Wall St. Report. NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Steels rallied in today's late stock market dealings and some recently hesitant leaders made a better showing. Rubbers and farm implements exhibited strength from the start, along with an assortment of specialties which were buoyed by earnings and dividend developments. Many issues, at the same time, lacked vigor on the upside and moderate losers were in evidence at the finish. Although Wall Street was none too happy over the senate passage of the wage-hour bill, little selling was ascribed to this turn of affairs. Hopes for an early adjournment were an offsetting factor. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares. Today's closing prices for 31 selected stocks follow:

Jack Holt Scores On Rialto Screen. A superbly written drama, brilliantly enacted by an imposing cast and set in the scenic grandeur of the Pacific Northwest at Astoria, Oregon, the very summit of the nation's timber belt, "Roaring Timber" starring Jack Holt, opened a three day run yesterday at the Rialto theatre to over-satisfied audiences. Grace Bradley, Raymond Hatton and Ruth Donnelly head the supporting cast. It is replete with good performances, moves at a thrill-a-minute pace, and, thanks to the hilarious antics of Hatton and Miss Donnelly, who are two of Hollywood's ablest comers, win a resounding volume of laughs. Holt is cast as a logging boss, the hardest-driving superintendent in the whole north woods, who faces the job of getting out an enormous volume of timber in record time in order to fulfill a contract. Suddenly his boss dies. Holt learns his new employer is the owner's daughter. She arrives from the East. A society debutante played by pretty Grace Bradley, she quickly comes under the influence of an unscrupulous company official who is blocking Holt's efforts. In addition, Holt renews working for a woman. Complications ensue. Holt quits. A strike follows, with rioting, and the girl is compelled to seech her former superintendent to return to work. Why Holt does this, and how he meets the climax toward which the story sweeps, proves great screen fare. Peter B. Kyne's "The Affairs of Cappy Ricks" plays as the added feature. Walter Brennan, popular character actor, has the leading role with Mary Brian, Lyle Talbot and Frank Shields in support.

UNABLE TO IDENTIFY HITCH-HIKER KILLED ON GOLD HILL ROAD

Identity of the penniless hitch-hiker, about 70 years old, who was killed on the Pacific highway near Gold Hill Saturday night by a car driven by Arthur Schneider of Grants Pass, remained a mystery today. County Coroner Frank Peril said. However, a possible clue to his identity was discovered in the form of a cancelled Greyhound stage ticket from Crescent City to Grants Pass. The ticket was found in an inside pocket in the old fellow's coat, Coroner Peril stated. It was also learned that the man had "bummed" a cup of coffee previously, and remarked to the person that he was on his way to Ashland to visit relatives. Pictures would be taken of the grey-haired, bewhiskered victim, Coroner Peril said, in an attempt to discover his identity. The man was struck by the Schneider auto while he was walking south on the highway, the right front fender of the machine striking him in the stomach and knocking him to the pavement. Luise Rainer and William Powell In Craterian Picture

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," produced from the novel by the Baroness Orczy, came to the screen of the New Craterian theatre yesterday for a three day run, with William Powell and Luise Rainer in the starring roles. It is a daring film, not only because of its intriguing narrative, but because it gives these celebrated stars a new opportunity to prove their versatility.

In the new picture, Powell, famous for his creation of "The Thin Man," is seen as a debonair secret agent in Vienna. Miss Rainer, engaged to be married in "Great Expectations," now becomes an exotic spy. The contrast is startling and the two stars achieve different roles to perfection. In a setting of glamorous beauty in Vienna, Warsaw, Paris, London and Russia, the action of the story follows the adventures of these two across a continent. Always there is suspense, danger and intrigue and, presently, there is romance.
