Tommy Manville, 43, Pays Millions for Marrying Blondes

(By AP Feature Service) NEW YORK—Gray-haired Tommy Manville, 43-year old master of an asbestos fortune and friend of many blondes, has been in the marital market four times in 26 years—and it's cost him plenty.

"I have a record," he has explained, "for doing things very fast and snappy."

The record: Wife No. 1 (1911-1917), Florence Huber of New York, stipend reported as high as $1,000 monthly.

Wife No. 2 (1925-26), Lois McGoin, one-time secretary in the family firm, reported stipend about $19,000 yearly.

Wife No. 3 (1931), Avonnie Taylor, Polles girl whom Ziegfeld called "the most beautiful girl I ever glorified," settlement reported as high as $350,000.

Wife No. 4 (1934-1937?), Marcelle Edwards, New York showgirl now in Reno, reported settlement $200,000 up.

And then, of course, there are the attorney's fees. Manville, disinherited by Thomas senior about the time of his first marriage, gave up his salesman's job and returned to grace and an $8,000,000 inheritance in 1925 when he married No. 2. As a shrewd Wall Street trader, he made money during the depression, but recently he said he "lost" his $1,600,000—plus a $3,000,000 trust fund. The difference between what he has and the $8,000,000 is the high cost of living on Broadway and in Bon Repos—the palatial suburban estate where Manville entertains friends, throws parties and straps on a revolver against come what may.

But what does Tommy care? "Manville is not cheap," he says. "At least I keep my money in circulation."

'BROSTER' SUGGESTED FOR BROTHER, SISTER

ST. PAUL, (AP)—Twist your tongue around and get ready for a new word—"broster."

Prof. F. Earl Ward of the Macalester college English department says a former student suggests it as a word to represent "brother and sister." See how it works? Half of each word.

The Germans and Scandinavians have a word for it, but the English language is devoid of a single word to express the meaning.

An "a" on the end gives you "brosters," one brother and two or more sisters. Two or more brothers and one sister has to be "aproster." And from that easily comes "aprosters," two or more brothers and two or more sisters.

"It's going home to see the folks and aprosters." It tells everything, except their names.

Miners Die in Blast. KELLOOG, Idaho, Sept. 30.—Four miners, Jake Thorson, 44, and H. C. Beathford, 48, were killed early today by a premature explosion in the Liberal King mine on Pine creek. The men were working in a shaft being started at the end of a 3,000-foot tunnel.

Frank McHugh heads the cast of "Three Men on a Horse," which plays at the Roxy theater today and tomorrow. Allen Jenkins, Joan Blondell, Guy Kibbee, Carol Hughes, and host of other comedians star with McHugh in the race-track farce.

THEY STILL ARGUE OVER SITTING BULL

SALEM, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Governor Martin appointed T. J. Macaney, Portland, to be the battling Oregon commission today, succeeding Ray M. Doble, Portland, resigned.

PIERCE, S. D. (AP)—A movement to construct a new marker on the grave of Sitting Bull at Fort Yates, N. D., again has revived the question of whether the Sioux warrior was a chief or a medicine man. Authorities have differed on his correct title for years.

Lawrence K. Fox, superintendent of the state historical department, maintains the tribal leader was a medicine man but was called chief "for the want of a better title."

Stanley Vestal in his book, "Sitting Bull," wrote: "There are several men still living who saw him inaugurated as head of the non-agency Sioux," and Charles H. L. Johnston called him an Unkappa chief. However, the band which Sitting Bull led was more commonly known as the Hunkpapas.

Fox says Sitting Bull's grave has been marked several times but markers have been destroyed by souvenir seekers or vandals.

Thin Ice Delights Craterian Crowds At Initial Showing

They said it couldn't be done (repeat the success of "One in a Million") but "Thin Ice" which opened yesterday to a full house at the Craterian theater, is the proof that "they" didn't know what they were talking about. For, in "Thin Ice" the entertainment qualities that made the first Sonja Henie picture such an outstanding success have been elaborated upon and built up to a point where they make "One in a Million" something to forget, and "Thin Ice" something to remember.

For one thing, blonde Miss Henie has been learning a lot about acting and about speaking the English language. And, further, this time she not only skates in the distinctive beautiful style that made her a world's champion, but she also has her companion on brilliant figure down snowy slopes and in the more romantic moments is her companion in the thousands of space recently devoted to their association, Tyrone Power. With them are such eminently satisfying personalities as Arthy, Traylor, and Ray Allen. Hal, Raymond, Walburn, George Givoni and, by all means, we mustn't forget Joan Davis.

The locale is again Switzerland, and again, Miss Henie's skating is the prime ingredient with which are mixed, in greater number than in the last picture, the best of materials in themselves, and as figures in a pattern, important. Miss Davis, for example, giving every indication of being a future star in her own right, contributes a couple of song numbers such as haven't been seen on the screen.

Three times during the running of the show, Miss Henie takes to the ice with 150 or more co-ordinated skaters of both sexes, executing background convolutions that would put a lesser mistress of speed skaters on her mettle. In between these and the purely narrative sequences, Miss Henie and Power perform comparably on skis. It's entertainment throughout.

But, in speaking of the entertainment on the Craterian program, one shouldn't lose sight of the new Walt Disney cartoon in color, "Hawaiian Holiday." The highly amusing antics that Mickey, Minnie, Donald Duck, Pluto and the Goof, particularly the Goof, go through as they sample the various joys of Hawaii (that Waikiki is supposed to be off the coast of Hawaii) are in the final analysis to make this one of the most pleasing Disneyesque yet shown.
