

Heavyweight Title Fight Postponed to Next Monday Account Rain

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE FOLLOWING WEIGHING RITUAL

Farr Has Nine-Pound Advantage, Is Shown by Scales—New Weighing-in and Examination Before Bout

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Tommy Farr, scheduled for tonight, was postponed until Monday night because of rain. The four-day postponement was announced by promoter Mike Jacobs shortly after the rival fighters weighed in, at the offices of the state athletic commission.

The Welsh challenger had a nine pound advantage on the scales, weighing 207 to 198 for Louis. Because of the length of the postponement, the fighters will be obliged to go through the official weighing-in and examination ceremony again Monday.

UP AND OVER. It seemed rather early and sort of surmish for football, but the Los Angeles Bulldogs, pro team, started out on practice sessions to prepare for an early opening season. Here Orv Mathews, former USC star, is giving the line a once over.

END FIRST ROUND IN KATBALL PLAY

SALEM, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Marshfield blasted out an 11-4 victory over Baker to complete the first round in the state softball tournament here last night.

Matts of Salem continued in the running by defeating Albany, 8-0, with only three hits.

Rotary Bread, Portland, shut out Milwaukie, 5-0.

Albany	0	4	6
Walt	8	5	2
Wellenst, Larsen and Hassler; Gilmore and Beard.
Milwaukie	0	5	4
Rotary Bread	5	5	0

ESTES, CARTER TO WRESTLE MONDAY

An extremely tasty dish of clean and scientific grappling will be served patrons next Monday night when Toots Estes, ex-champion of the Hawaiian Islands, meets Marshall Carter, former wrestling instructor at the University of Missouri, in the main event at the open air high school arena.

In the middle event, Danny Savich and Bobby Wegner will face off in a clean-cut versus meanie squabble, with Dangerous Danny acting in the role of villain. Wild Man Zim will try to crack into the win column at the expense of Sailor Dick Trout, who returns after a few months' absence, the pair meeting in the opening event.

25 Football Vets Report For Bears

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 26.—(AP)—With 25 football lettermen returning, among them the entire team which played Stanford last year, Coach L. B. "Stub" Allison of University of California was a happy man today.

His pessimism, resulting from loss of half a dozen veterans he had figured on, disappeared at sign-up yesterday when he looked over a likely crop of gridiron talent and commented:

"We have the makings of a really great team this year."

Eighty-nine aspirants signed for varsity football.

ECCENTRIC DONKEYS KEEP CROWD IN ROAR AT BASEBALL 'GAME'

Before a large crowd of spectators, Piche's softball team rode their donkeys to a 5-4 victory over the Timber Products war-busters in the annual donkey baseball game yesterday afternoon at the high school field.

Antics of the stubborn animals, especially Dizzy Dean, kept the crowd in near hysteria for five innings, at which point the game was called because of darkness and bruises. "Ole Diz," a husky, unwilling donkey that was even more eccentric than his namesake, if that's possible, was stationed near home plate, ostensibly for the better to mount after hitting the ball and proceed to first base.

However, Dizzy didn't enter into the spirit of things. He was tough to mount and even tougher to propel toward the initial sack. One of his favorite maneuvers was to prance heavily to within a few feet of the base, stop suddenly and catapult his rider into thin air. No amount of coaxing could induce Dizzy to advance to the base until he got good and ready.

Most of the casualties occurred at the plate after the batter had hit the ball and was climbing aboard for the trip to first base. With no exceptions, all players took nose-gives much to the crowd's glee. After the game, Timber Products was forced to admit that as softball players, Piche Hardware's outfit were tops as donkey-busters.

One-Leg Player To Seek Berth On Grid Team

MARIANNA, Fla., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Undaunted by the loss of a leg, Frank Zych is going to try out for the Marianna high school football team this season.

He hopes special adjustments to an artificial limb will make it possible for him to run with at least a measure of the speed he showed in winning a place on the Tri-State all-star eleven last year. The 178-pound halfback lost his left leg in an automobile wreck last January. He has been walking without crutches since May.

LEGLESS PADDLER NEARING HALFWAY

KINGSTON, N. Y., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Twice beaten back by incoming tides, Charles Zimny, 45-year-old legless swimmer, neared the halfway mark today on his attempted non-stop Albany to New York swim.

Three days after slipping, grease-plastered, into the chill waters of the Hudson river at Albany Monday night, Zimny passed Saugerties for the second time last night and continued slowly down the river. He reached there yesterday morning, but heavy tides caught him and carried him six miles upstream to west Catskill before he could begin again to make headway. He lost another mile to the river on his first day out, only a few miles south of Albany.

Then, too, the New Yorker spends much of the night sleeping, flat on his back in the water, his hands pillowed beneath his head, mostly in subdued coverts along the river bank.

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK. EIGHT POUND TROUT TAKEN FROM CRATER

Ore., Aug. 26.—(Sp.)—The prize catch of the season, an eight-pound German brown trout, was landed Sunday by E. A. Acklin, Ashland angler, after a 45-minute struggle. The fish was hooked on a Dr. Shelton silver spoon.

It was 26 1/2 inches long, six inches deep, three inches wide and seven years old. The age was determined by microscopic analysis of the trout's scales by Dr. A. D. Hasler, ranger naturalist. The fish was hooked near Wizard Island. It offered such a spirited struggle that Acklin was forced to row to the shore to effect a successful landing, not being equipped with a landing net. Just as the fish was subdued, the hook came loose. Had this happened a few seconds before, the prize catch would have regained its liberty.

Numerous trout were caught over the week-end, averaging around two pounds each and of rainbow and silver-side species.

The Missouri-Mississippi river system is 322 miles longer than the Amazon.

CUBS' LEAD REDUCED TO PAIR OF GAMES BY LOSS TO GIANTS

By Associated Press. The Cubs met the enemy—and couldn't get away from them. Even if they'd been in the next county, it's doubtful if those Chicago clouters could have gotten the Giants out of their hair yesterday as they blew both ends of their double-header with the second-place New Yorkers. They kicked away a five-run lead in the opener and a one-run edge in the nightcap, which shaved their National league lead to a mere two games.

As a result, the National league race seemed headed today for a photo finish, with enough rough rining to make it look like a rodeo, and with the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis' reviving Cardinals the outsiders that may decide it.

Even a couple of startling performances in the American league couldn't take the spotlight yesterday. For one, there was Bobby Feller, looking like a real pitcher, fanning 16, allowing four hits and hurling the Indians to an 8-1 victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a twin bill, the nightcap of which went to the Boston, 7-2. For another, there was a major league record equaled when the Tigers' outfield did away a fielding chance as the Detroit drubbed the Athletics, 10-4.

Ruggirello Loses To Nova in Third

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Louis Nova of Alameda, California's No. 1 heavyweight contender, floored Salvatore Ruggirello of Chicago three times before the referee halted their 12-round no-decision match in the third round here last night.

Ruggirello brought fans to their feet in the second round when he caught Nova with a right to the chin and sent him tumbling to the canvas for a short count.

Nova weighed 197 and Ruggirello 203.

Gives Up Channel Swim Near Goal

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Frau Breuvra Wendell abandoned an attempt to swim the English channel today, five miles from the English coast, because of high winds.

The 34-year-old woman doctor from the German village Gera set out late yesterday from Gris Nez beach. She returned in a tug today.

Billy Hulen Says:

Medford Athletes Will Start Early Under New Regime

Some wise local sports philbert remarked the other day that if the Ashland high football team was ever going to beat Medford's Black Toronado, they better start doing it this year. From this corner it appears that truer words were never spoken, nor written.

Considering the present athletic setup in the local school system, that statement could be enlarged upon to include basketball, track, baseball or any other form of sports activity you care to mention.

Without a doubt, Medford boasts the finest program for the athletic development of youngsters of any town or city in the entire state. Medford doesn't wait until your young football or basketball prospect gets in high school. Not by a long sight.

This village starts right in before the future star is thoroughly dry back of the ears and teaches him team play, fundamentals and no small amount of technical angles of the game.

The program has been in effect for the past two years, or ever since Bill Bowerman took over the head position at the high school, and should really start producing the coming year. E. H. Hedrick, city school superintendent, made a couple of additions to the already smooth-working system this summer which will add further strength to the coaching angle.

Lynn Mills was brought in from Talent high school, where he had turned out a county baseball championship and a basketball outfit that won the consolation title at the annual SONS invitational tournament, and will handle young athletes in one of the local grammar schools. Ray Hunsaker, former SONS football and basketball player, was discovered in Jacksonville, Fla., producing fine basketball and football clubs, and will bend his efforts toward doing the same at a Medford grammar school.

With those two coaches turning well-drilled, smart and experienced young athletes into junior high for advanced training under George Harrington, who will be spending his first year in that position, and Harrington giving his coaching genius to the youthful performers, by the time they reach high school and Bill Bowerman, Russ Acheson, Ed Kirtley, et al, they should be able to answer all questions with plenty of touchdowns and field goals.

Almost equally important in the development of young athletes' talent as good coaches is the matter of equipment, of which Medford furnishes only the best. From high school on down the finest uniforms, balls, helmets and shoes are purchased for the youngsters, and injuries have been at a minimum because of it.

Russ Acheson, last year's junior high coach who moved up a notch and will handle the ends, punters and passers for Head Coach Bill Bowerman's football machine this season, says that the first workout will be held September 7, opening day school. About 75 candidates are expected, and most of them will be green as grass, so far as high school experience goes. With Acheson adding his knowledge to the high school coaching setup, Ed Kirtley taking care of the backs, and Bowerman working with the line and overseeing all other departments, the locals will certainly not be lacking in quantity and quality of coaches. From the looks of the killer schedule, however, those mentors will come in right handy.

Charley Gehring, great second baseman of the Detroit Tigers, received the ultimate tribute to his ball playing the other day when none other than Eddie Collins, considered the finest keystone guardian of all time, remarked that the Tiger mainstay was as good as any of the old-time performers. Coming from an old-timer, that was especially sweet praise.

Only once in the last 11 seasons has Gehring fallen below the 300 mark in hitting. His big league lifetime batting average is .325, and several times during the last several years he has battled it out down the stretch for the league leadership. His world series average, in 13 games, is a mere .377, which indicates he is quite a money player. He is 34 years old, not a kid anymore, but experts figure him good for at least five more great seasons.

8-Run Lead Fails To Stem Mt. Angel

SALEM, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Coming from behind to overcome an eight-run lead acquired in the first inning, Mt. Angel defeated the Portland Neighbors of Woodcraft team 15 to 13 in the first round of the women's state softball tournament here last night.

Lind-Pomeroy of Portland downed Eugene, 3 to 1. McMinnville defeated Monmouth, 36 to 9 and Salem won from Independence, 9 to 4.

Salem and Mt. Angel meet tonight in the semi-final round.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Monthly reports of the Northwestern Electric Co. and the Portland Gas & Coke Co. showed that both utilities continued to register gains in revenue during July. The electric company listed a net profit of $38,267 compared with $33,255 for July, 1936, and the gas company showed a profit of $19,430 compared with $12,633 for the same period last year.
