A Brand New One
BETTY CROCKER'S
Mince Meat Cake

Ever hear of a mince meat cake?—It's a new one to us but it's a mighty fine one.

Why shouldn't it be when it's made from Betty Crocker's recipe with old fashioned New England Mince Meat—Softasilk Cake Flour—Butter—all combined with the skill of your Home Purity Bakers.

Then there is the unusual icing—Another Betty Crocker triumph. There is just enough cream cheese in it to result in a perfect balance of flavor.

How Shall We Season Our Sausage?
SOME SAY MILD—SOME SAY MORE SAGE

WE are between two fires on this sausage business. Some want it highly seasoned with plenty of sage like it is made on the farm while others prefer a milder seasoning.

Tomorrow we hope to settle this argument. At the 4-H Club Sale we bought eight of the prize hogs. You will get sausage made from this finest quality pork. Some will be seasoned exactly as we seasoned it years ago on an Indiana farm. Some will be seasoned exactly as we have seasoned it for the past four years.

What we would like to know is: How shall we season our sausage? Shall we give you the farm sage seasoning or mild as heretofore. Maybe we should have both.—At any rate—here are both kinds, made of as fine pork as money can buy.

4-H Club Grand Champion Steer

The beef from these Steers cannot be sold until they are held in the ageing cooler long enough to lose their acidity through the necessary chemical changes. If tests show these changes to have taken place we will put this beef on sale Oct. 10th, otherwise later.

It must, however be just right before being put on sale.

The grand champion, raised by Clayton Charley of Lake Creek and another prize winner raised by Merton Bradshaw of Lake Creek are now in our big cooler. There will be no advance in prices.

PRIZE PORK

Tomorrow we offer the pork from the eight 4-H Club prize hogs we bought at the 4-H Club Auction sale.

This pork should be as good as money can buy. Judged according to rapidity of development—manner of feeding and condition at time of sale it should be the finest pork produced in Jackson County this year.

No advance in price even though we paid a high premium to the boys who raised these hogs.

As noted elsewhere in this ad the grand prize steer as well as another prize winner cannot go on sale until quality conditioned to the Groceteria standard of non-acidity.

Here are the prices for this prize pork.—You may also have country style sausage of this same pork (See main editorial in this ad).
