

CLEANUP OF CHINA ONCE AND FOR ALL AIM OF JAPANESE

closed Japan seeks control of the whole of China to prevent it from falling prey to Soviet Russia and communism.

The Japanese army, he said, intends to occupy Nanking, the Chinese capital. Matsuoka explained Japan's political and economic plans in north China had been delayed pending the clearing up of the Shanghai situation, as a fundamental solution in the north was impossible until the Chinese troops were defeated and Nanking occupied.

Eighty per cent of the Chinese economic and political leadership, he said, is concentrated around Shanghai, while the coastal zone and northern provinces constitute 90 per cent of China.

"If the 10 per cent chooses to go communist, let it," Matsuoka said. "It is better for Japan to hold the 90 per cent than lose the whole of China and permit the country to go over to the Soviet. The greatest aim of Japan is to save China from communism and the Kuomintang (the dominant nationalist political party)."

The Japanese, he declared, were unable to achieve their aims in China by counter-propaganda and were forced, therefore, to employ their strongest weapon, namely, the army.

Matsuoka asserted that every nation rightfully used its strongest weapons to combat its opponents and the Japanese were unequal to others in propaganda and intrigue.

Asked if a strong anti-Kuomintang government at Nanking and an independent north China administration at Peking were considered necessary, Matsuoka replied the question was unanswerable accidentally.

"Every Japanese hopes for a strong anti-Kuomintang government to replace the Nanking government. Japan should act upon principles of benevolence and sacrifice in the up-building of China. Without this Japan would be unable to solve the Chinese problem on which she has already spent 12,000,000,000 yen ($3,800,000,000)."

Matsuoka said it would be better for the Japanese nation to perish than to fall to carry out Japan's highest precepts.

"We have followed overly much the material lessons of the west. The Japanese are now determined not to allow communism and other influences to turn China into a weapon against Japan.

Glorious War—Petrified Peace.

To the Editor: War is progressive. Peace is reactionary. War teaches a people to face reality. Peace instructs the nation of life. War at least stands on its own feet, and makes the teeth chatter with the solidity of its arguments. Peace softens the brains, muscles, and ends in decadency. Lowering the peace boom on a people is contrary to natural law. It is the useless chasing of the impossible. War makes men out of women. War exalts the strong, and condemns the weak. War makes super-men out of bums. The periods of over-abundance in this country can be traced directly to war. Peace, on the other hand, is wasteful, extravagant, and its zealous advocates a misguided lot. Their fantastical scheme proposes control of the elements. Peace is a sit-down proposition, flanked with a porthouse steak and all the rest. Who wouldn't be peaceful? Peace is a dream, a poisonous one. Peace engenders a state of cerebral intoxication similar to alcohol. The substitutions in this case are mirrors and powder-puffs.

Peace is a cute bug. Its proper place is some remote corner of a museum. Here it would be nice to look at, study and talk about. Against the machination of a 50-ton Christie tank, peace would be formidable as a marshmallow under the heel of a boot. War leads to glorification. Peace to petrification. War is a lusty lout, peace is cultured, and smells of roses instead of garlic. When a nation sleeps with its head on a feather pillow, instead of the breech of a gun, they are ready for the yoke. Culture, status and tradition are inspiring. They lead a nation down the corridors toward extinction. When we have learned this, we have learned something. Perhaps!

CONTACT CAMP IS SET FOR MEDFORD DEC. 11 BY RESERVE OFFICERS

Twenty-seven reserve officers last night attended a meeting of the Rogue Valley chapter in the army. The meeting was the first of the fiscal year for the reserve officers who now will meet every two weeks for study classes.

Maj. Charles S. Pettie, unit instructor of Eugene, attended and took charge of the lecture period. He discussed changes being made in infantry organization.

Plans were made for a contact camp to be held here December 11. Capt. Glenn J. Key is in charge of arrangements. Reserve officers from all of southern Oregon will be invited to the camp.

A business meeting of the Rogue Valley chapter was held with Capt. T. H. Hoberton presiding. Awards were presented to a number of officers who qualified last spring in the small bore rifle competition.

Capt. William C. Ryan will be instructor for the next meeting, to be held October 27.

RANCHERS SEEK VARMINT HUNTER

Stockmen delegations from Butte Falls and other Jackson county sections, appeared before the budget committee today, and urged employment of a federal varmint hunter, to replace the present bounty system, for the eradication of coyotes, bob cats and other creatures of the forest that prey upon sheep, calves and goats.

Robert W. Rose, a goat raiser of the Long Mountain and declared coyotes were more plentiful than at any time within his memory, but offered no explanation for the increase. Others stated they had lost sheep and calves.

Proponents of the government hunter plan claim it is more efficient and systematic than the bounty system.

Stockmen delegations urging road improvements were scheduled to appear, and urged appropriations for road improvements. A number of county officers were expected to appear and explain their estimates.

The budget committee expected to complete its draft of the 1938 budget late today.

Baldwin Shoppe To Launch Fire Sale Beginning Friday

As an aftermath of the fire, which recently affected a portion of the stock of the Baldwin Piano Shoppe of this city, this firm will conduct a two-day fire sale beginning Friday morning. The entire stock of fine pianos, most only slightly damaged by smoke, will be placed on sale at substantially reduced prices, according to Mrs. Lilla Purucker. The list of pianos on sale will include the newest Baldwin grands, many styles in acronics and slightly used Chickering's. All have been cleaned and reconditioned for the fire sale.

Next week the Baldwin Piano Shoppe will be closed for complete remodeling and the sharply reduced prices will clear the big stock and facilitate the work of the staff of decorators.

Two Assessed Fines For Truck Overloads

Paul G. Manning and Paul M. Overby, express truck line drivers, both of Portland, charged with operating overloaded trucks on the Pacific highway entered pleas of guilty in justice court yesterday. Overby was fined $17 and costs and Manning $19 and costs. Their loads weighed 18,900 pounds, and 18,730 pounds, police said.

Rafael C. Benson, charged with speeding a truck on the Pacific highway, was scheduled to receive a hearing next Monday.

PENDLETON TEAMSTERS END LONG CONTROVERSY

PENDLETON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—This city's teamsters union strife, which resulted in picketing for several weeks of Penland Bros. Transfer, had come to an end today. Pickets have been withdrawn and announcement made that an oral agreement reached between striking teamsters and the firm.

With the settlement came an end, also, to boycott efforts by the central labor council of local business places which have used the Penland delivery service.

Alturas Man Suiicides

ALTURAS, Cal., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Authorities listed as suicide the death of Edward Stowe, 65, who was found last night shot through the head with a large caliber rifle. The body will be taken to Bonanza, Ore., for burial.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)
