SEASON HERE FOR PICKLING

The pickling and canning season is just starting and we find that the women who really know their spices always like to get them from an authentic drug store. Most druggists take a great pride in having very fresh stocks of herbs and spices that are used in preserving. A few of the more common spices that are called for in our store are... Black and White Mustard seed, Turmeric, Oil of Anise, Bay Leaves, Cinnamon Bark and Berries, Ginger Root, Cloves, Caraway Seed, and Dill seed. MARTIN LAND PLAN HIT BY STANFIELD

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Former Senator Robert N. Stanfield charged in an interview here that "like other amiable and complacent governors," Governor Charles Martin was playing politics with eastern Oregon grazing lands at the expense of the irrevocable school fund.

He referred to a current controversy over the method of consolidation of 700,000 acres of state-owned lands through exchange with the federal government. Stanfield opposed the recommendation of a committee of mine that the land be combined in small acreages on the basis of availability for grazing purposes, contending that fewer large sections would result in more revenue from rentals.
