

DEATH FORECAST FOUND IN BLOOD SAVANT REVEALS

Cells Take On Different Appearance As End Near—Cancer and Leukemia Kindred Ailments Is Word

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—(P)—Prophets of the blood stream—abnormal cells which predict death within a week, were described here today by Dr. Edwin E. Osgood, professor of experimental medicine at the University of Oregon medical school.

The cells which forecast death for their host are normally present in the blood stream, Dr. Osgood said, but take on a different appearance when death is near.

Success in Tests
When seen under the microscope, Dr. Osgood explained, the abnormal cells show granules, or grains, normally not present; the stain used to make them visible shows a deeper blue, and the cells show vacuoles, or holes, in their surfaces.

Death was correctly predicted in over 90 per cent of the more than 100 consecutive cases in Multnomah county hospital when blood samples showed characteristic holes in connection with toxic granules, Dr. Osgood relates in his new book, "Atlas of Hematology."

Studies described in the atlas produced further evidence that cancer and leukemia, a fatal blood disease, are allied ailments. Leukemia cells show characteristic enlargement of the nucleus, a small clear-staining portion within the nuclei, the central deep-staining part of the cell, Dr. Osgood said. The condition is typical of cancerous cells.

New Invention
Dr. Osgood also announced invention of a new, simplified system of blood cell classification for identification of individual blood cells according to size, color, granulation and nuclear structure.
Dr. Osgood perfected the apparatus which propagated individual cells outside the body for the first time in medical history. Dr. Alexis Carrel has grown tissue in the laboratory, but separate cell culture was impossible before the Osgood technique was developed.

DALY RETURNS FROM TRIP EAST AS GUEST OF WHITE MOTOR CO.

Joseph L. Daly, vice-president of Walter W. Abbey, Inc., and manager of the truck sales and service department, returned to Medford early this week from a month's trip to the middle-west and Canada, the prize he received from the White Motor company for being the 37th highest salesman in the United States for White trucks and equipment during the first six months of 1937. Daly's sales grossed $50,000 for the period.

Leaving here the latter part of July, Daly flew to Cleveland where he met scores of other members of the "1937 White Club." From Cleveland, the salesman boarded a train for Montreal, Canada, and from there took a steamer up the St. Lawrence river to Murray Bay, where a two weeks' outing and sales meeting was held.

In the meantime, Mrs. Daly had left Medford for Detroit, and after picking up a new Nash sedan at Kenosha, Wis., following his return from Murray Bay, Daly met his wife in Detroit and they motored back to Medford in the new sedan.
The both report a marvelous trip home, but expressed their appreciation of Medford climate in comparison to the middle-west.

Boos Are Boxoffice Boon Is Answer to Injunction

TIPTON, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Contending boos are a boxoffice boon, Tipton boaters framed a vigorous reply today to an injunction banning boosing of commercial advertisements in movie programs.

On the petition of Theater Manager R. E. Martin, Superior Judge R. E. Martin issued the temporary restraining order against the oral outbursts of local No. 3 of the Society for the Boosing of Commercial Advertisements in Motion Picture Theaters.

Also named in the suit was the Tipton Gazette, which printed an advertisement wherein members of local No. 3 appealed for public support.
Damages were mentioned in Martin's petition also, but Publisher John Herring (himself a non-booser) scorned any such claim and asserted that far from injuring business, the boosing had been a boxoffice bonanza.
"We carried the ad Wednesday and there was a full turnout of the club Wednesday night," said Herring. "They all bought tickets, too. Thursday night there was a bigger crowd."
"Friday night there was standing room only and all the policemen in town were standing in it." (The injunction was issued Friday.) "I tell you . . . the patrons were mighty disappointed because there wasn't any boosing Friday night."
Herring added that at the hearing set for Thursday he also would contend that the court was without authority to enjoin the publishing of advertising.
"Why," he said, "that would mean that one grocer could enjoin a paper from carrying the ads of another grocer who claimed his products were 'best.'"
Meanwhile in Little Rock, Ark., where the boo movement originated several weeks ago, local No. 1 of the S.B.C.A.M.P.T. rallied to lend its moral support to legally beleaguered brothers in boo.
Said Executive Secretary M. C. Blackman: "We will give a mass, sympathy boo Thursday night."

BOYS WILL FACE PORTLAND TRIAL FORGER'S RETURN UP TO GOVERNOR

Three Portland youths who were arrested by state and city police Monday evening on a charge of larceny of an auto, will be returned to the Oregon metropolis either today or tomorrow, state police said after receiving word from authorities there.
The youths are Thomas William Francis, 19; David Monroe Williams, 20; and Charles Ernest Montague Duncan, 19.
An officer from the Portland city police bureau will arrive in Medford today to return the trio for prosecution, state police said.
The young men were arrested on South Fir street when state and city police stopped a 1935 Ford coupe for investigation. The trio admitted they had stolen the car, owned by P. H. Kane of Portland, from a parking lot early Monday morning, according to state police.

A decision by the governor is expected late today on the request of Jackson county for extradition of Leo M. Schroeder, captured last Friday in Asbury Park, N. J., and under a three-year sentence in state prison for obtaining money under false pretenses. Schroeder and Leo Hicks, under a two and one-half year sentence, escaped last June 29.
Question of the expense of returning Schroeder here is expected to be an important factor in the final decision of the governor, according to Deputy District Attorney George W. Neilson, who went to Salem the first of the week to present the request, and attend to other county matters.
Schroeder is still held in Asbury Park. According to New Jersey authorities Schroeder in his two months of freedom left a trail of bad checks across the land.
Schroeder was arrested at Denver, Colo., last spring after he had entertained two girl hitchhikers at a Rogue River auto camp, and financed the party with bogus paper, amounting to more than $200.

NEW YEAR'S MARK SEEN FOR CRATER

CRATER LAKE, Sept. 1.—(Sp.)—Crater lake national park travel has passed the 170,000 mark for the 1937 season, approximately 15,000 visitors ahead of the 1936 total.
With one more month in the travel year remaining, it is thought the season's total will reach 200,000 for a new all-time record. A large attendance is expected for the Labor Day holidays. It will be the last large throng for the season and will be followed by a general dropping off of visitors throughout the month.
Rowboats for fishing will be taken off the lake immediately after Labor Day, as well as launches for excursions. The lodge will remain open until September 20, when all public utilities in the park will cease for the season.

JOBLESS CENSUS WILL BE PLANNED AFTER LABOR DAY

Most Interests Now Agree Action Will Be Helpful—Estimates of Those Not Working Vary Greatly

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The five officials named to direct the unemployment census authorized by congress will work out detailed arrangements at a meeting soon after Labor day, associates said today.

President Roosevelt signed yesterday a bill providing for voluntary registration of the jobless and tabulation of data on part-time employment and job opportunities. The census is to be completed, by next April 1.
The bill authorized use of $5,000,000 of WPA funds but Senator Byrnes (D. S.C.) told the senate, at time of passage, that probably not more than $4,000,000 would be needed. Opposed in Past.

Both President Roosevelt and WPA administrator Harry L. Hopkins in the past have opposed taking an unemployment census, on grounds the government had all the information needed to carry on its relief work.

Later, however, Hopkins said a census could be helpful "in order to understand more completely the nature of the present unemployment problem."
There have been widely divergent estimates as to the number of unemployed.

The National Association of Manufacturers, which has reported that more people are at work now than in 1929, termed the new bill "a step in the right direction."
Estimates Wide.

Several months ago Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.) estimated the unemployed at 2,075,000. Secretary of Labor Perkins used the figure of 8,000,000; the American Federation of Labor estimated between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000.

Hopkins has asserted that not even boom times will cut the total far under 4,000,000 or 5,000,000.

Every 10 years, in its regular census, the census bureau takes a count of the unemployed; in 1930 the figure was put at 3,891,000.

The canvassers divided this total as follows:
Able to work and hunting work . . . . . 2,429,000
Having jobs but laid off . . . . . 759,000
Unable to work . . . . . 173,000
Having jobs, but laying off . . . . . 274,000
Out of a job, not hunting for another . . . . . 88,000
Idle, but drawing pay . . . . . 82,000

Frightened Boy Admits Stabbing

EUGENE, Sept. 1.—(AP)—State police said today the confession of a frightened boy had cleared up the mystery of the stabbing of Lee Koch, 18-year-old cannery worker.

The boy, Kenneth Knutsen, of Trant, was released after he explained that the wound was inflicted by accident in a playful scuffle. He told officers Koch and a companion advanced on him while he was whittling a match and Koch ran against the knife which inflicted a deep wound in the abdomen.

$154,696 RELIEF AUTHORIZED FOR MONTH IN STATE

$276,413 for Old Age Assistance — $10,419 for Blind $26,515 for Care of Dependent Children

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—(P)—The state relief committee authorized $154,696 today to meet its public assistance requirements for September.

The committee approved $276,413 for old age assistance in August, $10,419 for blind assistance and $26,515 for the care of dependent children.

About 35.1 per cent of the 20,816 cases handled in August were for direct relief. Elmer R. Goudy, administrator, reported. Old age assistance represented 39.6 per cent of the total, 1.9 per cent for the blind and 3.3 per cent dependent children.

General assistance cases dropped from 8,270 in June to 7,539 in July, the administrator said. Old age assistance declined but aid to the blind and dependent children increased.

The number of family cases seeking general assistance, Goudy told the committee, declined 11 per cent in July and single cases 5.3 per cent.

S. Stephenson Smith, president of the Oregon commonwealth federation and professor at the University of Oregon, asked the committee to "re-
