Pay Its Way
Make that vacant room pay its way. There is a demand for rooms. You might as well have the rent money. The satisfactory way to find a tenant is the classified way.

PLANES RAIN DEATH, FIRE ON TIENTSIN

By H. R. Baukhage
Copyright, 1937, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.
WASHINGTON, July 29.—The "purge" of the Good Neighbor league which removed Stanley (all-time) High from its directorship and made Walter A. Jones, ardent new dealer, president, contains more significance than meets the eye.

It is part of a definitely crystallizing plan for the next phase in the battle for new deal objectives. The general strategy is a realignment of forces, liberals versus conservatives regardless of party label. The battlefield now becomes the nation. The court fight was only one sector.

Here the Good Neighbor league steps in. The president will go on the air under its auspices to restate his objectives within a month or so. Meanwhile, a drive to make the league a nation-wide organization will begin. Skeleton groups already exist in twenty-three states. Solicitation for membership in all forty-eight states will start immediately.

Several conferences between administration officials and league officials have already taken place and a campaign has been mapped out. An important meeting is planned for Thursday, July 29, at the White House which may signal completion of the program.

The avowed purpose of the league is education "along liberal lines." It can now be stated that it was the definite purpose of the administration to let the court issue be the bell-wether which the liberals could follow. Thus the sheep and the goats would be separated.

Then Messrs. Wheeler and O'Mahoney leaped the fence, taking their followers with them, and the line-up was completely scrambled, with the "conservatives" announcing complete rout of the new deal forces.

The first sign of the "consolidation" was Senator Bob La Follette's sound-off championing the administration program, after a week-end cruise aboard the presidential yacht. Both Senator La Follette and his brother, Governor Phil of Wisconsin (who also went along on the ship of state) are, of course, members of a bona fide party, the progressives.

And so, this old gray squirrel on the White House elm reports the beginning of the drive to build a new deal following regardless of party affiliation, by direct contact with leaders such as the La Follette brothers and by direct appeal to the nation through organizations like the Good Neighbor league.

Aerial Bombardment Ordered in Attempt Halt Chinese Attack

Flames from Japanese aerial bombardments roared through sections of Tientsin tonight after planes bearing the red insignia of the rising sun took a toll declared by Chinese to be thousands of non-combatant men, women and children killed and injured.

The bombardment, carried out by the Japanese in an attempt to rout a Chinese attack that threatened to drive Japanese from the city, endangered the lives of many Americans and other foreigners.

Lieut. General Kiyoshi Katsuki, Japanese commander in North China, told foreign consuls the action was to "protect" the 10,000 Japanese who live in the Tientsin Japanese enclave in accordance with the Twenty-One Demands of 1915 in which China undertook not to station troops within two miles of Tientsin.

Peace to Peiping
Among the 1,376 Americans in Tientsin was Lieut. Paul W. Caraway, son of Senator Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas.

Peace came to Peiping and its environs when Chinese troops withdrew and General Sung Cheh-Yuan, commander of the 29th Chinese army, went out and General Chang Tzu-Chang, pro-Japanese commander of the 38th division, became chief authority in the area.

In Tokyo, Japan's foreign minister, Koki Hirota, told the diet the Japanese government would reject any "interference" by a third power in the conflict.

Japanese officers declared the acute situation compelled them to ignore "earlier assurances not to expose the city's foreign residents to peril."

Wave of bombing squadrons set many of Tientsin's principal buildings afire, particularly the railroad center, and burned the international bridge connecting the foreign concessions and the Chinese city.

Village An Inferno
Bombs rained on densely populated Chinese quarters. One village, on Tientsin's outskirts, was an inferno. Both at Tientsin and Peiping, Americans huddled in the cellars of the foreign concessions and swarmed for safety in embassy compounds, spurred to shelter by memories of the wave of foreigner-slayings during the Boxer rebellion of 1900.

American commercial investments in the area total about $25,000,000, mostly in Tientsin. In Washington, secretary of State Cordell Hull said a wholesale evacuation of Americans would be undertaken only in a grave emergency.

Adjournment in Three Weeks Expected

LIFE IN PRISON FOR HOLDING UP JOHN DAY BANK

Two Bandits Given Extreme Penalty—Third Given 25-Year Sentence—Prosecutor Reviews Crime Plot

PORTLAND, July 29.—(AP)—Federal Judge James Fee sentenced two of the three John Day bank robbers to life in prison today and ordered the third to serve 25 years. Loyd Barkdoll, confessed leader, and Patrick Bushman, Umattila Indian, drew life sentences, while Chester Crum, who changed his plea from innocent to guilty yesterday, was sentenced to 25 years.

Although the court did not comment, it was presumed that Crum drew the lighter sentence because, unlike his companions, he had not previously served time in a penitentiary.

Trio Glim
Olum and crestfallen, the trio, who less than three weeks ago robbed the Grant county bank at John Day of $3,788, beat the assistant cashier, shot a citizen and engaged police in a gun battle near Arlington before being captured, stood before court.

Judge Fee asked Barkdoll and Bushman, who pleaded guilty last week shortly after their arrest, whether they had any statement to make. Each replied dully, "no."

Counsel for Crum made a short appeal on the grounds that his client never had served time in a prison.

Previously, Carl Donough, United States attorney, had urged the court to inflict the maximum penalty upon the men and in a dramatic review of the case had disclosed for the first time the preparations of the trio for the robbery.

Slays by Request

New York police said Stanley A. Martin (above) confessed strangling Mrs. Florence Jackson "upon request." Police quoted Martin as saying the slaying climaxed an illicit love affair.

FORD LOOKS FORWARD TO GOLDEN WEDDING, IGNORES HIS BIRTHDAY

DETROIT, July 29.—(AP)—Henry Ford will be 74 years old tomorrow but he plans no special observance of the occasion. He said today, however, that he is looking forward to a wedding anniversary eight months hence.

"I have never really celebrated a birthday," Ford explained. "I guess I never gave the occasion much thought. I always kept myself so busy with my work that I had very little time to celebrate."

"We'll save the celebration until Mrs. Ford's birthday next year," he added. "Then we can also celebrate our golden wedding anniversary. We were married on her birthday 49 years ago."

In the interview, Ford expressed optimism for industry, predicted that the "present mess" would do the country "more good than most people expect," and observed that disillusionment can be an excellent teacher.

"I look forward to a great industrial year," he said.

"By meek, I mean the mixing of backward politics, stupid business and labor exploitation that has been trying to hold up progress in this country."

FAROUK BECOMES EGYPT'S KING IN AGE OLD RITUAL

CAIRO, Egypt, July 26.—(AP)—Amid fanfare and age-old ritual, 18-year-old Farouk the First assumed the kingship of Egypt today, completing the ancient country's emergence into independence after four centuries of subjection.

Before his assembled senate and chamber, the youthful monarch vowed in a firm, clear voice "by almighty God to respect and obey the constitution and laws of the Egyptian people, safeguard my country's independence and defend its territory."

Farouk, the first king of an independent country since Turkish hordes conquered the Mameluke rulers in the 16th century, became King of Egypt, Lord of Nubia and the Sudan and Sovereign of Kordofan and Darfour.

Radio Carries Oath
Throughout the kingdom his oath was carried by radio to his 15,000,000 subjects, who acclaimed him wildly. In the parliament building itself, shouts of "Yehia el Malek"—(long live the king)—broke out after his investiture.

There is no crown of Egypt and the ceremony was an investiture rather than a coronation in the west.

Russians Poised for Third Flight
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 29.—(AP) Daylight around the clock and ideal weather conditions most of the way lay ahead of a projected third Soviet airplane dash and possibly the first passenger-carrying flight over the north pole from Moscow today to an unknown destination in America.

An American-trained pilot, Sigismund Levanevsky, known as the "Lindbergh of Russia," was poised to take off at 5 a. m. P.S.T., with three to five other persons in a four-motored plane.

Bathing Beauties Resent Methods Used In Measure

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—(AP)—A theater manager convicted of misconduct while judging bathing beauty contestants was being in jail awaiting sentence today.

A jury convicted Boris Posner on a morals charge after he denied stories of nine of the girls that he took more than a scientific, judicial interest in appraising their beauty.

Girls entering bathing beauty contests must be measured. Posner testified, "and none of the girls appeared at that time to resent the manner in which I measured them."

RETICENT DRIVER WEARIES OF JAIL; WOULD TELL AGE
Florhannah Mae Becknell, whose diffidence about placing her birth date upon applications for an auto driver's license, was a contributing factor in a 30-day sentence in the county jail for non-possession of a driver's license, is now willing to fill out the blank in detail, and depart from the battle, Sheriff Syd I. Brown reported today.

Mrs. Becknell has begun to weary of jail life, and has informed me she will comply with license application regulations, in the hope she will be freed," Sheriff Brown said. "I put the matter up to Justice of the Peace Coleman, and he said he would take it under advisement."

Mrs. Becknell has served five days, entering the women's ward last Saturday noon. During that period, she has been a model and pleasant prisoner, according to the matron.

The woman was charged in a state police complaint with failure to procure a driver's license, and had been operating her auto under a 1931 driver's license. The secretary of state declined to issue a new one because of discrepancies in birth dates. The court passed sentence when she refused, in a defiant mood, to turn over her old driver's license. She has been in court twice on the same charge. A charge of operating an auto with improper tail lights was continued by the court.

COURT BILL SEEN SOLITARY THREAT TO CLEAR SLATE

Prospect of Senate Action This Week On Wage and Hour and Housing Legislation Says House Leader

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—The senate voted today to exempt from work-week restrictions of the wage-hour bill various types of canners and processors whose operations are of a seasonal nature.

It approved an amendment by Senator McNary (R., Ore.) excluding from hours regulations cotton ginning, canning of fish, fruit and vegetables and other similar industries.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—Majority leader Rayburn told the house today that congress should be able to adjourn in three weeks.

"Unless there is a tie up on the court bill in the senate, by something arising to call a halt," Rayburn said, "we can finish all of this (legislative) program in three weeks. There is a degree of certainty that we can adjourn at that time and not be forced into a session between now and December."

Questioned by minority leader Smith about the program, Rayburn said accounts of it, published today following a conference yesterday between President Roosevelt and legislative leaders, "were encouraging."

He spoke of prospects of senate action this week on wage and hour and housing legislation, and on the court bill next week. These measures head the program.

The house labor committee, he said, should approve the wage and hour bill this week or the first of next.

At his press conference, Speaker Bankhead said he thought house members were "going to be reasonable."

THUMBER BEATEN FOR HURLING ROCK

SALEM, July 29.—(AP)—A hitchhiker took a licking from an automobile driver on the Pacific highway near here yesterday. The hitchhiker, angered because the car, carrying a California license, did not stop in response to his thumb signal, hurled a rock that broke the rear window of the vehicle. The driver stopped long enough to whip the hitchhiker.

A witness who reported the incident did not learn their names.

END STRIKE IN 'FRISCO HOTELS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—(UP)—Formal ending of the 89-day hotel strike, which closed 19 of San Francisco's major hostleries, was announced late Wednesday as owners signed agreements with all unions involved in the long dispute.

The agreements with the 17 unions covered all contested points but did not extend to so-called class B hotels.

Representatives of owners and unions leaders agreed separate contracts should be made for the class B hotels, none of which closed during the strike.

Wednesday's signing was considered something of a formality since to all intents the strike ended Monday night when six unions, by a 2½ to 1 vote, decided to return to work.

PUTNAM HOLDS HOPE WIFE MAY BE FOUND

NEWARK, N. J., July 29.—(AP)—George Palmer Putnam said after arriving by plane from California today that he still has hope his wife, Amelia Earhart, lives.

Putnam said he and his navigator, Fred J. Noonan, lost July 1 while flying the south Pacific, "may be alive on a small island," he said.

"There's a good chance she's stranded on an island," Putnam stated, "and I am doing all I can to get people who inhabit that region, like Japanese fishermen, to search for her."

PET BEAR CLAWS GIRL BENEFACTOR

LA GRANDE, Ore., July 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Lawanda Scott, 19, has a narrow escape from death this morning when a pet bear attacked her. As it is, she is recovering in a hospital here from leg wounds.

Mrs. Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cantrell, fed the three-year-old black bear this morning and noticed his chain was knotted. She attempted to unknot it when he bit her right leg and clawed her. She lunged backwards and the bear loosened his grip. Intertwined by the taste of blood he attempted to reach the young woman, who had fainted, but the chain held him just short of where she fell.

Mrs. Cantrell said her daughter had romped and swam with bear frequently and until this morning he had never appeared unruly.

GIRL FRIEND OF DUCE FINED $3.75, FREED IN FRENCH COURT HEARING

PARIS, July 29.—(AP)—Three justices in criminal court today gave Mme. Madeline la Ferriere a one-year suspended sentence after a speedy trial on charges of shooting Count Charles de Chambrun, whom she accused of breaking up her friendship with Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy.

The judges, who had barred part of the trial to the public and press, also fined the woman 100 francs ($3.75) then ordered her freed under the suspended sentence.

Crowds jammed the courtroom as the pale, dark-eyed newspaper woman, wearing silver fur, a black gown and black hat trimmed with white, went to the stand.

She started to tell of meeting Jean Chippie, former Paris police prefect, when the judges interrupted, conferred and ordered the courtroom cleared.

The young woman was charged with assault and illegal possession of three revolvers after she shot De Chambrun, the former French ambassador to Italy, as he boarded a train in the Paris Nord station last March 17. He recovered.

Cruiser Pulled Off Bahama Mud
WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—The cruiser Omaha, aground at Castle Light in the Bahamas since July 19, was floated today.

The navy department received the terse message, after an earlier dispatch saying substantial progress was made yesterday and night in refloating attempts.

When the Omaha grounded she was en route to the Charleston, S. C., navy yard for overhaul. The department said today she was now going to the Norfolk navy yard at Portsmouth, Va., for repair, and thence probably to Spain to be flagship of the European squadron.
