

"The Road Back" Is Latest Craterian New Show Season Offering

MIGHTY SEQUEL TO 'ALL QUIET' OPENS AT NEW CRATERIAN

Starting today at the New Craterian theatre, as the latest of their new show season offerings, is Erich Remarque's "The Road Back," sequel to his famous "All Quiet on the Western Front," which created outstanding success seven years ago, both as a novel and as a motion picture of more than ordinary merit.

Again, as in "All Quiet," many set principles of Hollywood production have been set aside and the story is allowed to tell itself. The result therefore, "The Road Back," is a picture that will undoubtedly be quite provocative of much comment. Stark drama, tinged with comedy, it is a picture of deep understanding with much human interest.

At the present time, with newspaper headlines daily promising the outbreak of another war in Europe, with Japan and China at each other's throats, there is much that is deep and significant in "The Road Back." Though it may well be considered a preachment against such mad strife, nonetheless it is first of all entertainment of high degree. A story of German boys who came home from war to find no flags waving no bands playing for them, and only fear, suspicion and hate, they might well be the youth of any nation at any time, even the future. Forced to cast aside the standards by which they have been living and adapt themselves to peace again, some are able to do so, others are not. "The Road Back" tells their story with a force that has won much editorial comment from newspapers throughout the country.

In the newscast which appears on the same program with "The Road Back," the scene of the Rogue Valley Golf club during the formal dedication of the H. Chandler Egan memorial last Sunday, are being shown. Presided over by "Bobby" Jones, assisted by the country's foremost golf officials and players, these same scenes are being released nationally and will bring favorable publicity to Medford and the Rogue river valley.

Comedy, Music Bill Opening at Rialto

"Marry the Girl," a rollicking farce-comedy into which the producers have put a wealth of funny players is scheduled to open a three day run at the Rialto theatre today.

Rarely does any movie have a cast including such top-notchers as Hugh Herbert, Frank McHugh, Mary Boland, Mischa Auer, Alan Mowbray, Allen Jenkins, Carol Hughes, Teddy Hart, Hugh O'Connell and Louise Stanley. The tale begins in the offices of a big newspaper syndicate (a setting brand new to the screen), progresses to a sanatorium conducted by a balm psychiatrist, and includes more or less tetch in the hard writers, cartoonists, editors, authors and the like, to any nothing of a couple of gangsters.

Jack Hylton and his famous International Band share double bill honors with the comedy-film in "She Shall Have Music." June Clyde and Marjorie Brooks assist Hylton with the cast.

No "Magic Carpet"
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28.—(AP)—One "magic carpet" replica of Arabian Nights' fame which collapsed on a Twentieth Century-Fox studio sound stage yesterday, claimed the life of a second man today.

MURDERED WOMAN STUFFED IN KEG, GANGSTER WIDOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The body of the comely young woman found stuffed in a barrel on the rocks beside East river here yesterday was identified today as that of Mrs. Essie Gordon, widow of Max (One-Eyed Max) Gordon, notorious narcotics peddler.

Gordon was killed in automobile accident near El Paso, Tex., last July 31. He had served one prison term after being convicted on a narcotics charge in Boston.

Benjamin Joseph, a friend and guest at the same hotel where Mrs. Gordon resided in New York, led to the identification of the body today.

After reading a description of it in the newspapers, he prevailed upon the night manager of the hotel to enter her room. They found that the bed had not been occupied. Joseph then viewed the body and identified it.

Joseph, according to police, said he had an engagement with Mrs. Gordon for Thursday night, but that he was "thru" up. He said he did not see the woman after that.

Detective William Jackson, of the homicide squad, made the investigation which determined that Mrs. Gordon was the widow of "One-Eyed Max."

He said he also had learned that she had been twice married, the first time to Isadore Musman, a Boston butcher.

Tony Casanova, a beachcomber, found the barrel in which Mrs. Gordon's body was stuffed. Medical Examiner Jacob Werne said she had been stabbed nine times with an ice pick. The point of the instrument was imbedded in her skull and a bullet was found in her brain.

PARALYSIS GAINS BUT NOT SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The public health service said today infantile paralysis appeared more widespread throughout the United States this summer than usual but a spokesman said the situation "isn't so very serious."

He explained the diffusion of cases caused high national totals but did not indicate epidemics in any concentrated areas.

Latest figures collected by the service showed 492 cases in the week ended August 21.

Some of the high state totals were Illinois 54, Texas 51, California 35, Ohio 22, and Colorado and Pennsylvania 21 each. The average total for this time of year is 303.

Railway locomotives in Finland burn a large amount of wood, consumption in the last year totaling 1,600,000 cubic meters of firewood.

Fred Stone Stars in "Hideaway"

Marjorie Lord and Fred Stone have daughter and dad roles in "Hideaway" the new screen story in which the latter tops the featured cast while Miss Lord, a recent recruit to films from the eastern stage, is featured in support. Stone's role is that of a lovable old countryman who takes life as he finds it—until his home is infested with bandits.

"See Racketeers," drama set with the U. S. Coast Guard plays as the added feature with "Hideaway."

SLEEPER SERVICE FOR PLANES HIT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Earl A. Crowley, solicitor of the postoffice department, asserted today a proposed arrangement for through air sleeper service from New York to Los Angeles by United Airlines and Western Air Express would be illegal.

He said the need for eliminating a change of planes by passengers at Salt Lake City was not as important as the companies asserted and the contract contained monopoly dangers.

Crowley expressed the opinion United Airlines would virtually swallow Western Air Express under the contract through complicated provisions for use and supervision of planes of the joint transcontinental route.

Roxy Comedy

Joe E. Brown's latest character for the screen is that of astrologer extraordinary in the feature comedy production "When's Your Birthday?" playing at the Roxy theatre today and tomorrow. Marian Marsh, Fred Keating and Edgar Kennedy have important roles in the laugh-film.

APPLE CAMPAIGN FOR NEWSPAPERS

WENTCHEE, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Cliff Chase, manager of the Washington state apple association, said here the commission had decided today on a broad apple advertising campaign with newspaper ads as the keynote.

Store window displays and magazine copy will be adjuncts of the campaign he said.

Because of the early season in the east the campaign will be started sooner than had been expected.

ROBBED JEWELER PURSUES BANDIT; THEN KILLS HIM

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Pete Borisoff, 48, Russian born jeweler, pursued and beat to death with a pistol butt one of two men who held up and robbed his shop today.

Police captured the other man. Borisoff received a bullet wound in the calf and a superficial scalp wound.

Many persons in the busy shopping district near downtown Los Angeles fled to cover as Borisoff and the men exchanged shots on the sidewalk.

The captured man identified himself to police as Clyde English, 30, a transient, and said he arrived here a week ago from Louisville, Ky. He said his dead companion was George Moulton.

The men entered Borisoff's shop, menaced him with pistols, taped his wrists and mouth, robbed the cash till and took a haul of jewelry. As they fled, Borisoff tore the tape from his wrists. He pursued them with a pistol, firing one shot. They flung themselves to the sidewalk and fired back.

Borisoff grappled with Moulton, raining blows on his head with the pistol butt until Moulton sank to the pavement dead.

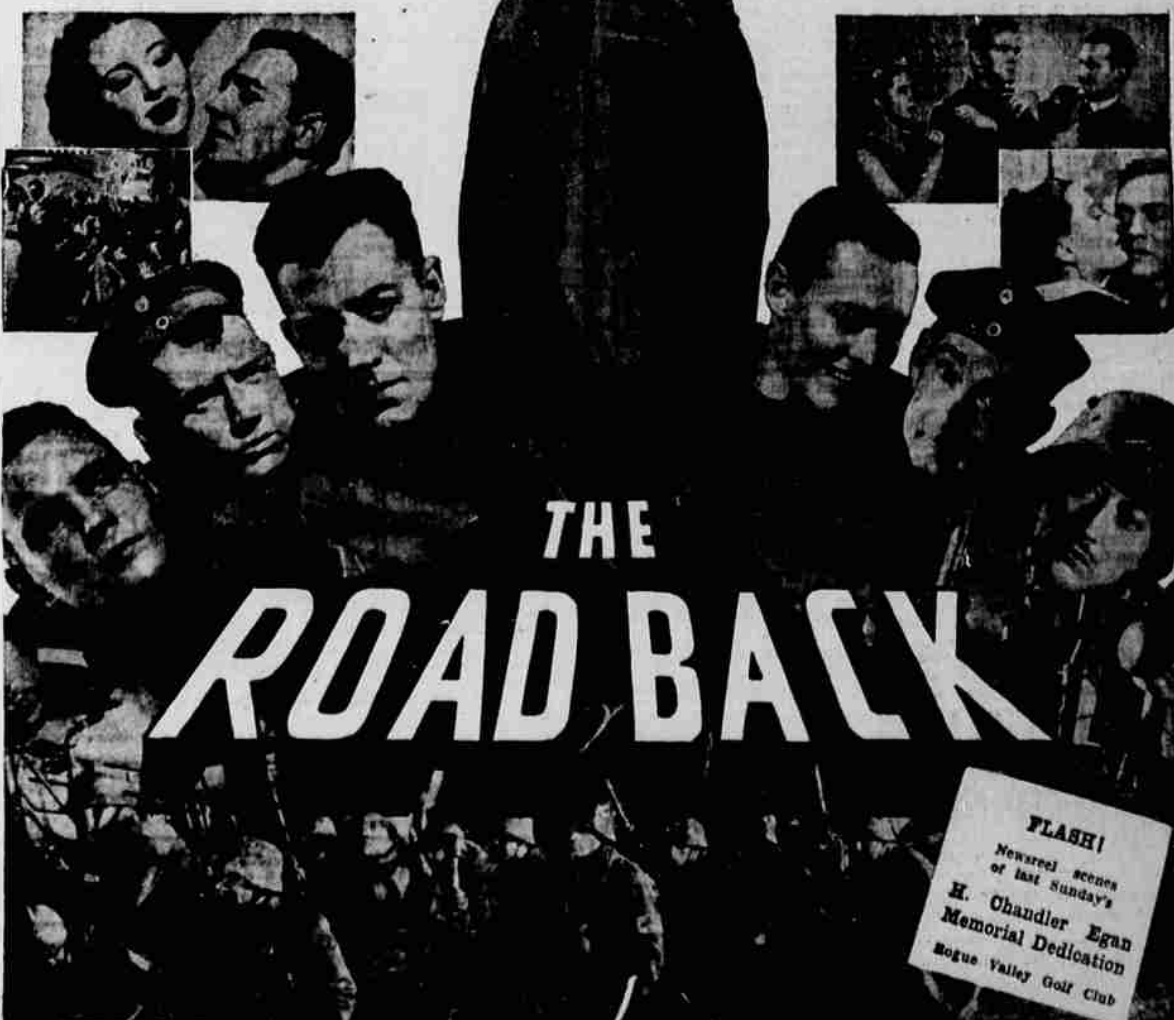

Police summoned by a passerby who saw the robbery soon arrived and captured English a short distance away, recovering the loot.
