

RATTLER, NOT GOLD FOUND BY YOUTHS

BIG APPLAGATE, Aug. 12.—(Sp.)—Two miniature prospectors, Walter Offenbacher, 10, and his cousin, Elvis Offenbacher, 9, took to the hills near the former's home in search of gold recently, and discovered not their fortunes, but a rattlesnake.

At a spring where they went to do their panning, lay a huge rattler with 13 rattles and a button, and which they estimated to be three feet long. With their miners' shovels they quickly administered death to the reptile, and chopped off his rattles as a souvenir.

As a sequel to this incident, Walter's father, Lance Offenbacher, killed a large rattler at his ranch a few days later, after having accidentally stepped on the snake, which bit at the toe of his shoe.

Heaps Own Reward
TULSA.—(UP)—Clyde Pool has lost faith in turtle nature. In April he set out a dozen tomato plants of the small preserving variety. To guard them from the bugs, he tethered a snapping turtle among the plants. The turtle ate the insects until the tomatoes ripened. Then he ate the tomatoes.

APPLE ANTIC. Southern Negroes started it, just as they did the Charleston and "black bottom." Now Dixie swings to a tricky little routine they've named "The Big Apple." Here's a figure.

STRUT AND TRUCK. There's a little bit of everything in Dixie's "apple" dance. It may have been borrowed from ring-around-the-rosy, but there's also struttin', truckin', shufflin' and reels.

GIVING THE BOOT. It takes some high stepping and kicking to really accomplish this new swingin', stampin', dancing rage. These "apple" kickers are Evalyn Johnson and Johnny Campbell of Columbia, S. C.

DAINTY BUT DAFFY. It may look a bit childish, but take it from the young folks below the Mason-Dixon line, the "apple" dance is a good cure for blues. This is either the start or the finish.

SENATE SIDETRACKS ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The senate side-tracked the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill today until next session under a resolution giving it preferred legislative status at that time.

Under an agreement between the friends and foes of the bill, the senate, without a record vote, adopted a resolution making the anti-lynching bill a "special order" of business at the next session of congress immediately after consideration of crop control legislation.

PEARL CULTURE TRIED BY SOVIET

MURMANSK, U. S. S. R.—(UP)—An experimental farm for raising river pearls is being organized on the Kola peninsula to study the methods of artificial pearl formation.

Last summer an expedition found about 3,000,000 pearl-oysters in the rivers of the Kola peninsula.

As is known, an irritation by an alien body causes the mollusk to emit mother-of-pearl, which coats this alien body, forming a pearl capsule around it. With this in mind, the expedition conducted interesting experiments. Several hundred pearl-oysters were caught and their shells opened. A small shot was introduced into the body of each mollusk which was then thrown into the river.

SENTRY SAVES 10 AT SUICIDE SPAN

AKRON, O.—(UP)—In two years as a gasoline station attendant, Walter Thompson has dissuaded ten persons from suicide.

Thompson's station is at the end of a bridge chosen often by persons as a place to end their lives. When he sees someone ready to jump, he rushes out and persuades him there is something to live for.

"There's something in the way dependent people look," Thompson said. "You see it in their walk, too. They look 'washed up' with living."

"Why do I follow them? I guess because it gives me a sick feeling to see them standing up there on the bridge ready to jump."
