GOOD NEIGHBOR LEAGUE

RACIAL TOLERATION IS AIM IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—As the Good Neighbor league renews its activities with special dinners in 300 cities celebrating constitution day, this column is able to reveal a broadening of the objectives of the organization, as seen by its president, Walter A. Jones.

These objectives, it can be authoritatively stated, will include, if Mr. Jones achieves his present purposes, an attempt to extend the "good neighbor" policy beyond the bounds of the western hemisphere.

He believes that the nations should get together and discuss one another's economic needs, with special reference to those which lack necessary raw materials. He believes that the Good Neighbor league might be instrumental in mobilizing public sentiment toward such approach.

Meanwhile, he expresses the conviction that one of the league's jobs at home is breaking down racial, religious, social and class prejudices.

"This is the way Mr. Jones puts it: 'I believe in the integrity of the constitution and allow no one to take second place to myself or devotion to the sacred traditions of our great nation. I am interested in the Good Neighbor league.'

"First, because the Good Neighbor league believes that racial, religious, economic and social class prejudices which separate men and women of good will constitute a serious barrier in maintaining the spirit of American democracy which the constitution guarantees American citizenship.

"Second, these prejudices make impossible the creation of world friendship, and unless they are broken down, the progress towards a better life, to which every man and woman is entitled, will be impeded.

"Therefore, the Good Neighbor league believes that, through the constitution as it is, our democracy will be continued, and rights assured and prejudices destroyed provided a liberal interpretation of the constitution in step with the times is assured.

"To that end, the Good Neighbor league will oppose all policies, movements and persons in this country which threaten such interpretation and will support those which seek to advance it."

The president's "reluctance" in signing the bill which appropriated $14,618,000 for vocational training was widely publicized by the message which he wrote accompanying the measure.

But over the apparently still greater reluctance in paying out the

NEW DEAL GAINS DOUBLE TRIUMPH BY HUGE MARGIN

LaGuardia Wins Republican

Nomination — Mahoney Beats Copeland for Demo Backing Over 170,000

By HENRY PAYNTER
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The New Deal won a smashing double victory over Tammany in New York City's mayoral primaries, today's count of yesterday's election showed.

Tammany's candidate, United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, New Deal foe, was defeated in both the Democratic and Republican primaries, today's count of yesterday's election showed.

Mahoney Beats Copeland, head of an anti-Tammany fusion movement and also a friend of the New Deal, created the Republican nomination from Tammany's candidate by more than 30,000 votes.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, choice of James A. Farley as candidate of an anti-Tammany, New Deal coalition, defeated Copeland for the Democratic nomination by more than 170,000 votes.

Latest totals were:
Democratic — Mahoney 411,548,
Copeland 240,140, LaGuardia (write-in) 35,837. (Sixty-three election districts missing.)

Republican — LaGuardia 79,862,
Copeland 46,550. (Forty-six districts missing.)

To add insult to injury, more than 50,000 registered Democrats, without any organized backing, wrote in the

IMPORT LICENSE REDUCED ON FRUIT

PARIS, Sept. 17.—(UP)—A 50 percent reduction on import licenses for United States apples and pears became effective today.

Letters exchanged between U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos established the reduction, were published in the official journal.

Reduction of the licenses should expand the French market for northwest pears and apples, it was said by R. Kramer Deuel, secretary of the Rogue River Valley Traffic association.

France has a fruit import quota which is divided among brokers, Mr. Deuel explained. The brokers are licensed and it is their license fee which has now been cut in half, he related. This saving, Mr. Deuel continued, will enable the brokers to buy more fruit or to sell it for less than heretofore. In either event, northwest pears and apples will benefit, he asserted.

PORTLAND, Sept. 17.—(AP)—August carloadings in the Pacific Northwest reached 102,654, a gain of more than 3 percent over last year, and above the 100,000 mark for the first time in six years.

Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia (above), who ousted Tammany four years ago as the spearhead of a fusion reform movement, won the Republican nomination for mayor of New York yesterday in a tidal wave of ballots which stamped his opponent, Senator Royal S. Copeland, new deal critic.

Another week will complete the pear harvest with the exception of Winter Nellie, a bulletin from American Fruit Growers, Inc., said today.

Harvesting and packing have been exceptionally rapid this year, the company pointing out that it was just 30 days ago today that it began the loading of Bartlett's, first of the pears to mature.

Some lots of fruit this year have had a considerable amount of worms and scabs which have retarded packing operations, the company bulletin said. To offset the delay, night shifts have been employed, the firm stated.

The company said it had packed slightly more fruit this year than last and had accomplished the pack in a much shorter time.

Pear shipments from the Rogue River valley to date total 693 cars—400 packed and 293 to the Willamette valley and California canneries. According to William Hansen, the peak of the packing season will be reached next week after which the rush now underway will start to taper off. All the packing plants were operating today.

Six cars of peaches have been shipped. The peach harvesting nears its end.

The warm days and nights of the past week have been beneficial in the ripening of tomatoes and have increased their flow to the canneries.

They breathed a sigh of relief today as clear, sunny weather was predicted, rain being their only fear of an attendance deterrent. Everything else was in readiness for the large crowds, committee chairman said.

As a prelude to the fair, exhibit booths will be open for public inspection from 7 to 9 tonight so that county residents unable to get to Gold Hill tomorrow may have the opportunity of viewing the numerous displays that have been arranged. The exhibits require five buildings this

OFFICER TO VISIT MEDFORD EAGLES

Dr. H. B. Mehrmann of Oakland, Calif., grand touring president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles last year, will pay an official visitation to the Medford lodge on Sunday, November 7, it was announced at the weekly lodge meeting in the armory last night.

A program of entertainment is to be arranged for Mr. Mehrmann, the nature of which will depend upon the hour of his arrival, which has not yet been determined, officers said. Initiation of a large class of new members is planned in his honor. To arrange for the ceremony, a special meeting of lodge officers will be held at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The aerie and auxiliary drill teams will assist the Disabled American Veterans in their annual sale of forget-me-nots on November 5 and 6, it was noted last night.

COURT PLAN BLOCK SAVED REPUBLIC IS VANDENBERG VIEW

DETROIT, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Mich.) called upon celebrants of constitution day today to meet "all usurpers and subversionists at the battle line of law and order with the relentless challenge 'They shall not pass.'"

Speaking at an observance of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the United States constitution, he asserted that "when the recent senate turned back the effort to chain the (supreme) court to executive and legislative control, it not only saved this constitutional anniversary from becoming a hollow mockery but also it saved the soul of the republic."

Never a Tyrant
"You can never make a tyrant out of the supreme court," he declared. "It lacks one, single power of affirmative enactment. It is answerable to a constitution which you can change any time you please. But you can make any sort of monster, suited to the prevailing appetite or the ruling passion, out of a supreme congress or a supreme executive."

The speech was broadcast over a national (NBC) network. For it, Senator Vandenberg said, he took "the text I had intended to use for a speech, that never had to be delivered in the senate, defending the integrity of an unimpaired and independent supreme court against what the senate judiciary committee officially called 'a proposal that violates every sacred tradition of American democracy.'"

Quotes Ben Hill
"I take the text from Ben Hill, the old Georgia statesman," he continued. "Who saved this country save all things. And all things saved do bless him. But he who lets his country die, let all things die. And all things dying curse him."

SENATOR WHEELER JOINS CRITICS OF BLACK'S KKK LINK

Roosevelt Should Appoint Impartial Board for Investigation, Belief Voiced by Montana Democrat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D., Mont.) joined today the critics of Justice Hugo L. Black's alleged membership in the Ku Klux Klan, declaring President Roosevelt should appoint an impartial investigating board.

"If the charges are true, the president should ask for Black's resignation," said Wheeler, field marshal of the senate opponents of the Roosevelt court bill.

"This is a good illustration of what happens when an administration acts hastily and what happens when senators vote blindly for every suggestion that is made by the White House."

Shortly before Wheeler issued his statement at Fargo, N. D., Senator Reynolds (D., N. C.) declared that opposition to Black was "a lot of spite and political propaganda."

"Hugo Black, in my opinion, is a gentleman of the highest character," said Reynolds. "I voted for his confirmation and I would do it all over."

LINDBERGH PLANNING TO RENOUNCE U. S. IS PERSISTENT GOSSIP

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The third intimation of recent months that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh intended to renounce his American citizenship and become a British subject stirred new conjecture today on the flyer's future plans.

The latest report came from a professional source associated with Lindbergh, and was neither confirmed nor denied elsewhere. The informant declined to permit use of his name, but he had an established connection with the hero of the first solo New York-Paris flight.

The only comment came from Col. Henry Breckinridge, Lindbergh's attorney. He said tersely:

"The only person who can confirm that is Colonel Lindbergh himself. No one else has a right to speak for him that I know of."

Lindbergh sailed from the United States on a freighter in the 1935 Christmas season and settled in a country home at Seven Oaks, England. Neither before his sudden departure nor after his arrival in England did he make any public statement on his plans. It was understood that he fled the United States in an effort to obtain privacy for himself and his family that he believed impossible here.

Civil War Vet, 94, And Auto Of 1910 Pass State Test

HILLSBORO, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A 94-year-old veteran and a 27-year-old flivver, asking no concessions to age, could prove today their right to street and highway right-of-way.

T. E. Hills, Forest Grove Civil war veteran, passed the rigid state drivers' examination without a slip and shared honors with his 1910 vehicle which previously passed, with honors, a thorough check at the Portland municipal testing station.

Hills doesn't know how many miles the car has trundled but it wore out one speedometer.

Three years ago he purchased a new, streamlined automobile but went back to his "old faithful" after the initial ride.

"I had sense enough to know that with a car like that I'd probably kill myself or someone else," he explained.

POWERS BROADEN DRIVE ON PIRACY IN SPANISH SEAS

MALTA, Sept. 17.—(AP)—British naval sources reported today sighting two submarines 50 miles from this British island naval base, both flying insurgent Spanish colors and both escorted by Italian and German destroyers.

These sources said the submarines were escorted respectively by two German and two Italian destroyers, the whole convoy moving toward the insurgent-held Spanish island of Mallorca in the western Mediterranean.

The nine powers participating in war against piracy in the Mediterranean, led by France and Britain, signed tonight an elaborated accord providing for crus
