WILL YOU GAMBLE A THREE CENT STAMP FOR RELIEF FROM ASTHMATIC SPASMS?

El Aguinaldo, Cuban Wonder Honey, is sold under a money back guarantee of satisfaction.

If you suffer from spasmodic attacks of asthma we want you to read what it has done for others . . . to try it for yourself and then, if it has not helped you, to let us repay you for what you have spent on the experiment.

El Aguinaldo is a pure bee's honey gathered in the Maestra Mountains of Cuba. The wild bees produce this honey which for generations has been gathered by the natives and used as a household remedy.

In asthma, El Aguinaldo tends to reduce the spasmodic attacks. It tends to reduce mucous, loosen tight and sticky phelgm, to soothe sore and irritated membranes.

While it is a pure food honey, laboratory tests show the mineral ash to contain many of the important minerals used by medical science in the care of the human body. Part of El Aguinaldo has never been analyzed. This portion, which contains complex organic bodies, has amazing qualities that have often spelled grateful relief for the spasmodic attacks of asthma.

You too, may find your relief in El Aguinaldo! Send for a bottle today! The money back guarantee protects you. Will you gamble a postage stamp for RELIEF!!!

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP) Stock market leaders crashed into new low territory for two years or longer today following an opening rally inspired by action of the government in withdrawing $300,000,000 in sterilized gold to lighten credit needs.

At the worst prices tumbled 1 to 7 points. There were a few losses of as much as 13 or so. In the feverish gyrations of the list, the ticker tape frequently lagged, at one time being about five minutes behind.

Some support appeared in the final hour, with a number of pivotal stocks cutting sizeable portions from their extreme declines. Many, however, dragged bottom when the closing gong sounded.

Transfers were in the neighborhood of 2,600,000 shares.

Government bonds were mildly responsive to the gold shift and the decision of the authorities to purchase short term treasury paper on the open market if necessary. Corporation loans dipped after an initial upturn.

Mickey Rooney Film Pleases Rialto Fans

Containing all requisites that make good entertainment, "The Hoosier Schoolboy" opened last night at the Rialto theatre to a well satisfied audience. The cast is studded with outstanding screen names headed by talented Mickey Rooney.

"The Hoosier Schoolboy" is a rustic drama of a shell-shocked war veteran, decorated in the war for valor but a nobody in the town of Greenfield, and his young spirited son, Shockey, considered an outcast by his schoolmates because he "lives on the other side of the tracks."

"Dance Charlie Dance" is also on the same bill at the Rialto until tomorrow night. Stuart Erwin, Allen Jenkins, Glenda Farrell and Jean Muir are featured in the hilarious comedy hit.

Frances Farmer In Craterian Picture With Edward Arnold

Another of those masterpieces of motion picture art, still an all too rare pleasure for theatre goers, was displayed last night at the New Craterian theatre. Based on the life of Jim Fisk, "The Toast of New York" is a gripping and entertaining dramatic romance, its high emotional appeal being in its love theme—the flamboyant courtship of fascinating Josie Mansfield by the financier.

Frances Farmer is ideally suited to the role of Josie Mansfield, the woman for whom Fisk tries to solidify his financial empire by gaining a corner on the world gold market. Her pleasing contralto is heard in three songs, one of which is "Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt," a classic of the post-Civil War era.

Edward Arnold steps into the 1865 frock coat and square-toed boots as naturally as did Fisk himself in his heydey of big railroad stock manipulation when Commodore Vanderbilt, Daniel Drew and others battled with him to gain leadership of the financial world. Arnold again proves that he is the most able cinema portrayer of strong-hearted figures.

Cary Grant, as the handsome partner of Fisk, takes full advantages of his romantic role.

The picture will remain at the New Craterian through Tuesday.

Fair Attendance Sets New Record

SALEM, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Attendance at the 76th Oregon state fair, which closed yesterday, totaled about 100,000, compared with 90,000 last year, fair officials estimated today.

Receipts were $80,000, about $10,000 more than last year, while operating costs were less this year.

Betting receipts at the six-day horse race meet were $93,776, a new record. Last year's handle was $27,908 less than this year. The fair gets $9,377 of the wagering receipts, and the state racing commission will take $2,344.
