

Golf Association Presidents to Attend Egan Memorial Ceremony

OFFICIALS TO JOIN NOTED GOLFERS IN DEDICATION RITES

John Jackson of New York, Head of U. S. G. A., and Paul Pherrin, Head of Northwest Assn., Coming

Already reading like a "Who's Who in American Golf," the list of notables who will be in Medford Sunday to participate in the H. Chandler Egan memorial fountain dedication was increased by two yesterday when word was received that John G. Jackson of New York City, president of the United States Golf Association, and Paul Pherrin, president of the Northwest Amateur Golf Association, would arrive Sunday morning to lend a helping hand in the ceremonies that will honor one of the most beloved golf characters of all time.

Taking actual part in the dedication ceremonies, each of whom will give short speeches, will be Robert T. ("Bobby") Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., considered the greatest golfer that ever lived; Grantland Rice, dean of American sports writers; John Jackson, president of the U. S. G. A.; Paul Pherrin, president of the N. W. A. G. A.; and C. J. Semon and Leonard Carpenter, both officials of the Rogue Valley Golf Club. The fountain dedication will take place at 1 p. m. At 2 o'clock, Harry Cooper and Lawson Little will tee off against Jimmy Thompson and Horton Smith in an 18-hole match play exhibition with medal scores on each hole being recorded. Previous to the memorial fountain dedication, these four famous golfers will demonstrate various shots with accompanying explanatory remarks at 11 a. m.

Arrive Sunday Morning.

Bobby Jones and Grantland Rice will both arrive from the south Sunday morning, as will John Jackson, Cooper, Little, Thompson and Smith will arrive from the north, where they are at present giving exhibition matches in Washington.

Everything has been done to take care of the expected huge crowd that will swarm the fairways Sunday afternoon. Tee, fairway and greens marshals have been appointed and all officials for the match assigned. A sound truck will be on hand to keep the spectators informed as to individual scoring and winners of each hole.

It was announced yesterday that all children 15 years old or under would be admitted free. Wearers of the H. Chandler Egan memorial buttons, which will take the place of tickets, are asked to display their badges prominently so that entrance to the grounds Sunday may be speeded.

Horton Smith

Five of goldfom's biggest stars will play golf in an exhibition match at Medford August 22, as a part of the dedication of a memorial fountain to H. Chandler Egan, nationally famous player and golf architect. Here they are, left to right, above: Bobby Jones, "the greatest golfer of them all"; Jimmy Thompson, whose drives rank with the longest on record; below—Horton Smith, one of the outstanding professional golfers in the world; Lawson Little, the only golfer who has scored a repeat "double slam" in both British and American amateurs.

COLEMAN RETURNS TO YOUNG SPARRING PALS O.S.C. BASEBALL HELM PREFERRED FOR FARR

CORVALLIS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—An old hand, Ralph O. Coleman, came back to the Oregon State college coaching staff today as head man on the baseball team.

Coleman, diamond mentor from 1924 until 1931, will succeed A. T. "Slate" Gill, who will devote all his time to skippering the Beaver baseball combinations in the northern division race.

Coleman, who hurried for Oakland and Portland in the Pacific coast league from 1921 to 1924, will take over his former job next spring and will continue his present duties as director of intramural athletics and instructor in physical education. He is a member of the board of athletic control.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 18.—(AP)—J. C. Lay, Jr., 23-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Lay of Boise, was killed and three other young persons were slightly injured when their automobile rolled down a 30-foot embankment in a canyon 30 miles north of here early today.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Tommy Parr, British heavyweight champion, and his manager, Ted Broadbent, favor youth rather than experience in picking sparring partners in preparing for next week's title bout with World Champion Joe Louis.

"The young 'uns are full of pep and ambition and they make Tommy move lively every second," Broadbent explained.

Joe Wanger and Basler Dean are the young fellows that Broadbent likes especially.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Joe Louis has reached the stage in his training for his title defense against Tommy Farr a week from tomorrow when he isn't allowed a hard workout every day.

Amelia Bloomer, early advocate of woman's suffrage, is remembered chiefly for her advocacy of the "bloomer" costume, originally designed by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Miller.

Second-Half Softball Title at Stake Tonight

NEW HURLER GIVES PICHEMEN CHANCE TO TAKE PENNANT

Mighty Timbermen Defeated 5-3 to Tie Up Race — Win by Piche Tonight Will Mean Double-Header

Game Tonight.

Piche vs. Timber Products, 8 o'clock. (For the second-half championship.)

The amazing youngsters of Piche Hardware, who last night defeated Timber Products, 5-3, in the season's most startling upset, will face the heavy-hitting Timbermen again tonight at 8 o'clock for the second-half pennant of the Commercial softball league. In case Piche once more knock over the Timber Products, the two teams will rest for 10 minutes and then play for the season's championship. Timber Products won the first-half title.

All regularly scheduled Commercial league games have been postponed to make way for the championship game this evening. For Piche, Steiner, brilliant Yreka pitcher, will perform, while Earl Dale will be on the mound for Timber Products. Russ Acherson and Mike Balkovick will umpire.

Playing magnificent ball, Piche tied up the second-half race last night behind the one-hit pitching of Steiner, who was robbed of a no-hitter by Dale himself, who hit a single in the second inning. It was Timber Products' first defeat in 17 games and left both teams with a record of 7 wins and one loss in the second-half race.

Huge Crowd Seen Game.

Over 1000 spectators saw the exciting battle and twice that many are expected for the pennant game tonight. The encounter will be played directly in front of the center of the grandstand. Temporary bleachers are being erected to take care of the crowd.

Dale fanned 11 Piche batters but was touched for 7 solid baseruns while Steiner struck out 7 Timbermen. The highly-rated Timber Products infield came apart at the seams to contribute heavily to the surprise Piche win.

The Timbermen took the lead in the first inning with a pair of runs gained by four Piche errors, but the battle was tied up in the second when McKee, Scheffel and Stouner belted safeties. McKee, by the way, hit 3 for 3 last night after a mediocre season at the plate.

Piche broke the 2-2 deadlock in the fourth inning on Bob Smith's error. McKee's second base knock, and Piche's double to center, the only extra-base hit of the evening. Two runs scored on the blow.

Winner to Tournament.

Timber Products tallied their final run in the fifth on a walk, stolen base and an error, with Piche gaining their last run in the sixth on a walk, McKee's third single and a wild pitch.

The winner of tonight's series for the season championship will enter the district tournament Thursday and Friday for the right to compete in the state tourney at Salem. Other Commercial league scores last night at Gakemon in 1935, Thompson out loose on the 610-yard twelfth hole with a blast that enabled him to reach the green with a spoon second, indicating that his initial wallop saw about 340 yards, or 1020 feet, of scenery before getting tired and resting.

Lawson Little, also a terrific hitter, torped the sea, turned in some remarkable driving in the United States amateur of 1934 at Brookline. Time and again he reached the margin, a hole of 320 yards. The finish was up a definitely steep grade, so Little was not getting long rolls on his shots.

Both Thompson and Little will show how it's done Sunday morning at 11 a. m. when the four ace give a demonstration of plain and fancy shot-making. That demonstration is the business that has local golfers all hot and bothered, and well it should. For the first time in most of their lives, they will have the opportunity of watching at close hand and in person the form of the world's finest players. Not only that, but they will be able to hear those same players explain, in minute detail, every action from the beginning of the swing until the smooth and graceful follow-through.

Bernie Hughes, the big, tough football center who made history at Medford high under Prink Callison and at University of Oregon under most coach, will do his professional pigskin maneuvers with the newly formed Los Angeles team this coming season. Bernie left last night for the southland to begin training for a gruelling schedule which will include games with nine National league outfits, but before he left he imparted some rather exciting information, which is here presented for the first time.

Bernie will not be with the Chicago Cardinals, of which club he has been a member for the past three years, because he has jumped the team. Along with the popular Medford player will be Bill Smith, former All-American end from the

Billy Hulén Says:

Stars of Goldfom To Show Long Shots In Exhibition Here

There is no physical maneuver in the entire world of sports that can remotely approach the spectacle of a top ranking golfer whamming a tee shot toward the distant green—over distance, we mean. Babe Ruth, in his prime, belted homers into stands and over fences that traveled 400 and more feet. But in comparison to the flight of a golf ball that has been powered by one of the really good boys, those four-base wallops by Ruth seem like mere love taps.

Golf players and fans, alike, who have read about the mighty drives of Jimmy Thompson, will have a chance to see him in person next Sunday when the H. Chandler Egan memorial fountain is dedicated at the Rogue Valley golf club. Thompson, with Horton Smith, Lawson Little, Harry Cooper and Bobby Jones, will be in Medford to do their stuff in memory of the great Egan, and one of the largest crowds to ever attend an athletic event in southern Oregon is expected to turn out.

Thompson, who probably packs the huskiest punch off the tee of any golfer who ever lived, has actually sent the little white pelted on rides of 300 yards and upwards. Yards is correct. Figured into feet, that means the ball has traveled 900 and more of them, which makes Babe Ruth's mightiest efforts seem a picnic. In the United States open at Gakemon in 1935, Thompson cut loose on the 610-yard twelfth hole with a blast that enabled him to reach the green with a spoon second, indicating that his initial wallop saw about 340 yards, or 1020 feet, of scenery before getting tired and resting.

University of Washington, Harry Fields, huge ex-Oregon State tackle, and Al Nickellini, who used to play plenty of halfback for Slip Madigan at St. Mary's. The three did the same as Bernie; they walked out on the Cardinals, and this season will play with the Los Angeles team.

Explaining how he and his football pals could get away with it, Bernie said that the Los Angeles club had not been granted a franchise in the National league, even though it will play all the teams in the circuit. Of course, Bernie pointed out, he and Smith, Fields and Nickellini could be outlawed from the league, which they probably would be, but it wouldn't make any difference in regard to their action with Los Angeles.

In other words, Bernie and the boys are pulling out for greener pastures without the formality of getting their releases, which they undoubtedly couldn't get, anyway, because all are rated mighty good pigskin material. All players in the National Professional Football league are signed to iron-clad contracts the same as in organized baseball, and by their action in jumping their team and contract, Bernie and his friends will probably be indefinitely suspended by the National loop.

Los Angeles will bring to the Pacific coast its first big-league professional football in regularly scheduled games. Bernie said that the Los Angeles club would leave September 4 for the east where it would tangle with all National clubs in a two month trip. Arriving back home, the team will then meet the eastern outfits, one after the other.

The National league is composed of the New York Giants, Bill Morgan's team, Chicago Bears, Chicago Cardinals, Greenbay Packers, last year's world champions, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Boston, Brooklyn and Detroit.

This coming campaign will be Bernie's last, he said. He is interested in coaching and will attempt to line up with a college or high school. Bernie stated that he learned more in his first year of pro ball, 1933, than he did his entire high school and college career. It certainly shouldn't be difficult for Bernie Hughes, with four years of the most exacting football in the world behind him, to get a coaching job.

Trumpeter Swans Staging Comeback

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Trumpeter swans—largest north American wild owl once considered near extinction—are staging a comeback, federal game officials said today. A census disclosed 158 of the rare birds, a gain of 43 over last year. They are limited to the vicinity of Yellowstone park and a waterfowl refuge in Montana.

NEW RECORDS SET AT CASTING MEET

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A pair of darkhorse fishermen aided by a new technique that makes bait casting a two-man game today wore national distance crowns earned with world records.

Richard G. Miller, Huntington Beach, Cal., and Edward Liotta, Jr., of Cleveland, touched off the record-breaking parade in the opening events of the National Scientific Anglers club tournament.

Miller winged a dry fly 188 feet across a pool and boosted the old world mark 32 feet.

The 3-ounce plug-casting event moved to a nearby field, where Liotta ripped out a 323-foot strike that beat the old world mark of 299.

MAX RETURNS TO U. S.; EXPECTS GO WITH JOE

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, only man ever to whip Joe Louis, returned to this country today with the announced intention of signing to meet the Detroit bomber for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

The German heavyweight, who knocked out Louis in the twelfth round a year ago, said he didn't give Tommy Farr an outside chance to beat the champion in their August 26 bout at the Yankee stadium.

"I'm willing to fight either the latter part of September or the first of October," Schmeling said.

SISSY FISH FAIL IN STREAM LIFE

DENVER, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The problem of raising millions of fish who won't be "mollycoddies" when they are pushed out into the hard life of fishing streams occupied the convention of the Western Association of State Game and Fish Commissioners today.

The whole trouble, Dr. L. R. Donaldson of the University of Washington school of fisheries at Seattle told the convention, comes from disregarding "the laws of nature."

Fish raised in hatcheries, Dr. Donaldson explained, too often are fed rich, concentrated food and are kept in water carefully maintained at a constant temperature.

"The fish has an almost perfect digestive system," the speaker said. "When you feed it too much—when you disregard the laws of nature, you kill it."

By permitting water temperatures to vary from 30 to 80 degrees, hatcheries can better accustom fish to the more strenuous life they will encounter when they go into streams, Donaldson said.

DENVER COURSE PICKED FOR '38 NATIONAL OPEN

DENVER, Aug. 18.—(AP)—John G. Jackson, of New York City, president of the United States Golf Association, said today the Cherry Hills course here would be the scene for the 1938 national open.

The course was the first west of Chicago to be selected for the nation's biggest golfing event. The tourney will be played June 9, 10 and 11, Jackson said.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed!

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach, you get constipated, your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 35c.
