public. Screen tests were planned for her by two Hollywood producers and a trip to California may be made after negotiations end.

Professors have accorded Mary an IQ rating of 185 which ranks her with the great German poet, Goethe, when he was 2 years old. Her steady flow of conversation betrayed familiarity with the doings of the Duke of Windsor and his bride, Mussolini.

Mahatma Gandhi, Halle Weaese, and others.

The burden of being a genius bothers her not at all. She has the manner and graciousness of a child of 6 and is not self-conscious. She boasts the cutting of 18 teeth and admits she has had two stomach aches "which hurt down here."

Most impressive to psychologists is the perfect balance of her personality. She has a natural aptitude for music, composing her own choruses and occasionally her own tunes. Her memory has enabled her to compile a vocabulary of more than 3,600 words. A child of three usually masters about 75, according to statistics.

SKUNK CAUSES CRASH

FREMONT, O. — (UP) — When a skunk ambled across the highway, Charles F. Keating brought his automobile to such a sudden stop that the car behind crashed into him. Keating suffered an arm injury. The driver of the second car suffered a broken rib. The skunk was unharmed.

Bolt Concussion Topples Woman, Causes Headache

The experience of being knocked to the ground by lightning and left with a severe headache and tingling sensations in the finger tips was related today by Mrs. J. A. Clark.

Mrs. Clark believes she was knocked over by vibrations from the bolt that struck the flagpole of the Southern Oregon Sales, Inc., late Sunday afternoon. She lives only three-quarters of a mile from the fruit packing concern and said she was sprawled to earth just as the pole was struck.

Mrs. Clark said she had disconnected all electric wires in her home when the storm first broke. She was walking in her yard under a radio aerial when the bolt shot from the sky and knocked her to the ground, she said, adding that it was several seconds before she regained her senses.

The man who says he sent the first post cards ever to be used anywhere in the British empire has celebrated his 91st birthday here. He is S. N. Muir, who is believed to have sent the historic first post cards while he was secretary of the Dunedin volunteer artillery from 1866 to 1868.

Bribe Trap Japanese TOKYO — (UP) — Fumio Nishiyama, former engineer at the army arsenal, has been sentenced to 27 months' imprisonment and fined 2300 yen after a lengthy trial on charges that he accepted bribes from munitions industrialists. The sentence was pronounced by the supreme court martial, from which there is no appeal.

BLITZ WEINHARD BEER SINCE 1856, when Henry Weinhard first produced his fine beer in the 10-barrel brew kettle shown above, the Blitz-Weinhard Company has been keeping pace with the constant growth and development of the Pacific Northwest. In contrast is pictured the huge 15,000-gallon brew kettle in use today, the largest brew kettle west of St. Louis. The above scene shows the addition of Northwest hops to a brew. Through 81 years of steady growth of this modern brewery, the Blitz-Weinhard Company has adhered rigidly to the principles of its founder: FINE BEER, CAREFULLY BREWED. Since 1856, this Northwest Beer has been made from Northwest products, for Northwest people. Scenes below illustrate cleanliness and care with which Blitz-Weinhard Beer is made. Always a refreshing thirst-quencher, Blitz-Weinhard Beer is available on draft or in Steinies at better dealers everywhere throughout the Northwest. Order it by the case today. BLITZ-WEINHARD CO.
