ACTIONS BY A.F.L. FORGE SHOWDOWN WITH C.I.O. GROUP

TACOMA, Aug. 16.—(AP) Violence in the C.I.O.-A.F.L. battle for control of the Pacific northwest's lumber mill employes was narrowly averted today and threatened again for Tuesday as the situation at the closed St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co. here became involved in charges and counter charges.

International Woodworkers of America appeared at the mill's door early today in what union leaders called a demonstration of mill employes' willingness to return to work.

R. C. Carino, president of the Woodworkers local claiming to represent more than 80 per cent of the company's 1300 workers in mill and camps, said the mill crew arrived in toto, passing through a picket line of A. F. L. sympathizers to reach the company office. Estimates of the number of pickets varied from 300 to 1,000 with no accurate check because of the large area covered by the mill property. Carino said more than 500 workers marched in the C. I. O. phalanx.

TOLEDO, Ore., Aug. 16.—(AP)—The C. D. Johnson Lumber Corp., one of the largest on the Oregon coast, reopened its sawmill today, defying pickets of the A. F. L. lumber and sawmill workers union, who called a strike against a bargaining agreement signed with the rival industrial employes union.

Pickets paraded about the mill but there was no violence as the I. E. U. workers passed the lines and went to their jobs. The strike was the first labor-trouble ever experienced here and instead of hard feelings, pickets and I. E. U. workers, many of whom had worked side by side for years, joked with one another.

Ship Propriety Demands Stewardesses, Men Told

NEW YORK (UP)—Women who travel on ships like breakfast in bed and that was why a lone woman appeared among the 300 male delegates to the constitutional convention of the new National Maritime union here.

The woman was Mrs. Mary Agnes Lobb, the only delegate of her sex to argue the rights of stewardesses. She has been a stewardess on ships for nine years, but only recently found time to give to union affairs.

"I don't think a bedroom with a lady in bed in her nightie is any place for a man," Mrs. Lobb said. "Yet the men are trying to take the jobs away from our stewardesses."

"There's been unrest in the stewards' department. The men think we're poaching on their preserves. Our job used to be to serve wives in bed if the husbands went out to breakfast."

"Now the stewards won't let us in at all if there are married couples and some of them are trying to work stewardesses off the ships. But while there are women passengers going over the ocean there must be stewardesses."

Mrs. Lobb came from a seafaring family and has made more than 100 trans-Atlantic trips. She has two daughters, both of whom recently finished beauty culture school.

"Yes, sir," she told the male delegates. "I'm here to protect the rights of the stewardesses."

And she did, offering two resolutions.

WARREN WARD WILSON, 32, employe of a local automobile firm, was being held in the county jail today following his arrest by state police Saturday afternoon on a warrant issued by authorities in Baker charging larceny by embezzlement. State police were today awaiting word from Baker as to the disposition of Wilson.

Although no information was contained in the warrant, state police said that Wilson told them he had driven a car away from an automobile firm in Baker with which he had been employed, but that he had turned the car over to a man in Pendleton to return to Baker.

Wilson was arrested by state police in the Hooten examining office in the city hall where he was applying for an operator's permit.

PEACE-TIME WORK OF ARMY IS TOLD AT KIWANIS MEET

Peace-time accomplishments of the United States army were sketched in an address given before the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Hotel Medford this afternoon by Sgt. Norman F. Stradleigh, member of the recruiting staff at Portland.

That the army is not simply a machine for destruction was evidenced by Sgt. Stradleigh's recital of achievements by military men in the field of medicine. Among the accomplishments cited by the sergeant were: 1—William Beaumont's work on Alexis St. Martin in 1824 formed the foundation for modern dietetics.

2—In 1809 Hoff worked on leprosy and smallpox and discovered the source of typhoid and hookworm in the same year.

3—Walter Reed discovered the cause of yellow fever in 1901.

4—Gorgas cleaned up Havana in 1901 and improved sanitary conditions in Africa in 1913 in addition to eradicating yellow fever in the Panama Canal Zone, thus making the place inhabitable by whites and paving the way for the successful completion of the canal.

5—Major Russell exterminated rats and eradicated bubonic plague in Puerto Rico in 1912.

Sgt. Stradleigh told of the army's life-saving and disease-prevention work in catastrophes such as earthquakes, floods and conflagrations.

He also described some of the army's outstanding accomplishments in the fields of exploration, industry, communications, engineering, mapping, aviation and chemistry.

Sgt. Stradleigh once resided in Ashland and enlisted in the army at Medford. He attended public schools in Oregon and studied at Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif.

A. E. Schrader, Portland Kiwanian and traveling passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, was a guest of the club. Everett Townbridge, president in the absence of Dr. C. H. Pakke, president who is attending the northwest district Kiwanis convention in Portland.

WOMEN, CHILDREN RUN GAUNTLET TO LEAVE SHANGHAI

ment and stamed down river, ostensibly to turn her guns on the Pootung shore. Foreign officials hoped her withdrawal would be permanent, for the greatest peril to the settlement has been the exchange of bombs and shellfire between Chinese planes and the Izuimo.

Shortly before midnight a terrific explosion rocked Shanghai like an earthquake, but it was not explained. American women and children Monday passed through shellfire to begin their officially ordered exodus from stricken Shanghai.

The first of the hundreds who must leave this city of war within the next few days were aped through the heart of Chinese-Japanese air, land and sea battle along the Whang-poo river—on their way to safety abroad.

Shell fragments tore the decks and roofs of the tender which carried 200 Americans—many of them refugees—to the home-bound liner President Taft, waiting off the Whang-poo's mouth.

Nurses Resent Petticoats. SYDNEY—(UP)—Local nurses are almost on a "petticoat" strike. The nurses declare they would rather go without the concessions than wear petticoats.

Schools of County ARE RENOVATED FOR OPENING ON SEPT. 6

In preparation for opening day September 6, general cleaning and renovating operations are underway in schools of the county, according to C. R. Bowman, county school superintendent.

Most schools will resume classes on Labor Day. Others will observe the holiday or open only for registration, starting regular hours the following day. A few will delay openings until the next week or later in the month.

Buildings and grounds are now undergoing extensive check-ups, which include painting, oiling of floors, cleaning, installation of new equipment and general repairs. Largest county improvement underway is the new high school which is being constructed in conjunction with complete remodeling of the grade school at Prospect.

Superintendent Bowman pointed out that school boards of the county are making special efforts to bring all school property up to standardization requirements, which includes the purchase of reference books, increased playground equipment, better and more convenient water supply and other educational aids.

Vacancies and new teachers for the coming year will not be announced until later, Bowman said. No estimate of probable enrollment can be made as yet.
