Duke's Friends Suggest Proposed Tour of U. S. Due to Sincere Desire to Gain Information On Housing

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(P)—The forthcoming visit of the Duke of Windsor and his American bride to the United States and Germany was believed by some observers to bear official approval of the crown government.

Some of those commenting connected the duke's recent chat in Paris with Leslie Hore-Belisha, minister of war, and a private purse official, with the visits.

The observers said it would be impossible for the duke to make such a semi-official journey without approval from King George, because the monarch and his chamberlain still hold the duke's purse-strings.

The duke's friends suggested the projected tour developed from a sincere desire to learn all the duke can about building and use for Great Britain's good the data he obtains. But none answered the question "What will the duke do with housing information when he gets it?" All avoided even a hint the duke might return to the land he once ruled to fulfill his pledge to aid slum dwellers in Wales.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(P)—Secretary Perkins offered the Duke of Windsor today the full cooperation of the labor department in studying housing and working conditions in the United States. "The facilities of the United States department of labor are always available to citizens and visitors interested in the problems of wage earners," Miss Perkins said.

ASHLAND TEACHER TO CANYONVILLE SCHOOL

ASHLAND, Oct. 5.—(Sp.)—John Edwards, graduate of Willamette university, has resigned his position as biology instructor at Ashland high school to become principal of the schools at Canyonville, in Douglas county, Superintendent George A. Briscoe announced today.

Edwards, who has been a member of the faculty here since the fall of 1936, will be administrative head of both the high school and grade school at Canyonville.

Mr. Briscoe said that Miss Vera Amy Norton of Hamilton, Mont., has been appointed to take Edwards' place. A graduate of the University of Idaho with both a bachelor's and master's degree in biology, Miss Norton has had six years' teaching experience.

MEDFORD BOY CITED FOR HEROIC ACTION IN COAST ARTILLERY

John D. Wall, Medford youth now serving with the third coast artillery at Fort Stevens, was recently cited for commendation by the commanding officer of the mine planter Bell. Wall is the son of Mrs. A. M. Wall of 628 McAndrews road. He has been in the army about a year.

Together with Corp. Willie T. Brown of the same army unit, Wall went over the side of the Bell to release a mine control buoy from the ship's propellers. By doing this the men made it possible to release the buoy without recourse to expensive operations which otherwise might have been required, according to a memorandum from the vessel's commanding officer to Wall's commander.

"Both of these men took upon themselves a considerable risk by volunteering for such work in the swift currents of the Columbia river," the ship's commander wrote. "I desire to commend them both for their courage and the success of their efforts."

In conveying the commendation to Wall, the commanding officer of his organization wrote: "It is indeed a pleasure to forward to you this letter from the commanding officer of the mine planter. It is in such acts as yours that the American soldier reveals characteristics that have made him invincible."

HAWK HUNT FATAL FOR WALLA WALLA FARMER

WALLA WALLA, Oct. 5.—(P)—Jesse Joseph Farrell, 60, was found fatally shot on his farm three miles north of here Monday by his daughter Mary, whom he had told a few minutes previously that he was taking his shotgun into the field to kill a hawk.

The coroner, who investigated, said death was accidental and opined the trigger of Farrell's gun had caught on a gatepost, near which the dying man was found.

MRS. ROOSEVELT CLAIMS DISTRUST CAUSE OF UNREST

Fear Comes From Distrust and Fear Is Basis for All Other Evils, First Lady Tells Forum Audience

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(P)—Distrust between individuals and between nations is one of the great causes of unrest in the world, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt asserted today before a forum on current problems, sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune.

"One of the great causes of trouble in the world is the distrust we have for each other, which brings about fear, and fear is the basis for all our other evils," she said. "The reason for this distrust is that there is a lack of honesty and integrity in all our dealings as individuals or groups or even as a nation . . ."

Three hundred delegates are attending the forum.

Mrs. Roosevelt preceded a long list of speakers who have as their general subject "The Second Discovery of America." Today's morning session considered "A Generation Finding Itself."

Young Face Easier Life. Miss Earlene White, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, said: "I feel . . . that with definite legislation for old-age security, with industrial safeguards, and with society as a whole more humanely minded than ever before, the young have certain definite helps which will make their lives an easier lot than has been the case with past generations."

Bernice Fitz-Gibbon, advertising director of the John Wanamaker company, said: "My advice to young people is: Leap into advertising. It's your field."

James G. Stahlman, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, described what he called "recent efforts to control the American press." In the afternoon session, which was devoted to "The Status of a Free Press in the World Today,"

"Never was there a more appropriate time in the history of the world to take stock on the status of free speech and a free press," said Stahlman. "for a free press is the best guarantee of the maintenance of free speech . . ."

"A free press does not mean my right as a newspaper publisher to publish whatever I please, to violate any laws, to invade personal privacy or to ignore the ethics of a great profession."

JUNEAU BAR ASSN. REGRETS PASSING JUDGE W. E. CREWS

Copies of a resolution adopted by the Juneau Bar association over the death of Judge W. E. Crews were received here today. Judge Crews died at his Medford home on August 9.

The resolution was signed by J. A. Hellenal, James Wichersham and Grover C. Winn as a special committee and attested by W. B. LeFevre, association president, and Frank H. Foster, secretary. It was adopted at a regular meeting of the association September 4. The resolution, in part, follows:

"The members of the Juneau Bar association take this occasion to pay tribute to the memory of Judge W. E. Crews. Judge Crews came to Juneau in 1885 to engage in the practice of law, and he continued in the practice there for more than a decade. He was a lawyer of exceptional ability who occupied a position in the foremost rank at the Alaska bar.

"While circumstances made it expedient for him to live outside of Alaska, since leaving Juneau, he continued to be an Alaskan at heart and never lost interest in the affairs of the Territory where he had many friends both in and out of the legal profession.

"The members of the Juneau Bar association now join in extending their sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crews and other surviving relatives."
