"Lost Horizon" Coming Sunday

An airplane crash in snowbound Tibet begins one of the strangest adventures ever conceived in the James Hilton story, "Lost Horizon," coming Sunday to the Craterian theater at regular prices after sensational roadshow successes throughout the country. Ronald Colman is starred in Frank Capra's most ambitious production to date, with a strong supporting cast that includes Edward Everett Horton, H. B. Warner, James Wyatt, Sam Jaffe, John Howard, Margo, Thomas Mitchell, Isabel Jewell, and thousands of others.

A staggering fortune was spent in the making of "Lost Horizon," with the most elaborate sets in film history depicting the peaks of China, the peaks of the Himalayas, the lush luxuriance of Shangri-La, which form backgrounds for one of the most thrilling adventures ever brought to the screen.

Darktown Scandals

Coming Saturday Holly Theatre Stage. The 1937 edition of "Darktown Scandals" first all-colored unit to appear here for three years, consisting of 35 talented entertainers, comes to the Holly theater for tomorrow only, appearing on the stage for both matinee and evening shows. On the screen will be Eric Linden in a newspaper cameraman story, "Here's Flash Casey." Heading the featured performers in "Darktown Scandals" is the Brunswick recording artist, Ida Cox, known as "Queen of the Blues." Others include Ned Stanfield, demon of the Ivory keys; the Dixiana Troubadour Sextette; ten comely, dusky dancing girls and the Cotton Pickers orchestra, a Victor recording band. Tap dancing, always to be found wherever colored folk gather, is at its best in this revue, while comedy also finds its way into the variety entertainment offered. One show in the afternoon and two at night is on the schedule for tomorrow for the regular shows. At 11:45, after the theater has been cleared, the doors will again be opened for a midnight frolic and burlesque, with the entire routine changed throughout. Different songs, dances and gags (all done in the midnight show manner) will be the order of the day—or, rather, the night. The high spot of the proceedings will be the "Silver Dance of the Nudist," which proved to be one of the sensations of the Chicago World's Fair. Entirely different from the regular show, the midnight frolic will require a separate admission. The Panama canal saves 4,000 miles on the ocean voyage from New York City to New Zealand.
