NEW DEAL GAINS DOUBLE TRIUMPH BY HUGE MARGIN

name of Laguardia on Democratic ballots.

The New Deal's triumph and Tammany's defeat may be even more marked than now appears, inasmuch as results in more than 10 percent of the election districts in Tammany's stronghold, were withheld.

Election officials impounded the ballots in 55 Manhattan polling places, chiefly in Harlem, and sent the clerks home after they were unable to make a complete count.

David B. Costuma, Republican member of the elections commission, said the entire primary election might be invalidated. He said that in his opinion the closing of 114 polling booths in Harlem and the upper west side because of the exhaustion of inspectors before the ballots were all counted constituted a violation of the election laws.

Worst Defeat.

The defeat is considered by some Tammany leaders to be the most crushing their organization has ever received for Tammany Leader Christopher D. Sullivan, Copeland and their chief adviser in the campaign, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, were determined to administer a lesson to both Laguardia and President Roosevelt's New Deal administration.

Tammany schemes have ranked because neither Laguardia's local fusion administration nor the national Democratic administration, have seen fit to hand out patronage to Tammany's favorites.

More trouble is in store for Tammany, because Mahoney, with the skillful coaching of Farley, who now sways the Democratic committees of the other four boroughs of the city, is expected to conduct a war of attrition against Sullivan, Smith, and their allies in the present Tammany leadership.

More Trouble Looms.

Tammany is threatened with still another beating in the general election, November 2, when, on the face of the showing made in the primary election, she appears almost certain to surrender her last grip on her more than a century's rule of New York City politics, when an automatic reapportionment takes place under proportional representation.

Brooklyn, which has shown itself today anti-Tammany by a heavy margin, will thereafter control city legislation.

Both Mahoney and Laguardia, in their campaigns are expected to lead the offensive against Tammany for all they are worth. Both strongly favor the New Deal.

La Guardia's pre-political campaign consisted of one political speech, delivered last Monday, in which he told a group of Republican women that he would not "beg" for the Republican designation. He had refused to acknowledge the official Repub-

Famous Designer Favors Short Skirt Renaissance

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Monsieur Lucien Lelong, whose Paris dress creations are copied the world over and who prefers to be called just plain "mister" in America, bluntly told interviewers today "There are no rules for fashions."

And then the sun-bronzed designer logically but briefly elaborated: "What is right for one may not be right for another. Clothes should be chosen to enhance the beauty of the individual. Women should dress to suit their figure and type."

There is no Venus, or ideally proportioned figure as far as fashions are concerned, he said, but with a characteristic note of chivalry added, "Every woman is perfection at one time in her life"—some at 16, some at 30, others at 50.

The famous designer, here on a tour seeking inspiration for his spring creations, launched into an enthusiastic discussion of short skirts, despite "my vow to say nothing about them."

Mention of a short-skirted dinner dress, "which is being talked about constantly," made his eyes sparkle. "I see no reason why women should go trailing around in long skirts for restaurant dining and other informal affairs," he said. "Let them save these for formal occasions."

"The short skirt is good looking and practical. It also is more suitable when a woman's escort is wearing business rather than dinner clothes."

and Bowman, William Sharnan, Felix Jones, Clarence Savage, C. V. Pickup and E. Hamilton Lee.

They left Oakland Wednesday and made stops at Sacramento, Redding, Montague, Medford, Eugene, Tualuma and Seattle. They left Seattle yesterday and stopped at Ellensburg, North Dalles and Medford. They left here in mid-afternoon for Oakland.

United pilots must be familiar with all runs in their divisions, it was explained by Max C. Henne, manager here. For that reason they make periodic flights over schedules on which they are not at the moment employed, making stops at regular stations and secondary landing fields, Henne said.

With Copeland postponing any definite statement conceding defeat, observers speculated on the possibility of his running as an independent Democrat on an anti-New Deal platform. Smith, Sullivan and Copeland have told their friends that they believed there would be popular support for an anti-New Deal coalition movement.

STILL HUNTING OF DEER TO BE HARD UNTIL RAIN FALLS

The following recreational bulletin was issued today by Rogue River national forest headquarters:

"Trout fishing has been good during the past week in the Rogue river and its tributaries above Union Creek. Good catches are also reported from Seven lakes and Sky lakes. Other streams and lakes on the forest have been reported as affording poor fishing."

"With the opening of the deer season but three days away, most sportsmen are planning trips back to their favorite hunting camps. A good many deer have been seen on the forest this season and they appear to be in excellent condition."

"Some of the favored hunting spots on the forest are Pelton Butte, Blue Canyon and the Rogue-Umpqua divide."

"Forest cover at this time is very dry and the big bucks are staying close to the brush thickets, which makes still hunting quite difficult."

"The forest fire hazard is more critical now than at any previous time this year. Drying east winds and low humidity of the past week present the worst possible combination of burning conditions."

"Those contemplating camping trips should secure a campfire permit and remember to take along the required axe, shovel and bucket. Everyone is urged to exercise extreme caution with fire that we might have favorable camp spots to return to again next year."

PEP MARKS MEET OF ELKS PLANNING STATE CONVENTION

Enthusiasm reigned last night as 150 members of the Medford Elks lodge met in regular session to discuss final plans for the annual state convention to be held here next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

C. E. Gates was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Exalted Ruler B. L. Sanderson.

Over 800 out-of-town Elks are expected to attend the three-day convocation, it was announced, including 300 official delegates. Ernest Scott, secretary, stated that he had already received 40 hotel-room reservations.

It was also announced that Portland would send its colorful and uniformed ritualistic team, Astoria its uniformed band and Klamath Falls its "Gay Nineties" orchestra. Members and delegates from many other Oregon cities will be present.

It was pointed out last night that the local Elks club would donate $50 to the retail merchants committee of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, to be used as cash awards for the best decorated store windows during the convention.

Many members purchased official convention hats last night. It was urged that the hats be worn from now until the convention. Many hats are still on hand, Scott said, and added that there was still a good assortment of sizes.

The complete convention program was outlined and will be released for publication in a few days. Also, hundreds of programs will be printed and distributed.

After the meeting, hot meat sandwiches, coffee, beer and relishes were served in the old dining room.

It was stated that Charles Spencer Hart of New York City, grand exalted ruler, would be in Klamath Falls at 9:40 p. m. Sunday, on his way from Portland to San Francisco.

Several local members are planning to meet his train there for a short visit.
