

WM. H. ELLENBURG OF STATE POLICE PASSES SUDDENLY

gon State college for three years before joining Company K of the Oregon national guard in 1912, being assigned to the 162nd infantry. He saw service on the Mexican border in 1916, and was called to service in the World War March 27, 1917. He was assigned to Company K, 35th division, United States army, and saw actual fighting in France. He was wounded twice, on July 18, 1918 and on September 28, 1918. Among the many medals awarded Ellenburg for meritorious service and valorous duty were the Purple Heart and Silver Star.

With his company, he arrived back in the United States May 24, 1919. Following the World War, Company K was re-organized in Corvallis, and Ellenburg was made a captain in the 162nd infantry. In June, 1925, he was promoted to major, which position he had held since.

In 1925, he joined the Oregon state traffic division and quickly was advanced to a position as sergeant, following his enlistment as a patrolman. He was stationed at Oregon City for four years and Eugene for two before coming to Medford in 1931 after the traffic division was made over and the Oregon state police organized. He has been continually in Medford since that time, always in his role as sergeant.

Because of his excellence as a soldier, he has been invaluable in assisting in instructing state police officers in military tactics. It was stated today, he was highly respected among his fellow officers. Even-tempered, always jovial, he was one of the most popular members of the state police.

Not only in Medford was Sergeant Ellenburg known and liked. After the state police was organized in 1931, he was stationed for short periods at Eugene and Salem, and at both offices he was considered one of the organization's finest and most popular officers. His friends included almost every high official in Oregon, and he was dearly beloved by all whom he commanded in the national guard.

He was a member of the Medford post of the American Legion, having transferred from the Oregon City afternoon were 700 CCC enrollees and 700 men employed outside the service in addition to forest protective staff members, headquarters here stated.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 5.—(AP) Emergency calls for fire fighters and fallers were sounded today as national forest administrators sought to establish a defense against a fire that exploded yesterday afternoon to more than double its size in a matter of a few hours.

By midnight last night the Spud Hill conflagration on the Clispus river in the Columbia national forest had increased from 750 to more than 1500 acres. Fire fighters on the ground now total about 1300 with reinforcements arriving hourly.

Early yesterday afternoon the blaze was thought to have been brought under control. A fresh northwest wind provided the impetus necessary to spread the blaze before nightfall to tremendous proportions, however, while fighters on the ground sought desperately to stem its advance.

Weather conditions were described as more favorable for the fighting contingents this morning but the fire was still out of control. Its spread has been to the east and southeast from the fire's point of origin near the Skamania - Lewis county border.

Forest executives described yesterday's "blowup" of the Spud Hill fire as a spectacular demonstration that fire fighters were powerless to check. Before a brisk afternoon wind the blaze broke its bounds to reach an area covered with 35 year old green fir trees in which it "crowned," eating a path from tree to tree and fattening on resinous needles of the young trees.

Airport Arrivals—Today's arrivals at Medford municipal airport included Capt. P. L. Murphy of the army air corps reserve at Boston, Mass., who was en route in a North American basic trainer from Pearson field, Vancouver, Wash., to Hamilton field, San Rafael, Cal.; and R. D. Bedinger, supervisor of the bureau of air commerce, en route from Oakland to Portland in a Waco. Bedinger was accompanied by his young son John

FIGHT TO DEATH IS PROCLAIMED BY CHINA CHIEF

An American residents' emergency committee to safeguard lives of 4,000 Americans there. Similar committees were started by the 2,000 Americans in Chekiang and Anhwei province, and by officials elsewhere.

The committee attempted to establish communication with all Americans in the area, and issued instructions on the procedure of concentration if the crisis reaches Shanghai. Means of evacuation to safer districts, if necessary, were outlined. Other consular districts took similar precautions.

It was emphasized that the activities followed a long established formula in all American communities in China for use when needed.

Gause said the organization did not indicate that the emergency was considered imminent.

The United States navy has available 30 ships in far western waters. They could be used to protect or evacuate Americans from danger zones.

General Chiang met with his ministers and army commanders in emergency session at Nanking after his flight to Kaiting.

In Tokyo the Japanese war minister told parliament he is preparing further "punitive measures" against Chinese, and warned the Japanese diet to be prepared for an emergency session to provide additional funds.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Aug. 5.—(AP) Fifty-four year old Tom Mooney, San Francisco preparedness day bomber in which 10 persons were killed,

Dr. Leo L. Stanley, the prison physician, and Dr. Leo Elsworth of the Stanford university medical school, who was retained by Mooney's lawyer to examine the prisoner, both expressed satisfaction without an operation. The prisoner recently was treated for stomach ulcers.

WESSON OIL AND SNOWDRIFT PEOPLE, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

READ THESE RULES CAREFULLY

1—Think of your suggestion for naming the little Snowdrift men pictured here, "Bake and Fry", for instance, or the "Frolics Twins"; the "Creaminess Boys"; "Snow and Drift" or "The Goodness Team." Write your suggestion on any kind of paper or on the entry blank. Print plainly your name and address, and name and address of your grocer.

2—Buy a can of Snowdrift. Unwind the metal strip that sets any size Snowdrift can. Clip off that portion of the wording on the strip which says, "We lock in all its goodness." Enclose this piece of strip in envelope with your name suggestion and address, and mail to "Award Editor, P.O. Box 994, New Orleans, La." This constitutes an entry. Entries will not be considered unless metal strip accompanies each name suggestion.

3—Every entry, duly accompanied by metal strip, will be acknowledged, and in appreciation we will mail you a coupon acceptable by your grocer as 10c against the purchase of your next 5 or 6 pound can of Snowdrift. Because of the large number of suggestions, we cannot enter into any further correspondence with any entrant. No entry will be returned.

4—Contest closes September 15th, 1937. All entries must be postmarked prior to midnight of that date. All entries become the property of the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift Sales Company. Judging will be directed by officials of the Calkins & Holden Advertising Agency, New York, and of the Fitzgerald Advertising Agency of New Orleans. Decision of the judges will be final. Anyone may submit suggestions, in conformity with the rules, except employees of the Wesson Oil & Snowdrift People, their advertising agencies, or their families.

Duplicate awards will be made in case of ties. A complete list of winners will be published as soon after decision as possible.

5—State awards will be made only to entrants from states listed in this advertisement, but the 385 other prizes are open to any one in the U. S. except as specified in Rule No. 4.
