Week-end Guests At Barnes Home
Visitors in Medford over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sexton of San Francisco, who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee Barnes.

The Sextons made their home in Portland until a few months ago where Mr. Sexton was vice-president and manager of the States Steamship company and Quaker lines.

About six months ago they left Portland to make their home in the Bay district and now reside in San Mateo.

The visitors left by train Sunday evening to return south.

Miss England Is Medford Visitor
Leaving by train for the north this morning was Miss Lillian England of Eugene, who is returning home after a summer in Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss England arrived here Sunday evening from the south to be the guest of Miss Florence Daniels. The two are sorority sisters at the University of Oregon, where both attend school.

Miss Daniels will leave Thursday for Eugene to resume studies at the university.

House Guest Arrives Today
Miss Caroline Crane of Hollywood, Calif., is expected to arrive today from the south for a stay here. She will be the house guest of Miss Betty Lee Paske.

Miss Crane will spend the remainder of the week here. She and Miss Paske will leave this week-end for Portland, where they will visit for a short while before returning to Eugene, where both are students at the University of Oregon.

Circle Meeting Scheduled Tonight
Schools and churches in China will be the subject for discussion at tonight's meeting of the circle missionary society of the First Christian church scheduled for 8 o'clock in the church recreational hall.

Virginia Frenenburg heads the group in charge of the program. A recreation period is planned to follow the program and refreshments will be served.

All young people over high school age are cordially invited.

Golf Luncheon Set Wednesday
Women of the Rogue Valley Golf club will gather at the course tomorrow for weekly ladies' day activities.

Luncheon is planned for 12:30 o'clock in the clubhouse and will be followed by a kicker tournament. Mrs. Walter Krasse is in charge of luncheon arrangements.

Miss Getchell Home from South
Just returned is Miss Gloria Getchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delroy Getchell.

Miss Getchell has been the guest of friends in Burlingame and San Mateo in California for the past two weeks, motoring south.

Carnation Club Meeting Thursday
Members of the Carnation club will gather for regular monthly session Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. It has been announced.

The group will convene at the home of Mrs. H. G. Wilson, 7 Chestnut street.

Girls' Clothes Echo Mothers'
NEW YORK—(AP)—Your child is going to wear more "grown-up" clothes this year.

She will be off to school in frocks that have taken many a hint from yours. But that doesn't mean she will have clothes that are beyond her years. Her dresses will be extremely simple, almost as smoothly tailored as your suit. They will be made of better material than last year and will have a finer finish.

Suspender frocks, jumper dresses and bolero-and-skirt outfits—any costume that demands a blouse—are the last word in smartness for girls from six to eleven.

They come in navy blues, brown and a new deep green, trimmed with bright Austrian braids or pique piping and worn with washable blouses, stitched and smoothed like a grown-up's. All those combined with skirts that are buttoned on around the belt, which is often attached to a sleeveless top, so that the skirts may be worn with sweaters.

The plaids, so important in Paris fashions, are just as big news in the juvenile modes. There are scores of plaid wool princess school dresses, jackets and coats.

Recent Visitors Leave for South
Stopping in Medford recently were Miss Eva Jones and Miss Dorothy McArthur, both of San Francisco, who were guests of Miss Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Jones.

The two were returning south after a vacation in British Columbia. They left for the bay city last week-end. During their stay they visited Crater and Diamond lakes and other vacation resorts.

ACTIVITY RESUMED BY TOASTMASTERS
Medford Toastmaster's club resumed activities after the summer recess with a meeting in the Hotel Holland last night. The session was dedicated to Kenneth Scott Wood, former club critic and senior high school teacher who is now teaching in Michigan.

Six members spoke extemporaneously last night on topics assigned by Frank Gray. The topics concerned current national and international events.

Seth Bullis, club president, expressed appreciation of Mr. Wood's services. He said Mr. Wood was instrumental in building the club up to the standards required for a charter in Toastmasters International.

BIRTHS
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Haynes of Klamath Falls in Community hospital this morning, a baby girl weighing six pounds, four ounces. Both mother and daughter are reported doing nicely.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14—(AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for William H. Smith, 74, son of the late George Smith, Eugene pioneer. He was a charter member of the Salem chapter of the Elks' lodge.

EDUCATION BOARD EYES DETAILS FOR COLLEGE OPENING

Long Docket of Personnel and Equipment Matters Taken Up — Committee Appointments Announced

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14—(AP)—The state board of higher education today heard through a long docket of personnel and equipment details in preparation for the opening of the colleges next week, settled more building project questions and arranged its own organization of committees for the year at the regular September meeting.

Selection of a new president of the university to succeed President C. V. Boyer, resigned, was not even mentioned, as Chancellor F. M. Hunter was absent in the east, presumably looking over prospective material.

Favor Cultural Center
A proposed WPA cultural center for Portland to house the Portland extension center of the board, provide a little theatre and serve generally as a center for art, music and drama organizations, cannot be sponsored solely by the board, it was decided.

Members expressed hearty approval of the project, planned for erection on the park site at the lower end of Terwilliger boulevard.

The proposed $300,000 chemistry building at the state college was made the preferred pending building project by the board.

AUTOIST SUFFERS INJURY IN CRASH
A. T. Fleming of Palo Alto, Cal., was today confined in Community hospital with two broken ribs, a bruised head and a lacerated left hand, injuries incurred when he lost control of his Cadillac sedan last night and crashed into a concrete abutment on the Pacific highway near the Chateau. Not seriously hurt, Fleming was expected to leave the hospital tomorrow afternoon.

According to state police, Fleming claimed there were not proper signals at the point where the new highway being built near Talent meets the present route. Fleming told state police he lost control of his machine in the loose gravel as he was traveling north and skidded into the concrete abutment. The auto was badly damaged. He was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

ELKS LODGE TO TEST CONVENTION PROGRAM
The Elks lodge session for Thursday night has been turned over to C. E. Gates, general chairman of the convention committee. Gates said he would give the members a sample of the entertainment that is expected for the convention.

An unusually large crowd is expected and the lodge session will be followed by a lunch of hot meat sandwiches, coffee and beer. This is the last lodge meeting before the convention and Exalted Ruler B. L. Sanderson, especially invites every member to be present.

Communications
Lands Fair Exhibit.
To the Editor:
I am submitting this contribution in an effort to give credit where credit is due. In other words, to hand a bouquet to the living, while they can enjoy it. I refer to the Jackson county exhibit at the state fair.

Having spent the summer in Corvallis, I naturally visited the fair at Salem. I was, at once, impressed with the flawless appearance of the miniature model of the Medford airport, placed in the foreground of the exhibit. I had seen the model in Medford and thought it good, but it takes contrast with other things of like nature to bring out the good or bad points in any thing.

So often in exhibits at such places there is that impression of amateurish work, no matter how good the representation may be. The airport model was free from such amateurism. It shows more the finished touch of the artisan.

To test the impression which I had formed, I stood by and watched, and listened to the crowd. Always there was a gathering in front of the exhibit. Youngsters, oldsters and middle aged. Their attention was centered on the model of the airport and their comments were many and friendly.

I stood at the railing, upstairs in the balcony, and watched the Jackson county exhibit, drew the attention of the crowd. That is what I needed, largely, in any such presentation. It helps to show off the main exhibit.

I am not trying to over-inflate the boys of the Medford fire department, who built the model. Just handing a bouquet of roses while the season is on.

IMPARTIAL PROBE OF BLACK AND KKK SOUGHT BY WALSH

The imperial wizard's statement came in the nature of a backfire on Copeland, who precipitated the controversy by declaring that Juscelo Black "should resign at once" in view of allegations that he is a member of the white-robed secret order. Copeland led the fight against senatorial confirmation of Black's appointment to the supreme court.

Copeland busy with his campaign in the New York mayoralty contest, could not be reached immediately to comment on Imperial Wizard Evans' statement.

In an interview at Clinton, Mass., Senator Walsh declared: "The only practical thing that can be done to prevent Justice Black from serving on the U. S. supreme court is through presidential action."

The president could now, in view of the alleged new evidence that he (Black) is a klanman and which was never before him or the senate, ask some impartial agency to obtain all the facts—and if the president, through such investigation, found

Black to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan, he can ask for his resignation. Urges Black Statement.

"The senate cannot act until January," Walsh continued, "and then it could only investigate the facts, but could not remove him even if he was found to be a member of the Klan."

"I repeat, it seems to me that a public statement should be made by Black to relieve the president of embarrassment and the charge of selecting, unknowingly, of course, a klanman for the supreme court."

In Atlantic City, Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama referred to a series of copyrighted articles published by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and contending that he, Graves, was a former member of the Klan. He said, however, that he could not recall ever meeting Black at any Klan meetings or conferences.

"I never knew Black to be a member of the Klan," he said, "and I never saw one of the life membership cards in the Klan which Black and I were supposed to hold."

Maytag Washers Will Be Handled By New Concern

The new concern will handle the well known Maytag line of washers with parts and service facilities as well as "Sun Flame" oil burning heaters. Evan W. Alborn, regional sales manager for the Maytag Northwest company, is in Medford today completing details of the Medford Maytag company's representation of his company's Maytag line.

Both Younger and Gowles are long experienced in the electrical sales and service field and have been identified with former Maytag sales organizations. Service on all makes of washers will be featured by the new firm.

Gains Continue In Portland Births
PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Stork "business" in Portland boomed for the sixth consecutive month during August, the city health bureau reported, with more than 400 births recorded each month.

The first eight months of 1936 showed not a single time when the number reached 400. The 423 births last month were 67 more than in August, 1935.

MUSICIAN SUFFERS SHATTERED LEG IN SHOOTING AFFRAY

The hallway, city police said Evans told them. Evans then opened the door and went into the hallway, he said, at which point Erdt advanced toward him from the end of the hallway. Evans warned Erdt twice to stop, he said, and when the latter refused to do so, fired the gun three times at the floor in front of Erdt. The first two bullets failed to explode but the third hit Erdt squarely on the shin-bone about nine inches below the knee.

Meant to Frighten.
"I didn't intend to hit him," Evans said today. "I thought if I fired into the floor he would stop. I didn't know the two men, but from the way they acted, I wasn't taking any chances of getting robbed or murdered."

Pair Go to Street.
Evan then said that he went back into his room to get dressed so that he could go down town and call the police. In the meantime, Moran had helped the wounded Erdt to his feet and the two had gone to the street, where city police found them at 2:50 a. m. at the corner of Sixth and Front streets.

Moran approached the officers and said that his friend was shot in the leg and "bleeding to death." Police took Erdt to the hospital and Moran to the station. Moran, police stated, refused at first to describe the shooting but agreed to take officers to the scene when he was threatened with the lock-up. He then took city police to the rooming house, where Evans readily admitted the shooting.

Pair drunk, Is Claimed.
Lola De Voe, manager of the rooming house, told city police that Moran and Erdt were extremely drunk and disorderly. Moran, according to city police, is a rodeo performer and had moved last night from the Imperial rooms to the Jackson hotel. He had previously lived in Portland. Moran told the city police that he and Erdt had gone back to the Imperial rooms and that they couldn't find their way out of the hallway.

Erdt, a musician at the Brass Hall, has been living at the Grand hotel, he told hospital attendants. With the exception of the bullet wound, he was otherwise uninjured, and not considered seriously hurt.
